Man Freed Who Held Off Police

Zammillo's Wife Withdraws Charge

James M. Zammillo, 30, of 297 Hasbrouck Avenue, who police said, held his wife and eight-year-old son under threat for a harrowing five hours March 1 in their attic apartment, through the mercy of Mrs. Zammillo, was set free in city court today after stern admonition from Special City Judge Arthur B. Ewig.

The defendant's wife Shirley, 32, withdrew the complaint which resulted in his arrest on a third degree assault charge. He had first been charged with disorderly conduct, but that was changed on new information, stating that he had struck Mrs. Zammillo.

Zammillo consented to come out of the house after five hours of pleading by the police, two priests and others, only after he was told he could talk to an attorney. Guido Frank Napolitano was called to the house and Zammillo surrendered to Officer John Crespino who had been one of the group pleading with him for hours.

Bullets Explode in Pan

Police said that Zamillo, a truck driver, then listed as unemployed, after locking his family in the apartment, had threatened to "blow the belly out" of anyone who tired to enter. It was learned after he had left the house that three .45 calibre magnum bullets had been exploded in a heated pan, apparently to simulate discharged shots.

Police details required a total of 24 men, headed by Chief Robert Murphy, in and near the house and on other duty during the trying five hours.

Barricaded Doors

Neighbors called police reporting that they had heard heated argument and shouting in the apartment. Officers Robert Bonesteel and Thomas Carpino Jr., the first patrolmen at the house, reported doors barricaded. Crowds gathered in the area as more policemen arrived and many remained there until Zammillo surrendered.

The argument had apparently started, neighbors said, over Zammillo's reported plan to buy an automobile.

Judge Ewig advised that any further similar trouble resulting in an arrest could bring serious consequences.

Attorney Charles J. Saccoman, appearing for Napolitano, represented the defendant and John E. Gotelli appeared for the district attorney's office.

New Law to Speed Trials, Probe Attitude Is Scored

No Flights May Upset Ike Plans

Adenauer Fears Allies Weakening

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. decision against resuming high altitude plane flights to West Berlin may complicate President Eisenhower's presummit policy talks here next week with German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Adenauer is coming to Washington next Tuesday to urge a stiff American stand on German and Berlin issues in the summit negotiations with the Soviet Union at Paris next May.

He's Suspicious

He is known, furthermore, to be suspicious of any Allied action which might be construed as a sign of weakness or lack of resolve. Diplomats say he may take the new U.S. decision as such an action.

In an effort to forestall any misunderstanding by Adenauer of the official U.S. position, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter sent word to Bonn late Tuesday advising that the decision had been made and providing an explanation as to the reason.

Sees No Need Now

The decision was announced publicly Wednesday by Herter at his news conference. He said Eisenhower had decided "that there is no operational necessity at the present time" for flying the corridors to Berlin above the 10,000-foot level in defiance of Soviet objections and possibly dangerous counteractions.

This was a complete reversal of the U.S. position on high altitude flights as it had been agreed with Britain and France about two weeks earlier.

The decision at that time was that flights would be resumed shortly and the Soviet Union would be given advance notice. Although that was not announced it became known, and officials said the reason was that jet-powered aircraft operate most efficiently above 10,000 feet.

The Western powers had for years rejected the Soviet's claim of an agreed ceiling. Therefore it was decided that the air space above 10,000 feet should be employed, since jet craft are coming into increasing use and the failure to act might be construed by the Soviets as a tacit acceptance of the ceiling.

The reversal came, officials said, after the Air Force decided that the higher altitude was not necessary for the short flights into West Berlin, about 100 miles inside East Germany.

INSTALLING NEW TRAFFIC LIGHT — A unit in the radar operated signal setup to regulate traffic on Albany Avenue and Broadway and vehicles coming in on the new access road from the State Thruway, is being installed at the arterial route interchange by Joe E. O'Connor, Inc., electrical contractors. Workmen are shown above making connections to the new light. Mayor Edwin F. Radel, Police Chief Robert F. Murphy and O'Connor made inspections today and the mayor said "work is progressing rapidly and we expect the light to be in operation later this week or early next week." (Freeman photo).

Bribery Is Big Crime: Greenberg

Prosecutor Says Delays Done Now

Announcement was made today by Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins that a new law is now in existence to speed up trials emanating from investigations such as the Ulster County probe of corruption which he is conducting.

Yesterday, Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg, appointed to preside during the local investigation and hear cases, lashed out at residents of the county for their "complete cynicism" regarding the probe.

"Maybe one of these days," he said in court, "the people of this community will awaken to the fact that there is no more serious attacks on the stability of the law than bribery of public officials."

He scored "politicians and others" for corruption and "attempts to obstruct justice."

Came Out of Local 'Delay'

In announcing that Governor Rockefeller had signed the new law Wednesday, Tompkins said it was introduced as a result of an alleged "campaign of delay" on the part of defendants in the Ulster kickback probe. He said he suggested and supported it.

Under the old law any motion could be made at the opinion of the maker direct to the Appellate Division rather than before the judge designated by the governor to preside over the extraordinary term. The Appellate Division could not decline to hear such motions.

Under the new law no matter may be brought before the Appellate Division except by specific permission of that court.

Pleased With Signing

Commenting on the new law, Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins said:

"At yesterday's session before Mr. Justice Greenberg, I told the court that, as a direct result of the campaign of delay on the part of defendants, encountered by the current Ulster County investigation, the State Legislature has passed a bill designed to stop such tactics in the future. Today I am greatly pleased to note that Gov. Rockefeller has signed the bill into law, to take effect immediately.

Macera Fined

Justice Greenberg's castigation of citizens of Ulster County and local politicians came during the sentencing of Anthony Macera of Catskill, road oil salesman for the Westchester Asphalt Distributing Company of White Plains.

Macera had entered a plea of guilty to conspiracy, an allegation that he had conspired with Rocco Benevento, Marlborough town superintendent of highways, and others to have his firm sell road oil.

Only One Case Tried

Prior to fining Macera $500 on each of the two counts of the indictment, Justice Greenberg scored the "apathy" and "complete cynicism" of the citizens of Ulster County concerning the three-year old probe of graft and corruption in Ulster County.

The investigation has cost close to a half million dollars since its inception under the Reuter investigation, a year prior to the present Tompkins probe, and has resulted in twelve indictments being returned by a Special Grand Jury. Only one case has been tried and that conviction has been reversed.

West Hurley Man Held

Charge Stewart Stole $2,400 at Ward Store

An investigation conducted by the "protection department" of Montgomery Ward & Co., and turned over to the district attorney's office, resulted in the arrest Wednesday of a former employe of the company's local store, 25 North Front Street, Assistant District Attorney John E. Gotelli said today.

Douglas John Stewart, 23, of John Street, West Hurley, who, Gotelli said, has admitted taking $1,520 "in currency" and some merchandise from the local store, was booked Wednesday afternoon on a first degree grand larcency charge.

Hearing Set Friday

Special City Judge Arthur B. Ewig today put hearing over to Friday to permit Stewart time to obtain counsel. Bail, fixed at $2,000 cash and $4,000 property was not immediately posted.

Information on the arrest alleges that a sum more than $500 was taken. The company lists an aggregate shortage of $2,400.

'Under Ringing' Charged

It is charged that Stewart, who had worked in the store's bargain department had taken sums through the "under ringing" of sales totals, along with a small amount of merchandise. His employment at the store ended March 2. It is alleged, Gotelli said, that the sums were taken at various times dating back to Dec. 1, 1958 and continuing through Feb. 29, 1960.

The arrest Wednesday afternoon was by detectives Charles McCullough and Albert Hutton and Cpl. Edward Shannon, of the state police.

S. W. Fleming, general manager of the local store, said an investigation began after shortages were noticed some time ago.

HERMAN RAFALOWSKY

Civic, Religious, Business Leader Will Be Honored

A testimonial dinner for Herman G. Rafalowsky, prominent Kingston merchant, civic and religious leader will be held at 6:30 p. m. Sunday, March 27, at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The renowned Rabbi Jacob Radin, spiritual director of the Inwood Jewish Center, New York, will be the principal speaker, it was announced today by Benjamin Schecter, chairman for the dinner. City Judge Aaron E. Klein will serve as toastmaster.

Schecter said today that Rafalowsky's " continuous leadership as one of our earlier builders and president of the Congregation Ahavath Israel, as chairman of every Thanksgiving Ball, as our liason with the Jewish Theological Seminary and as devoted worker in every United Jewish Appeal have given us strength, stature and success.

Helps Worthy Projects

"In every type of need, every drive for public good, every effort to help his neighbor, his city, his congregation, Herman is in the midst, working for a better, happier people."

Rafalowsky was born in Russian Poland, emigrating to the United States at an early age. He learned about textiles through his father who was in the woolen business. Through the hardships placed on the Jewish people under the Czar, his parents were forced to liquidate their business. They arranged for Herman to learn tailoring and a year later (1913) he came to America — alone, with little money, and obtained a position with John Wanamaker in the alterations department.

Came Here in 1914

He longed for the warmth and informality of a smaller city, however, and came to Kingston in 1914, working as a tailor for several months for Abe Netburn. He opened his own tailor shop in the Dolan building at 524 Broadway, doing his own designing and employing two tailors. He recalls that after paying his tailors on Saturday evening he had nothing left for himself. He was not discouraged, however,

First Assurance Of Urban Renewal Aid Is Received

A first step toward definite assurance of federal assistance in local urban renewal has been received from Housing Administrator Norman P. Mason, Mayor Edwin F. Radel revealed today.

It came mainly through issuance of a "Certificate of Workable Program" indicating that Kingston has presented "an acceptable workable program," and through a letter from Walter S. Fred, regional administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

City Gets Approval

Administrator Mason's office announced Wednesday afternoon that the city had received approval of its workable program which is "a prerequisite for federal assistance in the forms of loans and grants for slum clearance and rehabilitation, for public housing, and for liberal types of FHA mortgage insurance for private redevelopment of project areas, and for rehousing displaced families."

The letter from the regional administrator informed the mayor of Administrator Mason's approval, congratulated the city, and noted that the certificate is "suitable for framing."

Mayor Radel and others dis-

Milton Man Fair, Was Hit by Car

Frank Valentine, 59, of Milton, who was struck by a car in Marlboro early Wednesday night, was reported in fair condition this morning at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh.

Highland state police said Valentine was struck by a car operated by Arnold Palermo, 35, of Highland, when he stepped into the traffic lane on Route 9W. He was attempting to cross from the east side of the road to the west.

Legal Notice Hearing

Mayor Edwin F. Radel will conduct a public hearing at 7 p. m., today in the Common Council chamber, city hall, on a local law which would eliminate publication in the press of long legal notices. Designated as Local Law No. 1 of 1960, it was approved by the council March 1. The hearing must be held before the mayor signs the measure.

Death Penalty Repeal Loses

California Vote May Mean Chessman Doom

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A marathon, 12½ hour hearing ended early today with narrow defeat in the California Legislature for Gov. Edmund G. Brown's bill to repeal the death penalty.

The 8-7 vote by the Senate Judiciary Committee may have shattered Caryl Chessman's last hope in his 11½ year fight to escape the gas chamber.

May Adjourn Today

Sen. Edwin J. Regan, committee chairman, had said before the hearing he expected the Senate to adjourn the special session on capital punishment the day after committee action on the bill if it was defeated. He indicated adjournment was expected today.

Introduction of a similar bill in the Assembly was not planned and no further legislative action was expected on the death penalty before Chessman's scheduled execution May 2.

It was Brown's reprieve of the convict-author and his calling of a special session on capital punishment that touched off the great debate.

No Mention of Caryl

Yet, as if by tacit agreement, not a single witness mentioned the controversial prisoner by name.

The long, almost subdued hearing by the all-lawyer committee began at 9 a.m. Wednesday before a jampacked audience. It ended at 1 a.m. on a dramatic note.

Deputy District Attorney J. Miller Leavy of Los Angeles disclosed that Barbara Graham, fourth woman to be executed in California history, confessed her guilt in the last few minutes of her life in 1955.

He said the 32-year-old convicted slayer of an elderly widow made the admission to the late Warden Harley O. Teets of San Quentin prison.

Leavy, who was Chessman's prosecutor, was the final witness. He said he related the Graham

Johnson, Owner Of A's, Watches Squad Game, Dies

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Arnold Johnson, hard-driving business tycoon who moved the Athletics baseball club from Philadelphia to Kansas City and made it a financial success, died today.

The 53-year-old club president suffered a cerebral hemorrhage while driving Wednesday after watching an intrasquad game at the Athletics' spring training camp.

Wife Under Sedation

His wife, Carman, was with him when he died at 1:45 a.m. at Good Samaritan Hospital. She was placed under sedation.

A brother, Earl Johnson, who flew down from Chicago, said practice at the Athletics' camp would be called off today. Funeral plans are indefinite, although the body will be returned to Chicago, his home, for burial.

2 Defendants Press for All Jury Data in Kickback Cases

Two motions pertaining to the Ulster County "kickback" probe are scheduled to be heard before the Appellate Division at Albany Monday.

They involve the supplying of grand jury minutes in the Walter Motor Truck Company and the Rand-MacMurray, Inc. cases.

Counsel for these two defendants will seek in the Appellate Division to ascertain whether a complete record of all matters before the Special Grand July in these cases has been supplied by the prosecution.

An indictment charging Harry Bareika; Harry Bareika, Inc.; Walter Motor Truck Company and Rand-MacMurray, Inc., with conspiracy arising out of the sale of a Walter truck to the Town of Woodstock in January 1959, was returned by the Special Grand Jury.

The indictment alleges the three conspired to rig bids so the Bareika bid would be low.

Walter Motor Truck Company is represented by John DeGroff; Rand-MacMurray, Inc., is represented by Charles H. Stoll of

Powell Hits Kennedy Anew on Communism

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire says he intends no suggestion that Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass) "is anything other than a patriotic American," but reiterates his charge that the senator is soft on Communism.

Powell, a Republican, said Wednesday night that Kennedy's voting record in Congress and his stand on questions involving Communism supported the charge.

Powell was here to speak at a meeting of area purchasing agents and sales executives.

The governor told newsmen at a press conference that his remarks about the senator from Massachusetts followed two days of what he called "completely intemperate attacks" by Kennedy on President Eisenhower's military and foreign policies.

"He did all but call the President soft on Communism," Powell said. "It came with poor grace from a man with his background in Congress.

Powell said he believed Vice President Nixon's repudiation of the charge, made on the eve of the New Hampshire primaries Tuesday, stemmed from Nixon's unfamiliarity with the circumstances.

As specific examples, Powell mentioned what he termed Kennedy's willingness to have the United Nations recognize Red China, under certain conditions. Kennedy had not made his conditions clear, Powell added.

He claimed the senator had "hedged" on what he thought the U. S. should do in the event of a Communist attack on the off-shore island held by Nationalist China, and criticized what he called Kennedy's advocacy of aid to Poland and Yugoslavia.

". . .We cannot be placed in the position of bolstering these dictatorial Communist regimes with American dollars," he said.

The governor expressed no preference for the Republican vice presidential nomination, but said he admired New York's Gov. Rockefeller, adding he thought "there was a strong possibility that Mr. Rockefeller may be Mr. Nixon's running mate." However, he said, he had no direct or personal information to support his belief.

Assembly Accepts H-C March As State Song, With Revision

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — "The Hudson-Champlain March" will be revised somewhat before it becomes New York State's official song—if it does.

The Senate has yet to act on a bill to designate the song.

The Assembly unanimously approved the song Wednesday, after the sponsor, Assemblyman Grant W. Johnson (R-Ticonderoga), said additional lyrics were being composed to meet objections that the present three verses omitted mention of many areas and historical events of the state.

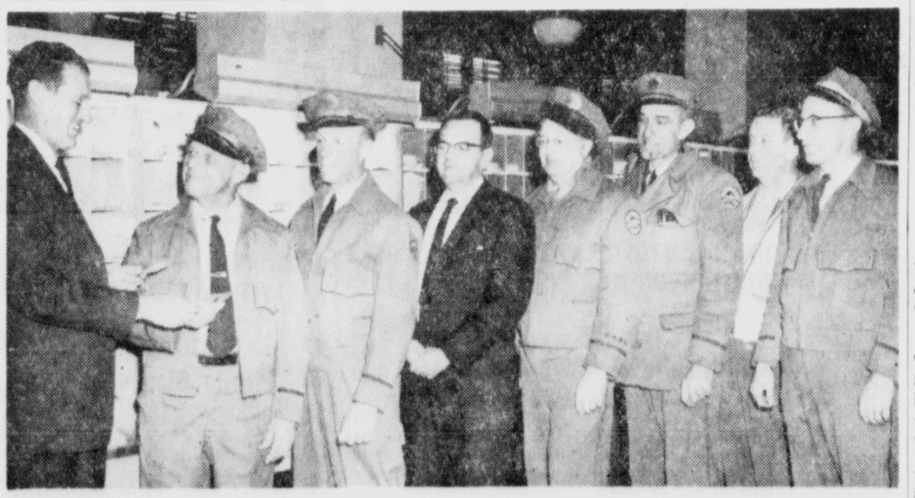

Johnson also agreed that the final version should be called "The Empire State March."

The Assembly heard an Air Force band from Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, play the music from an Assembly balcony Wednesday, while a sergeant sang.

But the band was barred from the Senate chamber.

The lyrics and music were composed by two Air Force men, Maj. John Hassard and Chief Warrant Officer Vernon E. Proctor. The present lyrics, written for last year's Hudson-Champlain celebration:

From the highlands to the Catskills' strand,
From Fort Ti on nor'ward through the tribal land,
Valiant strangers fronting dangers,
Hudson and Champlain.
Trees primeval hark the victor's horn.
See the great streams yielding with their secrets shorn,
Lift their voices and rejoice, the Empire State will reign.

Combses to Keep On Fighting for Child

By SAUL PETT

OLD BRIDGE, N.J. (AP) — "Mommy," the child cried suddenly in the middle of the night. "Mommy, are you still there?"

Mrs. Richard Combs jumped out of bed and ran into the little girl's room. "Yes, Alice, I'm here," she said. And she patted the child's head and the child went back to sleep.

But Mrs. Combs never got back to sleep. For the rest of the night, she says, she lay awake worrying about that sudden flash of terror that shook the sleep of her 4-year-old foster child. How much did the girl now know or begin to suspect?

Had she begun to feel a vague sense of menace in this whole, new, wonderful, exciting confusion of strangers taking her picture and asking her questions and putting her on television?

Alice has an I.Q. of 138, making her "a very superior child," said the child board.

Little brown-eyed Alice hasn't been told that the world may be trembling beneath her. That the Combses are not her real parents, that the two younger girls in the house are not her real sisters. That the state child welfare board opposes her adoption by the Combses because, it says, they're not suited for the development of an unusually intelligent child. That three men in a court in Trenton will soon decide whether she remains with the only parents she knows.

"Daddy," asked Alice, "Why are these men taking all these

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street pros and amateur index-watchers across the country—many owning no stock at all—shivered Tuesday when the Dow-Jones industrial index dipped below 600.

Yet it's a good bet that few of the amateurs could name the 30 stocks in the index or explain how the closing index figure of 599.10 was arrived at, especially since the actual dollar average of the 30 stocks that day was only $73.03.

Are Closely Followed

A few may even think that 599.10 is the dollar average of the 30 stocks rather than a percentage of the index level that existed during a base period.

But stock market averages — such as Dow Jones industrial, the Associated Press 60-stock index, and Standard & Poor's 500 stock index—are closely followed by pros, amateurs, and much of the general public.

Thus newspaper readers noted that the Dow Jones hadn't been below 600 since Feb. 19, 1959, and by Jan. 4 of this year had reached 685.

So the drop below 600 brings wonderment about what's coming next.

Indexes usually reflect accurately the changes in market trend, which is all they're designed to do. They don't show the trend of individual stocks or particular industries. Often these are going in the opposite direction from the index.

The oldest index is the Dow Jones, which started Jan. 2, 1897 with 12 stocks whose average that day was 41, at that time in both percentage points and dollars.

The AP 60-stock average has been compiled since 1935, although for comparison it was carried back to Jan. 1, 1927. Its range in 1935 was 61.8 to 83.7. It was compiled by simple arithmetic—just adding up the stock prices and dividing by 60.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index started March 1, 1957, but uses the base years 1941-43 to get its percentage comparisons. Dow Jones and AP use market leaders. Standard & Poor's uses about half of the issues listed on the New York Stock Exchange, but the stocks used represent about 90 per cent of the value of all stocks held by investors.

Little Like Original

The present Dow Jones index and AP's to a much less degree, bears scant resemblance to the original.

Only two stocks now in the Dow Jones index were in the original, and even these were out of it for some time. Three of the original 12 companies no longer exist. Another is now a division of a present index occupant. Four stocks were dropped last year and four others substituted.

The index number was raised to 20 in 1916 and to 30 in 1928. Simple arithmetic had to be given up. There have been so many stock splits, stock dividends, and substitutions of companies that just adding the 30 up and dividing by 30 couldn't give a true picture of the percentage of change.

Divisors Are Used

So divisors are used. Dow Jones first started dividing the 30 stocks by 15 instead of 30. This sent the index figure well above the dollar average on any particular day. The divisor has had to be lowered again and again. At the start of 1960 the total dollar value of the 30 stocks was divided by 3.83.

That is why, when Tuesday's index figure of 599.10 was down 4.92 points from Monday's close, the dollar average of $73.03 was down only $1 from Monday's average of the actual price of one share each of the 30.

Why divisors are needed can be seen in what happened to the 15 utilities in the AP index between this Monday and Tuesday.

Monday the utility index was 97.3, the divisor was 7.97, and the dollar average $49.54. But Tuesday a 3-1 split in one of the utilities used went into effect. To compensate for that, the utility divisor was lowered to 7.64. Tuesday's utility index closed at 97.3 for a loss of two tenths of one per cent for the day.

Space Probe Is Called Off Due To Fuel Troubles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States today postponed an attempt to hurl an interplanetary probe deep into space. Fueling difficulties blocked the effort.

The 90-pound scientific package was designed to explore space between the earth and venus.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said a new firing date for the probe had not been scheduled.

As the countdown on the Thor-Able launching vehicle entered the final seconds, a hold was called. Minutes later the shot was called off.

If the trouble is minor the rocket could be fired in a day . . .

NASA had the time between 8:00 and 8:30 a. m. EST to launch the rocket under conditions for the desired path.

When it became apparent the missile could not be fired in this period the shot was called off.

Resting atop the 90-foot rocket was a payload designed to intercept the orbit of the planet venus and become a satellite of the sun.

The package, called Pioneer V, is designed to make the most thorough study of space ever attempted.

It would send back information while swinging around the sun, alternately touching orbital paths of earth and venus.

ST. JAMES, Minn. (AP) — Mrs. Stella Burgess was awakened by shattering glass before dawn and screamed to her son, John that there was an intruder in her room. The son found the unexpected visitor — a cock pheasant — floundering around the bedroom. The bird had smashed through the window in flight.

Out-of-Staters May Get Priority for Albany Tax Relief

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A bill that would grant six million dollars in state income tax relief for non-residents may get priority over tax relief for residents, Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino says.

The bill, which would allow out-of-state residents who work in New York the same deductions and exemptions as New York residents, was reported favorably by an Assembly committee Wednesday.

Non-residents long have complained of inequitable treatment because they were not allowed the same deductions granted New Yorkers.

The tax-relief plan was worked out by Republican Gov. Rockefeller with Democratic Govs. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut.

Carlino told a press conference he considered himself committed to support Rockefeller.

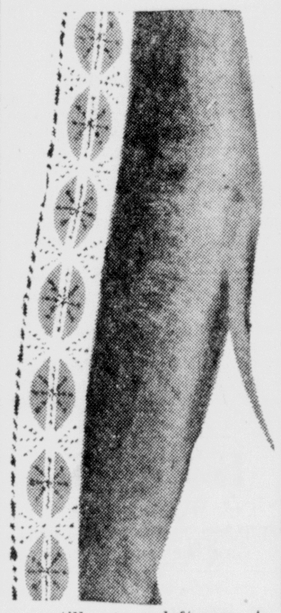

The speaker listed non-resident tax relief along with school aid and aid to New York City as issues that must be settled before the question of general tax relief for New Yorkers could be resolved.

The non-resident plan worked out by Rockefeller provides that neighboring states help New York locate its residents who are working in those states but who have not been paying income taxes to New York.

New York expects to gain three million dollars in taxes this way and cut the net cost to New York State for the non-resident relief to three million dollars.

New Jersey and Connecticut do not levy income taxes.

Woman Asks Advice On Thawing Hamster

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — How do you revive a half-frozen pet hamster found in the crisping tray of a refrigerator?

That question was asked by a Charleston woman in a call to a member of the conservation department's education division.

A department employe countered by asking how the hamster got into the refrigerator.

The woman explained her little girl had decided to give the pet a "room of its very own" and had selected the crisping tray.

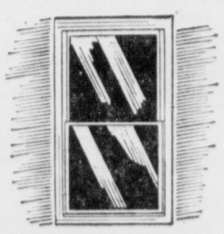

The only answer to the dilemma appeared to be to "thaw out" the hamster. The department said Wednesday the little animal apparently was doing well.

SIGNS OF THE SUMMIT

Within less than 2½ months, the leaders of the great powers will assemble for the long heralded summit meeting. Optimism is not high today that they will find a path away from their habitual rigidities.

Disarmament and the future of Berlin seem certain to be the chief topics of discussion at that conference. Both are now in deadlock.

On disarmament, the heart of the dispute is what it has always been: Russia's refusal to accept what we regard as ironclad inspection controls at every stage of a disarmament plan.

Over the years, this point of contention has shown itself in many different circumstances. Right now, for instance, it is at the center of the East-West argument in Geneva over a possible nuclear test ban.

We believe that only by checking all suspicious seismic (earthquake-like) disturbances could we hope to bring small underground nuclear tests under control. So we favor excluding these small tests from any ban.

The Russians want them included. They say we can check any seismic disturbances, provided we agree to an annual limit on the number of such checks within the Soviet Union or elsewhere.

But they won't tell us how many inspections they would allow, nor agree that the number should be determined on a scientific rather than a political basis. So we're back to the same old brick wall.

In the matter of Berlin, we are determined as always to assure its freedom from Communist control. The Russians want our armed forces out of there.

As a pressure device, they continue to threaten the signing at an early date of a separate peace treaty with East Germany, whose soil encompasses Berlin. They would then argue that our rights there had been extinguished.

So far the Soviet Union has shown no slight disposition to accept any compromise proposal. The reason is simple: every Western plan is seen as inevitably weakening the Communist hold on East Germany. Thus all suggestions for fairly conducted all-German elections or plebiscites are in every instance rejected.

One can find little hope for summit success in the unchanging words of Soviet Premier Khrushchev as he marches around the world. If there is any such hope, it must surely rest in the pressures that world opinion puts upon him.

For if he grasps anything at all, he must understand that the world is weary of Communist-inspired tensions. It wants peace, nuclear and general disarmament, and a settlement of such crucial issues as Berlin. He dare not be totally deaf to those demands.

Checks in the amount of two and a half trillion dollars were written last year. Writing them was a cinch. Covering them was the tough part of it.

WHO WAS UNCLE SAM?

The Senate may soon have to face a disputed point in our tradition: How did the phrase "Uncle Sam" originate? The question is raised by a bill before Congress.

The common explanation revolves about Samuel Wilson, a Troy, N. Y., merchant who, during the War of 1812, packed salt meat from his slaughterhouse for nearby camps. Some of his barrels were marked "U. S." Asked what the initials stood for, the soldiers would reply, "Uncle Sam." Belief in this story has caused the Senate public lands committee to favor making Wilson's grave near Troy a national shrine.

A natural question, even granting the truth of the explanation, is "How did the fame of a merchant in a small New York town spread all over the nation?" The appropriateness of the initials suggests that some one may indeed have said that "U. S." stood for "Uncle Sam." That could have happened whether or not the sale meat incident actually occurred. Many will think this the probable explanation, and regard Wilson as a free rider on a coincidence. Most of the historians explaining the term have adopted some such view.

Before the legislation goes through, presumably the Wilson story will be carefully investigated. If Wilson has this distinction coming, it would be well to be certain of the fact.

'These Days'

GET OUT THE VOTE!

The hoopla will soon start to get out the vote. Both parties and various non-partisan and public spirited organizations will devote themselves to the doctrine that it is the duty of every citizen, male or female, to vote in each election. This preserves what they call the democracy.

There are those who hold that a good way to protest against the vacuity of our political parties is not to vote at all. It is a sort of get-even-with-them-bums attitude. When both parties nominate nonentities and give us the choice of voting for John Doe or Felix Roe, as often happens, we might as well stay home and let whoever wins win.

Some say that they are prepared to choose between the lesser of two evils. But why? Why should we not choose the better of two good men? Why, out of about 180,000,000 people, do we have to choose the lesser of two evils? There seems to be neither morality nor practicality in that.

It is quite possible that in 1960, we shall be able to make a choice between two able and experienced men. I doubt that we shall be able to make a choice between two party platforms, that is two sets of principles. The likelihood is that the platforms of both parties when translated in non-political language, will be identical.

However, the campaign might become very interesting as the Democrats gird their loins to attack the Eisenhower foreign policy which they, the Democrats, made. This may prove to be very exciting. The present foreign policy of the United States, a reversal of traditional policy, was formed by Franklin D. Roosevelt who led us in war in alliance with Great Britain and Soviet Russia. It was a difficult policy to formulate because Roosevelt had no understanding of Russian history or Soviet methods and at both Teheran and Yalta he became confused. Harry Truman and his fourth Secretary of State, Dean Acheson, continued the Roosevelt policy but their problems increased as Russian cupidity disclosed itself and as our shifting, drifting activities in China produced tragedy both for China and for the United States.

Already Dean Acheson, in his criticisms of the Eisenhower foreign policy, is saying pretty much what his critics said about Dean Acheson when he was in authority. Perhaps out of office, Acheson has had the time and philosophy to view these problems in perspective, whereas as Secretary of State, he had to meet every contingency and emergency as an immediate and pressing problem. Also, Dean Acheson, as every Secretary of State, had to face domestic political pressures which as an outsider no longer concern him—at least not intimately. Were he to become Secretary of State again, his views might have to be different.

The Republicans will not be able to defend themselves, except by saying to the Democrats that they did the same when they were in office. In a word, we have had a real bi-partisan foreign policy, namely that they all agreed on the same thing. As long as John Foster Dulles was Secretary of State, he handled the foreign policy more or less on his own. The present Eisenhower policy is a departure from the Dulles attitudes; it is softer not only toward Soviet Russia but toward Red China. Dulles would not have permitted Cuba to act toward the United States as Castro and Guevara are doing.

All this will be in the campaign and Richard Nixon will have to defend the Eisenhower foreign policies which are growing increasingly unpopular because they do not seem to focus. They are such a sharp departure from the Dulles policies which prevailed for six years. The change is attributed to the influence of Dr. Milton Eisenhower who is regarded by Republicans of all kinds as an outsider, more like the Adlai Stevenson type of Democrat.

Richard Nixon cannot defend the do-nothing policy over Cuba or the confusions in the Pentagon. However, he also cannot attack them. Time is passing and the Vice President is stymied by his official position. His strength lies with the conservatives; he cannot compete with John Kennedy or Hubert Humphrey for the liberal vote. Nor can he compete with Lyndon Johnson for the middle-of-the-road. It is important for Nixon to find an independent platform and to make the most of it.

'Food Poisoning' No Fun; Here's How to Avoid It

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What are called "food poisonings" are rarely caused by eating poisonous food. Almost always, the trouble is due to contamination of perfectly good food by toxins or poisons produced by bacteria that are introduced during food preparation.

This is the usual sequence of events: Someone with a skin infection, perhaps of the finger, prepares a mayonnaise dressing for a chicken salad or a custard filling for a cake or some pastry. A bug, usually a staphylococcus or a streptococcus, is introduced.

The dressing or the filling provides an ideal diet for the invader who divides and multiplies every few seconds.

At the end of a few hours, especially if the food is not well refrigerated, the bacterial population is in the trillions. And each little bug is a factory for the manufacture of bacterial toxin.

Comes mealtime, often at a picnic or a sociable, and the diners pitch in. Within an hour or so, if the original invader was a staphylococcus, almost everyone will become violently ill. After a delay of a half-dozen or so hours, if the original invader was a streptococcus, the result will be quite as unpleasant.

Fortunately, recovery is rapid in all instances. But prevention is much the better policy.

Here are some suggestions for your protection:

Never eat anywhere if a food handler has any kind of a skin infection.

Never permit anyone with a skin infection to prepare or serve food in your home or for a picnic or a sociable.

If you are serving a salad with a mayonnaise dressing in your home, do not mix the salad until your guests are seated.

If you are serving a salad with a large gathering, excuse anyone who has a skin infection from giving assistance. Prepare the meat as near to the hour of serving as possible. Put jars of commercially prepared mayonnaise on the tables and let each diner do his own mixing.

If you are planning dessert for a large gathering, avoid cakes and pastries with custard or whipped cream filings. Serve a plain cake or cookies preferably with commercially prepared ice cream. If further sweetening is desirable, put out jars of flavored syrup or of jam.

And if your precautions fail and you or your guests suffer an attack of what is commonly called "food poisoning" or "ptomaine," don't let anyone add to your miseries by prescribing or giving a laxative or a cathartic of any kind.

You can trust Mother Nature to rid you of your unwelcome tenants.

The Outcome Should Be Interesting

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Southern conservatives will make another attempt to organize for independent political action at a "Solid South Conference" in Jackson, Miss., May 6-7. One of its stated objectives is "to expose the antisouthern voting records of all Democratic candidates for the presidential nomination."

A principal target apparently will be Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, who is accused of "anti-South tactics" in introducing civil rights legislation.

Backers of the conference include Kent Courtney of New Orleans, publisher of "Independent American"; Dan Smoot of Texas and Tom Anderson of Nashville, Tenn., publisher of "Mississippi Farmer."

It is much the same group that backed the "New Party Rally" in Chicago last October, without much success.

SEN. A. S. MIKE Monroney of Oklahoma says: "I'm the only Democrat in the Senate who is not a candidate for anything this year."

THE STARTLING IDEA that Massachusetts Sen. John A. Kennedy's 30-year-old wife Jacqueline is too beautiful to be First Lady has been advanced by "The Insider's Newsletter," a new semiconfidential tip sheet being put out by Cowles Publications.

The explanation is that "Jackie," as Mrs. Kennedy is called by her friends, "is the average American's image of an empty-headed beauty."

As a matter of fact she's not empty-headed, but a smart gal who has attended Smith, Vassar and the Sorbonne in Paris, graduating from George Washington University. Fluent in both French and Italian, she would make a good international hostess.

But as one politician sums it up: "In presidential races, too much obvious money and too pretty a wife can be handicaps. People usually like to believe the man and woman in the White House are just like themselves."

"WHAT THIS COUNTRY needs" is summed up by the AFL-CIO "Political Memo from COPE" this way:

"The chairman of the Joint Chiefs rejects the recommendations of his fellow chiefs. The chief of Naval Operations disagrees with the chief of the Air Force. The chief of the Air Force disagrees with the commanding general of the Strategic Air Command. The Army chief of staff disagrees with the Air Force. So the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee . . . has to call on the director of Central Intelligence Agency to clear up the confusion.

"What this country needs is a military man in the White House who will knock heads together and straighten everything out."

KENTUCKY'S TWO Republican senators — John Sherman Cooper and Thruston B. Morton —both came to Washington for their second tour of duty in 1953. Cooper came for his second term as senator. Morton, having served in the House, came as assistant secretary of state.

But just after President Eisenhower's inauguration, Cooper got a letter from a constituent in the Kentucky hills. It read something like this:

"Dear John: I've handled this precinct many years. I've fit with you when you won and I've fit with you when you lost. Now, I need a job and I'm available. The job I want is ambassador to the Court of St. James's."

Cooper bucked the letter to Morton, but he sent it back with the note that patronage was the senator's business. So he wrote his answer along this line:

"Dear——: I hope you'll reconsider your letter asking to be made ambassador to England. The climate over there is bad. It wouldn't be good for your wife's rheumatism. Also, you'd have to wear knee pants with silk stockings on that job, and your mountain legs wouldn't look good." And so on.

Back came a letter in short order telling Cooper he was right and the request for an appointment as ambassador was withdrawn.

It concluded with: "You make me postmaster at Dog Hollow and I'll consider the matter closed."

Handbill Decision Is Called A New High Court Puzzle

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court of the United States added this week to the confusion and inconsistency which too often characterizes its hair-splitting decisions. Even the best lawyers in the country must be baffled now in attempting to say just what the "law of the land" is today with reference to the distribution of anonymous handbills.

The high court struck down a Los Angeles city ordinance which required the sponsors and distributors of such handbills to identify themselves to the public. The court said this would infringe on the right of free speech and free press.

For many decades now, under a law of Congress, newspapers and other publications have faced a loss of their second-class-mail privileges, if they did not publish at least once a year the names of their principal officers, owners and holders of their bonds or mortgages. This law has been upheld by the Supreme Court.

Reveal All Sponsors

But if newspapers are required to disclose their ownership and managing personnel, why should another set of citizens be allowed to carry on campaigns of various kinds by distributing printed matter on the streets without having to reveal their sponsors?

The Supreme Court, moreover, has upheld heretofore the law requiring that lobbyists in Congress must regularly register and disclose the identity of their sponsors. The right of disclosure has long been ruled to be a public right and in no way an infringement on the First Amendment guarantees of free speech and free press. This is sound doctrine.

Can Conceal Identity

But now six justices of the Supreme Court — Black, Douglas, Warren, Brennan, Harlan and Stewart — pull back and argue, that, because reprisals may be directed against the distributors of anonymous handbills, they can hereafter conceal or hide their identity. In this case, the court related that "the handbills urged readers to help the organization carry on a boycott against certain merchants and business men, whose names were given on the ground that, as one handbill said, they carried products of 'manufacturers who will not offer equal employment opportunities to Negroes, Mexicans and Orientals.'"

The dissenting opinion in the current case, written by Justice Clark and concurred in by Justices Frankfurter and Whittaker, points out the inconsistencies as follows:

"All that Los Angeles requires is that one who exercises his right of free speech through writing or distributing handbills identify himself just as does one who speaks from the platform. The ordinance makes for the responsibility in writing that is present in public utterance. When and if the application of such an ordinance in a given case encroaches on First Amendment freedoms, then will be soon enough to strike that application down. But no such restraint has been shown here. . . .

Invasion of Privacy

"We have upheld complete proscription of uninvited door-to-door canvassing as an invasion of privacy. Is this less restrictive than complete freedom of distribution — regardless of content — of a signed handbill? And commercial handbills may be declared verboten (forbidden) regardless of content or identification. Is Talley's anonymous handbill, designed to destroy the business of a commercial establishment, passed out at its very front door, and attacking its then lawful commercial practices, more comportable with First Amendment freedoms? I think not. Before we may expect international responsibility among nations, might it not be well to require individual responsibility at home? Los Angeles' ordinance does no more."

The reference in the above quotation to the distribution of "commercial handbills" was based on a New York City ordinance barring the distribution on the streets of any commercial advertising matter, even though signed or identified. The decision upholding the ordinance was handed down in 1942 in a unanimous opinion by the Supreme Court of the United States, consisting then of Justices Black, Douglas and Frankfurter of the present court membership, and Justices Roberts, Murphy, Byrnes, Jackson, Reed and Chief Justice Stone.

So what it all boils down to is that a city may prohibit distribution on the streets of any commercial literature — even though signed — "puffing the wares" of a business, but it cannot prohibit any one from distributing unsigned handbills or pamphlets attacking a business or asking the public not to buy such wares. Surely, inconsistency in the "law of the land" was never more dramatically revealed.

Double Trouble

AUSTIN, Minn. (AP) — Michael Frohriech, 80, of Waltham, Minn., figured a fine of $25 on each of two traffic violations was cheap. He pleaded guilty in municipal court to driving over the center line and unlicensed operation of a motor vehicle, then testified he had been driving without a license since 1915.

Rocky Names Two Newburgh Men to WashingtonBoard

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller sent to the Senate today the nomination of Harry L. Wells of Newburgh as a member of the board of trustees of Washington's Headquarters at Newburgh.

Rockefeller also renominated Dr. Carlos E. Fallon of Newburgh to the board.

Wells would succeed Harry S. Monellof Vails Gate, whose term has expired.

Both terms would run to April 1, 1965. Members of the board serve without compensation.

Orange Woman Hurt As Car Rams Engine

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP) — A Newburgh, N. Y., woman was injured slightly Wednesday night when the car she was driving ran into the side of a freight train engine at a crossing on Route 94.

Mrs. Margaret Crudele, 27, said she failed to see the crossing flasher. She suffered cuts, but was not hospitalized. Her car, however, was considerably damaged.

The engineer of the Erie locomotive was Curtis Carter of Port Jervis, N. Y.

Student Found Dead

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Charles A. Fuller, 19, of Springville, Erie County, N. Y., was found dead Wednesday in his bedroom at a Carnegie Tech fraternity house. Fuller, a junior, had complained of not feeling well and had gone to his room to lie down.

An autopsy has been ordered to determine the cause of death.

Ike; Krushy Choose Words Carefully to Avoid Chance Of Ruining Summit Conference Success

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press news Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Those two leaders who will soon have to face each other—President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev — are keeping their hands on the table and their voices down.

It has been an intensely interesting study to watch the way these two men have handled themselves since they met last year at Camp David and agreed to meet in May at Paris in a summit conference with Britain and France.

Careful of Conduct

Both have avoided anything which might leave either of them open to the accusation of ruining chances for summit success by word or conduct before the meeting ever started.

Khrushchev practically blackjacked the United States into inviting him to a visit here, after he had demanded the Allies get their troops out of Berlin.

Although the foreign ministers of this country, the Soviet Union, Britain and France had long meetings last year to try to settle the Berlin issue, Khrushchev never permitted a settlement.

One thing which irked the West was what seemed to be a deadline laid down by Khrushchev for the Allies to get out of Berlin. He later denied setting any deadline, and at Camp David he agreed there should be no fixed limit on the negotiations.

It was only because he did that Eisenhower agreed to meet with him at the summit. The President took the position that the United States could not be threatened by Khrushchev into a summit meeting.

Still Has the Desire

Since then, despite what may have seemed hostile statements by both men, the two actually have carefully avoided saying anything which would wreck the summit meeting before it began.

Every once in a while Khrushchev, since his visit here, has said nothing which indicated he might be ending his peaceful period.

But the bouncy Soviet, in one way or another, always managed to give bland assurance that he zealously desired the most peaceful attitude by East and West before Paris.

For example: When he returned to the Soviet Union from his Asian trip last week practically his first words were insistence that no one do or say anything that could disturb the atmosphere before the summit meeting began.

Rules Out Defiance

Eisenhower this week gave a similar demonstration of earnestness in wanting the Paris meeting to begin under the most peaceful conditions possible. He killed the idea of defying Soviet objections by flying military airplanes at high altitudes into West Berlin.

Such a flight, no matter how high, would have to be across the territory of the Soviet satellite, Communist East Germany. And the Soviet Union contends, although the Western powers deny it, that an agreement limits such flights to 10,000 feet.

It seems a pretty good bet both Eisenhower and Khrushchev will continue to avoid anything which looks like threat or anger before the summit meeting. There are a couple of good reasons for that:

1. It's possible, although perhaps unlikely, that something good can come out of the Paris meeting.

2. It would be bad propaganda for the United States or the Soviet Union—since the whole world is hoping for some solutions at the summit—to throw a broken bottle through the window.

Man Picked Up In South, Denies Yates Co. Role

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — John William Johnson denied he's the man who used the name Jack Rigney in Yates County, N. Y., and is wanted there on charges of grand larceny.

In justice of the peace court on Wednesday, he asked "Jack Rigney? Who is he?"

The Herald reported that Lyman H. Smith, district attorney of Yates County, had this comment:

"You tell John William Johnson that when I get to Miami next week I'll tell him who Jack Rigney is. Jack Rigney is John William Johnson, that's who he is. And we want him badly."

Trouble for Johnson started Wednesday when he was spotted outside his Miami Beach residence by an off duty policeman.

Lt. Henry Dworking said he recognized Johnson as a man wanted on a federal indictment in Rochester, N. Y., in connection with a mail fraud charge involving a stock swindle.

He was taken before the U. S. commissioner and released under $15,000 bond. Just as he was leaving, Miami police showed up with another warrant. This was from Yates County.

Johnson next appeared before Justice of the Peace Francis J. Christie who released him on $10,000 bond.

Johnson told Christie his address in Miami Beach is that of his father-in-law, Joe DiCarlo, once known as public enemy No. 1 of Buffalo, N. Y.

Dean Will Be Installed At Episcopal Cathedral

The Rev. Dr. John V. Butler will be installed as Dean of the Cathedral Church of St. John the Divine Saturday at 3 p. m. In his new position he will be executive head of the largest cathedral in the United States.

The Rt. Rev. Horace W. B. Donegan, Bishop of New York, will conduct the installation service and preach the sermon.

Dr. Butler has been rector of Trinity Church, Princeton, N. J., since 1948. He will be the cathedral's sixth dean, succeeding the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, who became the Bishop of California in 1958.

Stretch It Out

Adult Education Group to View 2 Films Tuesday

Two movies will highlight a discussion of the United States foreign aid program Tuesday, 8:30 p. m. at New Paltz High School Library.

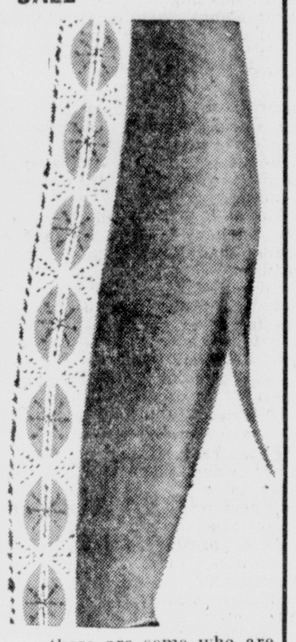

The special showing will be presented jointly by the current events group of the New Paltz Adult Education program, and the foreign policy workshop of the New Paltz League of Women Voters.

The first movie, entitled, "The Fishermen of Quintay," portrays multilateral aid for Chile, channeled through the U. N. Technical Assistance Program. The other, "They Planted a Stone," shows how irrigation and construction programs planned and paid for by the British cotton industry transformed a desert in the Sudan. The movies show two different aspects of foreign aid to underdeveloped countries.

Mrs. Robert Lang, chairman of the Foreign Policy Workshop, in announcing the jointly-sponsored meeting, said that the films would serve as a "jumping off point" for discussion of the U. S. foreign aid program. Martin LePan and Louis LeFevre from the current events group and representatives of the LWV workshop will take part in the discussion.

The program is open to the public. It will be preceded by a general business meeting of the League of Women Voters, with Mrs. Gustav Silverman, presiding.

Plan Fire Drill, Evacuation for Saugerties High

A full scale surprise fire drill with complete evacuation of the Saugerties Central High School building will be staged when weather permits. Volunteers of Malden-West Camp Fire Company, responsible for the high school area, will respond to the fire drill call to test tactical efficiency under simulated emergency conditions.

Plans for the test drill were announced by Fire Chief Emmett Vedder at the Tuesday night meeting of the Malden-West Camp volunteers held in West Camp fire station.

Chief Vedder said he had discussed arrangements for the test with David S. Cunningham, principal of the school, and it was decided to hold the surprise test early in the spring.

Vedder said he made his periodic check of the school building.

Harry L. Moose reported that the kitchen in West Camp fire station had been completed and requires only installation of drinking water. LeBreton and Son of Malden has been contracted to drill wells at Malden and West Camp fire stations. An auxiliary water system is used in both stations for sanitary purposes.

The new kitchen, a project of Carl Altevogt, West Camp building contractor, includes knotty pine cabinets, a sink, and formica table tops. The stove and refrigerator had been previously installed by the firemen.

Vice president Valmore F. Carpenter, chairman of the first annual chief's night held by the company recently, presented his final report on the event.

Charles Daley, Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association representative of the company reported on the recent meeting of the county volunteer organization. Te told of various activities and action in regard to legislation.

Chief Vedder reported he had heard from the control center for the county two-way radio system, and that the system will be in full operation this week. He said a surprise test of the siren would be made at any time.

Vedder also asked for the appointment of a committee to work on the tank truck. President John J. Helfert appointed Vedder to head the committee including Daley, Stanley Magee, and William R. Wrolsen, corresponding secretary.

The award of the month was designated for Joseph Dangler of West Camp.

The Auxiliary was given permission to use the West Camp rooms for a puppet show and party Saturday to be held by Brownie Troop 133 of Malden-West Camp. The Auxiliary sponsors the troop.

The application of Herman Peters of Malden as an active member of the company was unanimously approved.

Jaycees Name Committee Heads For July 4 Fete

The names of committee chairmen for the four-day July 4th celebration in Saugerties this year were announced today by Charles Rice, general chairman.

Finance, Graham Barkhuff; Friday program, Paul Millonig; Saturday program, Gerald Kurtz; Sunday program, Richard Sherrick; Parade, Howard Langdon, Norman Fowler, and George Rodriquez, and fireworks, Harold Wilsey.

Centerville Vols Favor Purchase Of One Respirator

Authorization to purchase a respirator was approved at the Tuesday night meeting of Centerville Fire Company held at Centerville Fire Hall.

A demonstration of the type will be demonstrated at the next meeting Tuesday, April 12.

The applications of two prospective members was approved by a vote of the company. They are Harry Vickery of West Saugerties and Charles Roth Jr., of Shultis Corners.

Company President William A. Woestendiek presented a communication for discussion on participation of the company in the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association convention in the spring.

The company voted to have a photo of the company taken and a cut made for the anniversary journal of the county volunteers. A history of the company will be prepared for presentation with the photo.

It was reported that a portable lighting system purchased by the fire district had arrived and was ready to be installed.

Fire Chief John C. Paige reported that the county two-way radio system would be in operation this week.

Methodists Begin Total Enlistment Church Program

The membership and evangelism commission of Saugerties Methodist Church, James Thompson, chairman, announced today it has begun a total enlistment program of church membership.

The sermon theme for Lent and during the post-Easter period, will be drawn from specific applications of the theme of total enlistment, the Rev. George Werner, pastor of the church, added.

Members are being called upon to reexamine their committment to Christ and the Church, and to make this a total committment in regular church attendance, prayer, Bible reading, and witnessing for the church in the community.

An impact has already been made upon the church, which has expressed itself in increased church attendance and giving, the pastor said.

At the official board meeting this week, the new maps of Saugerties and its environs were exhibited, and explained by Thompson. A map tack marks the place where each of the 335 families in the church resides, and these families are grouped into small neighborhood units, each with a group leader.

It was also announced at the board meeting that the church is a recipient of $500 left in the last will and testament of A. Edith Kelley, of Jamaica, L. I.

M-WC Auxiliary Plans Food Sale

A food and home baked goods sales will be held Saturday, March 19 at the Grand Union Super Market, Market Street, Saugerties beginning at 10 a. m.

The sale is sponsored by the Auxiliary of Malden-West Camp Fire Company.

Fire District residents and auxiliary members wishing to donate items for the sale may contact Mrs. Carl Hesse Jr., auxiliary president at West Camp.

Baptist Church To Hear Service Brigade Director

W. Le Troup, director of Christian Service Brigade for the Eastern Division will be in Saugerties at the First Baptist Church, Sunday for the 11 a. m. service.

Under his leadership Brigade has grown in the past six years from 58 chartered units in the Eastern Division to 433 chartered units. The local group has seen an increase in achievement work and group activities.

At 7:30 p. m. Troup will show a film of camp activities during this past summer at Freehold. Many of the local boys were at this camp and the film should prove to be of local interest. A number of boys will be receiving awards that will be presented by Troup:

Stockade builders, first blockhouse—Charles Tyler, Roger Allen, Barry Lindsay, Walter Knopka, Phillip Crank, Michael Dachenhausen and Andrew Nordquist.

Fourth blockhouse, James Cody.

Battalion observer — Dennis Reese, David Greening, Robert Kelly, Charles Nordquist and Joseph Ruger.

Explorer—Allen Mickle, Duane Mickle, Charles Nordquist and John Kelly.

Everyone is invited to attend these meetings and see the progress of the local Brigade unit.

Rotary Club Hears District Governor

Harrison Dexter of Poughkeepsie, Rotary district governor, addressed Saugerties Rotary Club briefly on the Rotarian program at the Tuesday night meeting held at Stonewall Hotel, Barclay Heights.

He said there are 10,400 clubs in the world embracing some 500,900 members. Dexter pointed out that 60 per cent of the clubs have less than 50 members. However he stressed that these smaller clubs have a remarkable record of accomplishment and have given a great wealth of ideas to the world.

He further stressed the importance of membership activity in the community rather than works accomplished with monetary donations.

Guests were Herman K. Knaust of Catskill Rotary and Larry Bogert of Kingston Rotary.

$55 in Fines Paid

A total of $55 in fines were paid Wednesday in the Traffic Court of Saugerties Town Justice of the Peace Glenford Myers by traffic violators on the Thruway.

Three paid $10 each for speeding and another paid a like amount for failure to comply with signs.

Roif Keller, 34 of 15 Lawrenceville Road, Rosendale paid $15 fine for speeding on the Thruway Tuesday. Trooper N. L. Kilfoyle was the arresting officer.

Activities Scheduled

Brownie Troop 133, sponsored by the Auxiliary of Malden-West Camp Fire Company will hold its puppet show and party Saturday 2 p. m. in West Camp fire station. Members of the auxiliary are especially invited to view the accomplishments of the troop. Mrs. Carl Heese Jr., and Mrs. Robert Lewis are leaders of the group.

Cementon Sportsmen's Association meets Tuesday 8 p. m. at St. Mary's Church Hall, Cementon.

Town Notes

Ronald Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Smith of West Camp returned to his home from Benedictine Hospital following minor surgery. He returned to school Wednesday.

Mrs. J. Charles Stewart of Cementon returned to her home from Benedictine Hospital this week.

Alwyn Geneis of Prospect Street underwent surgery in Kingston Hospital.

Agriculture in the United States uses more electric power in a year than do the cities of Chicago, Detroit, Houston, Baltimore and Boston combined.

State Dairyman Seized by FBI For Bank Holdup

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP)—A dairy farmer was arrested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation today and charged with armed robbery in the $2,219 hold-up of the First National Bank of East Smithfield, Pa., last year.

The man, Paul J. McCarthy, 29, was picked up at his home near Elmira, the FBI said.

A bench warrant was issued by Federal District Judge Frederick V. Follmer in Scranton, Pa., on March 8, according to the FBI. A federal grand jury had returned a sealed indictment in the case.

A masked man with a sawed-off shotgun held up employes of the bank at East Smithfield, 25 miles southeast of Elmira, shortly before closing time on March 26, 1959.

Cuba Seizes Property

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—The Castro government is taking over the multimillion-dollar properties of the Moa Bay Mining Co. to prevent their shutdown by the American owners, reliable sources said today.

Freeport announced in New York on Monday that it was closing down its Moa Bay operations because of the new Cuban mining law "and other recent Cuban developments." The new mining law provides a 25 per cent tax on all exported minerals.

Army Probes Strafing

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Army officials today sought links between antigovernment rebels and the air force pilot who strafed President Sukarno's palace. Evidence so far indicated the flier was motivated by a personal grudge.

Sukarno and his family escaped injury in the raid Wednesday by 2nd Lt. Daniel Maukar, 28, who peppered the Jakarta palace and a fishing settlement adjacent to Batavia Harbor. Eighteen persons were wounded.

Health Official Is Guest Speaker At Local Meeting

HIGHLAND — Miss Hazel Steed of the Ulster County Health Department, Kingston, was the guest speaker at last week's meeting of the Home Demonstration Unit in the activity room at school.

She talked on heart disease, physical therapy and the part it plays in treatments at the Haverstraw Rehabilitation Center.

Mrs. Alvin Stiller will conduct a class in aluminum trays at 7:30 p. m. March 21 in the activity room.

Rug making will be the topic of the next meeting of the unit on the evening on March 28. Mrs. Stiller and Mrs. Verna Thorn are leaders in teaching the tufted braided, toothbrush handle styles. An award will be given to the member who wears the most green in her dress. Members will bring their favorite recipe.

Roberts Honored By Fire Company

The presentation of a watch to Albert V. Roberts at the annual firemen's dinner Saturday night at Broglios, West Park, was a feature of the evening. The presentation was made by Chief Frank Tortorella. Mr. Roberts had served the company 12 years as president, retiring last fall.

Guests included Chief Irving Merrick, Poughkeepsie; ex-chief Joseph L. Murphy, Kingston and Hugh Wood, county fire coordinator. There were 110 in attendance.

Along Capitol Corridors

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller is pushing his task forces into the background and is trying to mend fences with the Republican majorities in the Legislature.

The governor's popularity with the lawmakers dropped drastically this year after the "honeymoon" atmosphere of 1959.

Last year, the Republican governor was in his first year in office and the GOP majorities welcomed him warmly. He was the man who had routed a Democratic administration, with which the lawmakers had fought bitterly for four long years.

Things Have Changed

Conservative, Upstate Republicans blanched at many Rockefeller proposals but nevertheless accepted them — record spending, record tax increases, tax relief for railroads.

But things have changed and the "task force" is blamed for much of the marked coolness that has developed between the governor and Republican legislators.

The task forces are groups of specialists — professors, businessmen, researchers — the governor put to work to draft legislation in many fields.

Reports of these teams became the basis of the governor's 1960 program.

He announced what the task forces had recommended and his legal department drafted bills, which were sent to the lawmakers.

Lawmakers Nettled

Previous governors also have submitted legislative programs. But Rockefeller's emphasis on his task forces as the experts in their various fields nettled lawmakers, especially chairmen of committees that had long been at work on those same fields.

Thus, when a lot of the task-force legislation reached the floor, it received a cool—and sometimes frigid—reception.

A chief example is the governor's highway program.

This was drafted by a task force. At the same time, the joint Legislative Committee on Motor Vehicles and Traffic Safety was drafting its own, elaborate safety program.

Called Too Stringent

The governor's plan ran into trouble. Republican assemblymen protested it was too stringent. They were miffed over the idea of being handed a plan tailored by non-legislative sources.

Rockefeller, feeling the political winds, embarked on a new tack. The highway safety plan, he pointed out recently, was "Ed Speno's plan . . ." Speno, a Long Island Republican, is chairman of the Joint Committee on Motor Vehicles. Rockefeller made no mention of any task forces.

This week, the governor unveiled his health program. It was replete with glowing references to legislators. Instead of proposing new legislation in various areas, he appealed for support of bills that had been drafted and filed by Republican lawmakers.

And, the governor announced, he was that very day conferring with the legislators who had been most active in the various health fields.

Task forces? The expression is hardly ever heard around the Capitol these days.

Alsatian Brasserie Recipe Makes for Hearty Eating

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Food and Markets Editor

Alsatian "choucroute garnie" (sauerkraut with pungent sausages) is a lusty dish you'll find in every brasserie in Alsace and France. Now, however, we have a genuine continental brasserie of our own in New York — the only one in this country.

Open 24 hours a day, every day in the week, the brasserie is a haven for "everyman"—celebrities, taxi drivers, itinerant diplomats, off-duty policemen, socialites, restaurateurs on the way home from their own deluxe cafes — yes, even for tired and hungry newspapermen. The food is French-Alsatian, the decor sophisticated peasant style. In fact, we regard this refuge of the unpretentiously hungry as about the most relaxed and least frantic spot we know.

Ronald Spetalnick, le directeur, tall and voluble about Alsace, sat with us at three in the morning and insisted we try his choucroute garnie, a heart-warming meal-in-a-dish.

CHOUCROUTE garnie, combining sauerkraut, sausage, pork loin, herbs, is a favorite French-Alsatian brasserie dish.

Choucroute Garnie a la Brasserie
(Serves 6)

Take 3 pounds sauerkraut. Wash thoroughly under cold water in colander and sprinkle with a little cumin seed. Be sure to press well, removing water.

Put into an earthenware or black iron pot or casserole: 1 pint water, ½ pint white Alsatian sylvaner wine or domestic dry chablis, 1 calves foot, 1 large carrot, 1 grated potato, drained; 1 medium-size onion stuck with 3 cloves, 1 ounce juniper berries (tied up in a little cheesecloth bag), 1 small bouquet garni. Add the sauerkraut and cook together for one hour.

Next, put on top ½ pound smoked bacon sliced into thick serving-sized strips and 6 slices of smoked boiled ham. Cook for another hour at low heat, pot uncovered. Boil separately smoked loin of pork (6 pork chops), changing water twice; smoked bratwurst sausage (6); 6 garlic (cotteghino) sausage for five minutes. Boil 6 potatoes in jackets for 20 to 25 minutes.

A few minutes before serving, remove vegetables, bouquet garni, bay of juniper berries and calves foot. Serve in round deep casserole or on hot platters. Mound sauerkraut and garnish each serving with: 1 slice of ham, 1 pork chop, 1 slice of garlic sausage, 1 bratwurst sausage and 1 whole boiled potato, peeled and halved. Serve with Dijon mustard.

Note: Juniper berries can be purchased in drugstores, specialty grocery stores and spice houses.

TOMORROW'S ALSATIAN DINNER: Half grapefruit, choucroute garnie, green salad, assorted cheeses, crusty bread, beignets aux confiture—hot sugar glazed fritters filled with strawberry preserves, fruit bowl, coffee, tea, milk.

Violin Valuable

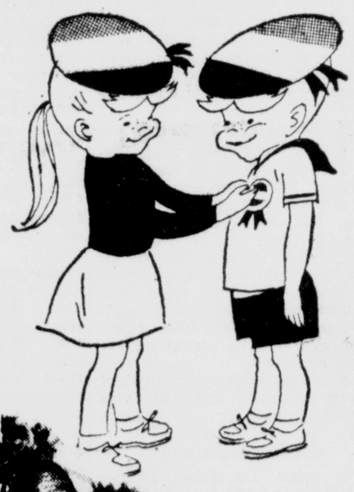

LITCHFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A violin made by an industrial arts teacher drew praise from David Rubinoff, concert violinist who made an appearance here. "An amazing instrument worth $1,000," said Rubinoff. The violinist put aside his Stradivarius to finish a concert with the violin made by Drexel Mey, teacher at nearby Hillsboro Junior High School. Mey said he brought the violin to Rubinoff at the urging of friends who thought it to be of exceptional value. He said he made the instrument in 1933 as his senior shop project at Milliken University in Decatur, Ill.

Trouble Mounts Up

BALTIMORE (AP) — Charles J. Brill, 31, fell into an open manhole as he prepared to get into his automobile. He walked to a police station and was taken to a hospital for treatment of injured hips. Patrolman John Smith went out to investigate and fell into another manhole. He was taken to a hospital for X-rays. Someone had removed the heavy lids and tossed them over a nearby fence, police later found out, without falling into any more holes.

Arthur Kellogg, composer of "Mother O' Mine" and other hit ballads, was educated in the Ohio State School for the Blind.

Senate Is Voting On Time Limit For CR Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate votes today on a petition to clamp a time limit on its civil rights debate, now in its fourth week and likely to continue.

Almost simultaneously, the House starts debate on a civil rights bill that is far less objectionable to Southern opponents than the measure before the Senate.

The vote in the Senate was forced by a group of self-styled liberals against the advice of the leaders of both parties, and defeat of the effort was widely predicted.

The vote was ordered on a petition of 31 senators to invoke the Senate's cloture rule under which each senator's speaking time would be limited to one hour.

The rule, not successfully invoked since 1927, can be put into effect only by a two-thirds majority vote of the senators present.

A band of 18 Southern Senators fighting civil rights legislation carried on a fullscale filibuster through around-the-clock sessions which started Feb. 29 after the first two weeks of debate. The nonstop sessions ended by agreement Tuesday night and are not expected to be resumed even if lengthy debate continues.

Some senators believe the Senate is likely to wind up by taking the House bill if it is not greatly changed. But it will not reach the Senate for another week.

First Assurance

cussed at the New York HHFA office Monday the city's bid to keep its urban renewal project at a scope that would bring a federal aid sum of $4,255,000. The federal government has proposed a cut to $1,500,000.

The city also seeks an initial sum of $67,000 for planning. The Mayor hopes to get replies soon on both requests.

A preliminary report on the local urban renewal project as presented last year by Raymond & May Associates, local planners, indicated that its first phase would be started in an area between lower Broadway and Hasbrouck. All phases involve areas in three downtown wards.

Betley Is Given Suspended Term On Assault, Third

Joseph Betley, 50, of 80 Bruyn Avenue, arrested Wednesday night by his wife, Gladys, on a third degree assault charge, was given a suspended sentence of six months in jail today in city court.

Special City Judge Arthur B. Ewig also placed him on probation for six months in addition to a probationary period now effective.

William Van Dyke, 59, of 19 Ann Street, charged last night with lacking a driver's license, produced one today, and drew a suspended sentence. Police said Van Dyke was booked on the charge after a mishap near 77 West Pierpont Street involving the car of Joseph Giunta of that address, and one driven by Van Dyke.

A charge that he drove with inadequate brakes, against George Fay, Route 1, Box 241, East Kingston, was dismissed by consent of Assistant District Attorney John E. Gotelli, who indicated lack of proof to substantiate the charge.

'Pat' Brown Faces Two Minor Rivals

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Edmund Brown, supposedly secure in his favorite-son role, wound up today with two potential challengers in California's Democratic presidential primary.

Neither was of national caliber, however.

One was George McLain, Los Angeles pension promoter. McLain, 58, charged Brown has failed the old folks. The governor denied it.

The other was retired Army Brig. Gen. Herbert C. Holdridge, long a tempestous but never important figure in the fringes of California politics.

For a few hours Wednesday night, Brown had four potential rivals for the state's 81 votes at the Democratic National Convention.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota quickly repudiated filings by a self-starting state committee. Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts followed with a similar wire.

Both had declared previously they were going to stay out of the California primary, in deference to Brown and party harmony, unless one of them violated this nonaggression pact.

Strike Threatens Grain Shipments

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike by members of the little-known but highly paid grain trimmers union here threatens to shut off the last trickle of grain shipments through the Port of New York.

The work stoppage by members of the local union came as the federal government notified officials of the Port of New York that it plans to stop storage of grain in the ships of the reserve fleet.

Export of grain from these ships, anchored in the Hudson River above here, provides almost all of the grain traffic through New York, which was once a major port for the commodity.

$200 a Day

The trimmers, members of Local 1268 of the International Longshoremen's Assn., practice an ancient trade, but it pays them up to $200 a day in an unusual piecework arrangement. The hitch is that the men usually work only one or two days a week.

Trimmers wield wooden scoops, of a kind used for nearly a century, to level off the grain as it pours into the freighter.

They went on strike Tuesday in a demand for higher piecework pay, proportionate to the hourly raises recently won by their colleagues in the ILA. The union's 105 members belong to a group or about a dozen families, all originally from County Cork, Ireland.

The employers have offered the trimmers the same hourly wage rates won by the ILA for longshoremen, which is $3.12 an hour in New York. But the local has said it wants to continue on a piecework basis.

Under this arrangement, trimmers get a base pay of $14 per thousand bushels loaded, whether spreading is actually needed or not. The union has refused to allow the use of mechanical spreaders, which are employed in competing grain ports.

The employers say the present contract makes grain handling so expensive here that it is driving the trade to other ports.

Union comment was not immediately available.

Holaday at Odds With Ike About Space Approach

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top adviser on space today disagreed with President Eisenhower's approach to the national space program.

In testimony before the House Space Committee, William M. Holaday, chairman of a committee to coordinate the civilian and military aspects of the present space program, strongly disapproved of the divided approach.

Holaday said he also disagreed with Eisenhower's proposal to abolish the civilian-military liaison committee—which Holaday heads. Abolishing the committee is one of several proposed changes in the National Space Act the House committee is studying.

Eisenhower has repeatedly stressed his belief in the need for separate military and civilian space programs. But Holaday said he felt this approach sapped strength and resources.

"As an end objective they can be separate," he said, "but the similarity between the programs is far greater than anyone would be led to believe."

Holaday said he favors putting all space research and development under a single agency — either the National Aeronautics and Space Administration or the Department of Defense. When a definite objective is established for a space project, he said, it then can be assigned to either a military or civilian agency.

Esopus Board Receives Word On Rondout Span

Plans are being prepared for approaches and a new Rondout Creek Bridge to replace the span that has served as a connecting link on Route 9W between Kingston and Port Ewen since 1921, according to information reported at the Wednesday night Esopus Town Board meeting at Port Ewen.

According to letters received from William J. Ronan, secretary to Governor Rockefeller; J. Burch McMorran, superintendent, and Henry Ten Hagen, chief engineer of the State Department of Public Works, "Construction cannot take place until plans are completed, approved, and the necessary funds made available."

Filed in February

The letters from the state officials were in answer to a petition bearing 504 signatures presented to the February meeting of Esopus Town Board and forwarded to Albany.

The petition was sponsored by Port Ewen Business Men's Association.

The letters state that the proposed plans will correct the hazards referred to in the petition.

The petition cited the hazardous condition for vehicular and pedestrian traffic in the "rock cut" approach to the bridge on the Port Ewen side.

Cost $700,000

The Rondout span built at a cost of approximately $700,000 opened on November 29, 1921. It ended operation of a ferry known as the Skillypot between Kingston and Port Ewen.

In other business the board approved a request of Port Ewen Board of Water Commissioners to obtain options on five properties for the purpose of driving test wells in a program to improve water supply conditions of the district. If sufficient water can be found, a production well will be driven at the best site. Sites for test wells were recommended by Brinnier & Larios Inc., consulting engineers of Kingston, as a result of a geological and hydrological survey made last summer of the water district by Leggette, Brashears & Graham Inc., of New York City.

The board set Wednesday, March 30, at 8 p. m. for a public hearing on a proposed amendment to the town's state building code enforcing ordinance. The amendment would govern electrical installation and was recommended by Merril Peck and Leo R. Barry of the New York Board of Fire Underwriters. The hearing will be in the Town Hall at Port Ewen.

Add 2 Commissioners

William McCabe and Mrs. Helen Oberkirch, president of Port Ewen Parent-Teachers Association were appointed as commissioners for Ross Park, increasing the number to five. The other commissioners are DeVall Dunbar of Port Ewen Business Men's Association; Floyd Ellsworth of Town of Esopus Lions Club, and Charles Montafia of Town of Esopus Post 1298, American Legion.

On a request of West Esopus Landowner's Association, a local sportsmen's club, Lawrence Hiller, Harry Freer, and Harold Hauver were appointed special constables to provide better control of the posted property under the association's jurisdiction.

The Town Board is studying a request from Zale Liese on behalf of Port Ewen Business Men's Association to improve street lighting in the business section of Port Ewen.

Supervisor Roger W. Mabie said the matter would be discussed with representatives of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation. He added that changes would be considered only if there was no appreciable change in the tax rate. Mabie pointed out that the $4.845 rate per thousand dollars on assessed valuation for Port Ewen Light District ranked 15th among Ulster County's 32 street lighting districts, and currently was the highest rate among the town's four lighting districts.

Road Work Sought

On a request from Edward V. Conlin of Rifton, the board directed Town Highway Superintendent Paul Mercier to investigate the possibility of improving the condition of Martin Sweedis Road in order to provide sufficient space to turn around at the end of the road.

Democrats Favor Senator's Widow To Succeed Him

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Democrats had high hopes today that Sen. Richard Neuberger's widow would succeed him in the Senate.

Mrs. Neuberger said she would accept an appointment to complete her husband's unexpired term. She said she was undecided whether to seek a full six-year term.

But two leading Democrats said they had talked with Mrs. Neuberger and were confident she would seek the Democratic senatorial nomination in the May primary. The deadline for filing is 5 p.m. Friday.

Neuberger, 47, died Wednesday a few hours after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage.

The executive board of the Oregon Democratic Central Committee voted unanimously Wednesday night to ask Republican Gov. Mark Hatfield to appoint Mrs. Neuberger to serve out the senator's term. Hatfield had no comment.

Under Oregon law the governor must appoint a Democrat to succeed Neuberger.

There has been speculation that several Democrats would enter the primary for the Senate seat. One of those mentioned was Rep. Charles Porter. But Porter said Wednesday night: "I am confident Maurine Neuberger will file. I would not expect anyone to oppose her."

Mrs. Neuberger once served in the Oregon House.

Ike Makes No Plans To Attend Wedding

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is making no plans to attend the wedding of Princess Margaret of Great Britain.

The wedding has been set for May 6 and the President is due in Paris for the summit conference starting May 16.

Asked whether there was any chance Eisenhower would leave for Europe early in order to attend the wedding, press secretary James C. Hagerty replied "none at all."

Snow Cripples 15-State Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A crippling March snowstorm—which gave the Midwest and South one of the worst weather thrashings of the winter — dwindled into light snow and flurries across the East today.

From the Central Plains into the Middle Atlantic region, the storm left a 15-state path of misery, inconvenience and hardship.

Staggers South

Before it began to taper off at midday, the storm dumped staggering depths of snow across sections of North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia. Hazardous driving was reported northeastward into Maryland.

State highway crews worked round the clock to clear more than a foot of snow from roads in northern North Carolina. Portions of southwestern Virginia were swamped under overnight snows which ranged up to 30 inches at Keokeein Lee County.

Sleet, freezing rain and rain offered an additional menace to highway travel in southern North Carolina.

The storm that fanned across the middle Mississippi and Ohio valleys appeared to have lost much of its fury as it moved north eastward across the Appalachians. But snow fell through Maryland and Delaware, with falls from 3 to 6 inches. Lesser amounts were forecast in New Jersey and New York.

More Snow Indicated

Meanwhile, a new storm which developed in the central Rockies extended southward across the western Dakotas and more snow was indicated in the storm-weary midcontinent and the upper Ohio Valley.

The major storm spread a heavy blanket of snow across a dozen or more states after sweeping out of the Texas Panhandle Tuesday. The fresh falls piled atop the heavy covering from last week's storm across the same wintry path.

Snow depths were up to two feet in southwest Virginia and piled up to record amounts in many communities in Illinois, Indiana, Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri.

Many Towns Isolated

The early March storm, with spring only 11 days away, left scores of towns isolated. Hundreds of travelers were stranded as bus and plane service was disrupted or canceled. Hundreds of schools, stores and factories were closed. In parts of the storm belt, funeral services were postponed and church services canceled.

Toll More Than 20

There were more than 20 deaths attributed to the storm, including 7 in Illinois, 3 in Georgia, 2 each in Tennessee, Missouri, Nebraska and Kentucky, and 1 each in Indiana, Iowa and Idaho.

Kentucky, reeling under the worst snowstorm in the state's history, was declared a state of emergency by Gov. Bert Combs. Some 20 inches of fresh snow covered sections of the Blue Grass State. Bowling Green, a city of 32,000, was virtually paralyzed. The 8.4 inches of snow in Louisville was a record fall.

National Guardsmen were called out in Kentucky, Indiana and Virginia. They were pressed into service helping weary highway crews and aiding police in emergency duties.

Guardsmen Help Out

In Evansville, Ind., a city of 142,000 guardsmen helped doctors and ambulances on emergency calls. The city trudged through the foot-high snow, including the fresh fall of nine inches, the heaviest in more than 40 years.

New England was the country's coldest section this morning with temperatures near zero in some areas.

But warm air spreading northeastward out of New Mexico and West Texas moderated any sharp cooling in the nation's snow-covered midsection. However, temperatures were lower in the Northwest.

Readings were much nearer seasonal levels in Florida and generally below normal in most eastern sections of the country.

Coors Search Goes On

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — The silent search for Adolph Coors III goes on.

His wife and other members of the missing brewer's family have received infrequent telephone calls since he vanished Feb. 9, but a spokesman says all the calls appeared to be cranks.

Coors, 44, disappeared while driving to work from his foothills home. Nothing has been heard from him since then.

Goes for Wallet, Held for Theft Of Three Autos

A 19-year-old Poughkeepsie youth, who went to police headquarters to claim a lost wallet, and later was accused of stealing three automobiles, was in the Dutchess County jail today awaiting grand jury action on grand larceny charges.

Town of Poughkeepsie Detective Phillip McCready said the wallet was found in one of the stolen vehicles Identification papers found in the wallet showed it belonged to William Lawrence Hastings Jr., of 367 Main Street.

Hastings was notified of the recovery of the wallet. He went to the town police station to claim it, and authorities accused him of the car thefts, two in the city and one in the township. He was booked for grand larceny.

Hastings waived preliminary examination before City Judge Charles O'Donnell, who referred the case to the grand jury. Hastings, a carpenter's helper, was remanded to jail.

Police charged the youth with the theft of a 1949 car owned by Otto Grecco on March 1. The other cars belonged to Patrick Coluccio and Elmo B. Reif, of Poughkeepsie. The vehicles were later found abandoned.

New Law . . .

Three defendants have pleaded guilty.

"Almost two years ago I stated that there was a concerted effort on the part of politicians and others to obstruct this investigation," Justice Greenberg said.

"That continues to be clear today, as clear as can be," Justice Greenberg said. "Maybe one of these days the people of this community will awaken to the fact there is no more serious attack on the stability of law than bribery of public officials."

Continuing, Justice Greenberg said he could do nothing about the cynicism but he said he felt the "matter of corruption of public officials is a matter for the people of this community. It is their concern not mine. But the graft and corruption, if allowed to continue, will corrode and destroy the administration of justice," he concluded.

Referring to Macera, Justice Greenberg said he (Macera) was dealing with a public official and he scored a public official "who violated his oath of office." He said that was of deep concern to the Court and he said it was the duty of the Court in the light of the law and the court's conscience, to deal with the defendant.

Refers to Bar Criticism

It was at this point that Justice Greenberg said he had been criticised by "members of the bar" for his comments from the bench, but, he said, he would again say there had been a "concerted effort" to obstruct justice

He then imposed the $1,000 fine in the Macera case. The fine was paid by Macera's counsel, Stewart Jones. Justice Greenberg said he would impose no jail sentence.

A previous indictment against Macera returned last July was dismissed and bail was exonerated.

Makes Comparison

Prosecutor Tompkins, former state senator from Queens County, explained that the new law in comparison to a previously existing statute which, he said, allowed defendants to take advantage of technical delays.

Tompkins said:

"Under the previous statute, any motion involving a special investigation such as ours could be made at the option of the maker directly in the Appellate Division in Albany, rather than before the judge designated by the governor to preside over the extraordinary term. The Appellate Division could not decline to hear any such motion, no matter how unimportant or specious it might be. As a result, the defendants in our cases have unfortunately brought all their motions in the Appellate Division, well knowing that because of the more complicated procedure in that court and the fact that they do not sit every month (the next session after the term beginning March 14 will not be held until May 9) any decisions normally require a delay of weeks and sometimes months.

"Thus, this special investigation which by its nature should be conducted as expeditiously as possible has been impeded and delayed, incidentlly adding to the cost to the taxpayers. Under the new law, no matter may be brought before the Appellate Division except by specific permission of that court. Thus, the Appellate Division itself will determine which motions they will hear, that is, were any legal propositions involved is important enough to be taken away from the regular Court to be heard by five judges.

"As a direct result of this new law, the citizens of Ulster County can expect the elimination of considerable delay in this investigation, and as a resultant speed-up of the procedures."

Non-Support Charged

Donald Sauter, 33, of 612 Delaware Avenue, was arrested this morning on a warrant dealing with alleged non-support. The complaint was by his wife, Ruth, and the arrest was by Officers Floyd Krom and Lewis Keator. He is due in city court Friday morning.

Otto Harbach, librettist and lyric writer for scores of Broadway musical hits, was first a professor of English, then a newspaperman.

Responses to the Mass were sung by Mrs. Eleanor Sweeney accompanied by James J. Sweeney, organist. During the bereavement many friends called at the funeral home. Among those who called were the Rev. Joseph L. Kerins, CSsR, the Rev. Robert Rappleyea, CSsR, and Father Murray. Many representatives of the boating industry called to pay their respects. Tuesday night, Father Kelley called and led those present in the recitation of the Rosary. Many floral and spiritual bouquets were received. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father Murray gave the final absolution and blessing. Bearers were Frank Longto Jr., William and Thomas Kennedy, all nephews of the deceased, John Duffy, Harry Corbett and Charles Barton.

Mahoney Rejects Compromise Offer On Residency Law

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney today rejected a compromise plan that Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson had offered to settle a controversy over welfare-residency laws.

"Why go through a futile gesture?" Mahoney said of the Wilson plan.

Mahoney stood by his own measure, which would deny public relief to anyone who had not lived in the state continuously for one year. He and Wilson are Republicans.

The Senate approved the legislation Monday night.

It was announced at a closed conference of Republican assemblymen today the bill would be reported out of committee and brought to a floor vote in the Assembly. This announcement drew a burst of applause from the legislators, a development that was interpreted as evidence the bill would be passed in the Assembly. No date for a vote was set.

Republican Gov. Rockefeller is opposed to a residency law.

The Senate also held a closed meeting. Mahoney said agreement was reached on several minor issues.

The majority leader said a broad fiscal plan, providing for increased school aid, would be submitted to another party conference Monday.

The senator said the question of tax relief would be taken up at that meeting.

Mahoney commented at a news conference that followed the Senate GOP conference.

The Wilson welfare plan would not contain a residency provision but would allow relief only to persons who proved they were willing to work but unable to find it.

Mahoney said some of the provisions of the Wilson plan were already in state law.

Dazed Children Are Pulled From Ruins in Agadir

RABAT (AP)—Rescue workers today pulled five weak and dazed children from the rubble of Agadir, which was virtually destroyed by an earthquake 10 days ago.

The Moroccan state radio carried the report that the children were found in wreckage of the Moroccan quarter, which was 90 per cent destroyed.

The rescue brought to 10 the number of survivors pulled out in the last three days—after almost all hope had been given up of finding anyone left alive.

The children ranged from 6 to 15 years old. One was a Moslem and four were Jewish children. About half the 2,400 Jews in Agadir are estimated to have died in the earthquake.

Finding the latest survivors spurred rescue workers who are combing the city and using air hammers and other equipment to raise and probe bits of wreckage.

Efforts centered in the native quarter, where engineers teams carefully combed the entire area, and in the region of the collapsed Hotel Saada, where faint voices are reported to have been heard.

The workers in the town are now mainly Moroccan soldiers and a company of American engineers. The French have offered to land 700 sailors to continue rescue work if they should be needed.

The city is still cordoned off by troops and has been completely sprayed with chlorine, D.D.T., quicklime and other disinfectants.

Up to 12,000 persons are estimated to have died in the quake. Of these, two are Americans. They are Mrs. Werner Bauer, of Placentia, Calif., whose body was pulled from the family's apartment, and her daughter, Norene, who died Wednesday at the U.S. Naval Hospital at Port Lyautey.

Five Americans are listed as missing, and two of them are known to have registered at the Saada.

Federal Income Tax Short Form

The brand new short return Form 1040W provided for 1959 Federal income tax filing was explained today by James A. O'Hara District Director of Internal Revenue.

The tax official said the new two-page return form can be used by any individual whose income consisted of salary and wages, regardless of amount, and not more than $200 income from interest and dividends.

Husband and wife whose combined income meets these tests may file a joint return on Form 1040W, he said.

He added:

"The new two-page form is designed to allow taxpayers in the above income category the benefits of (1) 'head of household' or 'surviving spouse' status; (2) 'sick pay exclusion' (3) dividends received credit; (4) estimated tax payment credit, and (5) itemizing deductions for contributions, interest payments, medical expenses, and the like.

"Formerly, none of these benefits could be claimed without filing on the regular four-page Form 1040."

The Director said the simple card Form 1040A is still provided for taxpayers whose income is under $10,000,consisting entirely of salary or wages reported on Form W-2, and not more than $200 total of other wages, dividends and interest.

He said taxpayers with other wages, dividend and interest income in excess of $200, or with any other income such as capital gains, retirement income, rents, royalties, business or professional income, etc., must still file on regular Form 1040.

"If you have any questions about your Federal income tax return, telephone your local Internal Revenue office at Federal 1-4556," he advised.

Modena

Village Activities

MODENA—Local people are planning to attend the classic melodrama entitled "Pure As the Driven Snow," sponsored by the faculty members of the Wallkill Central School at the school auditorium Friday and Saturday 8 p. m.

Mrs. Mabeth Black and Mrs. Katherine Van Vliet, local teachers are members of the committee in charge of the performance.

Proceeds from the show will be for the Wallkill Central Teachers Association scholarship fund, which has benefited a number of local students in past years.

The Modena Unit of the Ulster County Home Extension Service will meet Tuesday, 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Alice Lofink, south of Modena village, Route 32.

Mrs. Eleanor Winters will be in charge of the foods project, dealing with casserole cooking.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Modena Methodist Church held its March meeting at the Methodist parsonage, with Mrs. George Johnson as hostess.

Plans were completed for the clam chowder sale to be held Friday, 3 p. m. at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall. Orders were taken previously.

The next meeting will be held 2 p. m. Thursday, April 7, at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Gruman, Clintondale Road.

The working project was completed at the Feb. 18 meeting at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, and the material prepared for woven rugs will be taken to a dealer, and the rugs sold at the annual church fair, to be held later in the season.

Engagement Told

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Jacqueline Harris, daughter of Mrs. Helen Fowler Harris of Campbell Hall, and the late Jack Harris, former residents of Modena, to Anthony A. DiMino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles DiMino, of Newburgh.

Miss Harris is a graduate of the Goshen Central High School, and employed by the Kemper Insurance Co., Newburgh.

Mr. DiMino attended the Walden High School, and is self employed.

Area Social Notes

Local members of the Plattekill Grange attended the card and game party held Saturday evening at the Grange Hall, under the auspices of the service and hospitality committee.

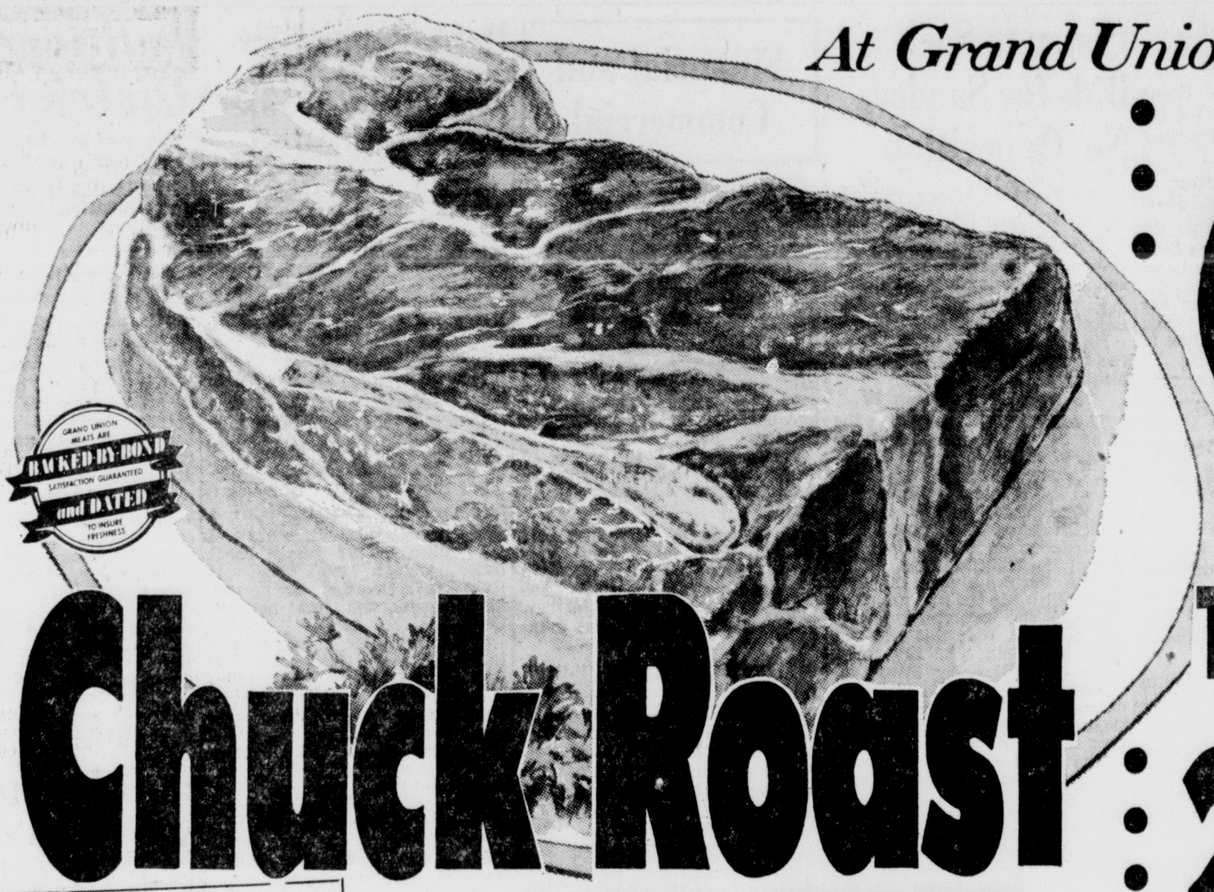

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McHugh Jr., and family of Weedsville were recent guests of relatives in Wallkill, and Mrs. McHugh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd B. Wells, in Modena.

Grand Union Sales At All-Time High

EAST PATERSON, N. J.—A new record high of $603,439,471 in sales was set by The Grand Union Company during its 52-week fiscal year ended February 27, 1960, it was announced today by Thomas C. Butler, President of the Eastern food chain. Sales for fiscal 1959 were 19.8% above the previous sales record of $503,712,887 set by the company during the 52-week 1958 fiscal year.

Marking the first time that sales of Grand Union, eighth largest food chain in the nation, had exceeded $600,000,000, the 1959 figures were the highest in the 88-year history of the company.

Sales for the final five weeks of the 1959 fiscal year, through February 27, totaled $54,224,494. This represented a decrease of 1.6% in comparison with sales of $55,103,872 in the corresponding period a year ago. The slight drop was due primarily to loss of sales from the company's 26 supermarkets in the Washington, D. C. area which were closed by a meat cutters strike from February 10 through February 16.

New Target Hour Set for Rescuers To Reach Miners

LOGAN, W.Va. (AP)—Mine officials today extended for a few hours more the target time when they expect to reach 18 men trapped four miles inside a fire-blocked coal mine.

Rescue crews had hoped to tear through the last barricade and reach the stranded men by mid-morning. But after that time had passed, word was issued that the time had been extended a few hours.

That has been the story since the 18 men were trapped behind a slate fall and smouldering fire last Tuesday morning in the Island Creek Coal Co's No. 22 Mine at nearby Holden.

The hours have turned into days.

There has been no contact with the 18 since noon Tuesday when the telephone connection with them went dead, apparently cut by the fire.

Temperatures weren't so cold at the scene Wednesday night. Unofficially the low was 19 degrees above zero, compared with 11 above the night before.

More than a foot of new snow from Wednesday's near-blizzard blanketed the grimy mine buildings, one of which bore a red neon sign with the words, "Be careful."

The snow subsided to flurries during the morning, but leaden skies held promise of more.

The mine officials said the stubborn fire which has held the men trapped is practically under control and they expect rescuers to move on "as rapidly as possible."

Soviets Sport GI Haircuts, Smiles Following Rescue

HONOLULU (AP) — Four Soviets, long-haired when rescued after drifting 49 days in the Pacific and almost starving to death, are sporting American-style crew cuts today—and happy smiles.

The U.S. Aircraft Carrier Kearsarge picked up the famished men Sunday from their 50-foot landing craft which had drifted 1,000 stormy miles into the Pacific from Etorofu-To Island in the Kuriles.

They had only some vodka, their canteens, three cans of beef and a loaf of bread during their ordeal, plus what rain water they could gather. They ate shoe leather in their hunger, they said. Each lost from 35 to 40 pounds.

After a breakfast of pancakes and milk Wednesday, one of the men, Pvt. Anatolie Feodorovich Kruchkowski, 20, demonstrated how much weight he had lost. He had to shorten his uniform belt eight inches to fit.

The Soviet government has been notified of the rescue. The Kearsarge is carrying them to San Francisco and is expected to reach there about March 15.

Ends Court Appeals

Even as the Senate committee debated the death penalty question, the California Supreme Court Wednesday turned down Chessman's latest petition. This one challenged legality of his new May 2 execution date.

A. L. Wirin, one of his attorneys, told newsmen here the decision ended Chessman's court appeals.

"Chessman's fate is now entirely in the hands of the governor unless the Legislature takes favorable action," he said.

Brown, after giving Chessman a 60-day reprieve Feb. 19, said he would let him die if the state's lawmakers rejected his plea to abolish capital punishment.

The 38-year-old prisoner was convicted in 1948 on charges of kidnap-robbery which involved forcing two young women to perform an unnatural sex act.

Speak Seven Hours

The Senate committee listened to proponents of repeal for seven hours. It wasn't until 8:30 p.m. that opponents—chiefly law enforcement officers—stepped up to the witness stand in the theater-type hearing room.

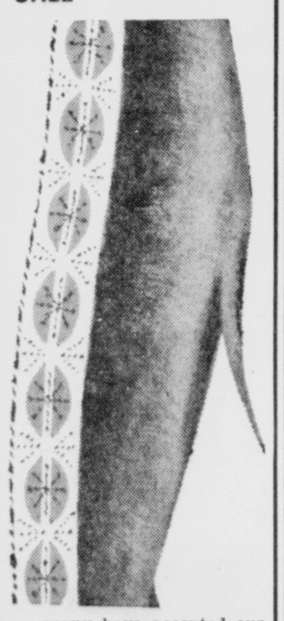

Witnesses supporting the bill hit two main themes: That capital punishment does not deter crime; That it is "barbaric" and "brutalizes society."

All but one of the opposition witnesses argued that the death penalty is a greater deterrent than any other form of punishment.

The exception was Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson of Ventura County, who said that the death penalty is no greater deterrent than life imprisonment.

Combses to Keep millions and millions of pictures?"

"Because you're such a pretty girl."

And that seemed explanation enough, at least in her waking life. Since Sunday night, when the telephone calls started from as far away as California and Canada, Alice has been flying high.

In the excitement, she seldom lights anywhere. She poses for photographers, fitfully answers questions, shows off with wild leaps onto a chair or a bed or into the arms of a reporter.

"Alice, what do you want to be when you grow up?"

"I want to be a mommy."

Combses to Keep

"Oh, I like 'Captain Jet' and 'Lone Ranger' and 'Sky King' and 'Mighy Mouse' and ....

And off she goes, leaping onto another chair.

The television set and the small new book case loom large in the small parlor of the Combs ranch house.

"The state practically classifies us as TV morons," says Dick Combs, bitterness clouding his youthful red face. "We don't watch it all the time, maybe two hours a night, three or four times a week. So I like 'Paladin' and 'Gunsmoke' and the sports events, am I supposed to be ashamed of that?"

No Books Was Complaint

In the opposite corner of the living room stood a small bookcase, only a year old. About a year ago, a social worker complained there were no books in the house, that a child as gifted as Alice needed something more than television.

Today, the bookcase has a strange variety of books—several on child care, a set of an encyclopedia, several children's books, two or three novels and such unexpected nonfiction titles as "How We drafted Adlai Stevenson"; "International Atomic Policy"; "Brazil—a Study in Interamerican Relations"; "Mind, School and Civilization" and "Why Stop Smoking?" (neither of the Combses smoke).

Will Fight For Alice

After a painful pause, Dick Combs said he had read few of the books. He said they were bought or given to them by friends only for the effect it might have on the social worker.

"The books," he said, "were the only front we put on. Otherwise, we've been ourselves. If the state doesn't like the way we live, that's too bad. We'll go on fighting for Alice for the simple reason that we love her and she loves us. Is there a better reason?"

All three defendants moved for inspection of the grand jury minutes and the Appellate Division last December granted that application.

Ask More Data

Copies of the grand jury minutes were supplied pursuant to that order by Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins. Two of the defendants, Walter Truck and Rand MacMurray, are now moving before the Appellate Division, asking for additional information. They seek to ascertain whether all of the grand jury minutes in regard to those cases have been supplied. They will ask Monday that the prosecution be compelled to furnish any additional record which may relate to the cases, if there is any portion of the record which has not been supplied.

Bareika is not joining in the motion made by the other two defendants.

An application for dismissal on the merits of the conspiracy indictment against all three parties will be heard on March 21 by the Appellate Division.

Hope Is Actor Strike Will Be Over Soon

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hopes are rising for a happy—and quick—ending to the Hollywood actors' strike.

Both sides will get together at the bargaining table Friday afternoon. It will be the first time the actors and the major studios have met since the Screen Actors Guild called the strike Monday.

The guild's 14,000 members are demanding a share in the profits from the sale of post-1948 films to TV.

3 Face Charges In Poughkeepsie, 1st Report False

Three men were in custody at Poughkeepsie today as the result of a continued investigation by police of a report that a bartender had been forced into his room, assaulted and robbed early Wednesday.

Police Chief John L. Martin told The Freeman the investigation by Detective Sergeant James Murphy and Detectives Jack Benton and Dominic Frisone disclosed the original report of a holdup and assault was false.

Charged With Perjury

James Horace Route, 34, a bartender at the Twentieth Century tavern, 211 Main Street, was arrested on charges of second degree perjury. He had made the original complaint to Detectives Jack Brophy and Robert Schuyler and Patrolman William Riley that two men forced him into his room at 150 Church Street and assaulted and robbed him of $11.

Held in $1,000 cash bail on charges of petty larceny and third degree assault are Hector Rodriguez, 21 a Bronx clerk, and Pedro Ramos, 25, a porter, of New York City. The trio appeared today before City Judge Charles O'Donnell, who adjourned the case until Friday at 9 a.m.

Accused of Assault

Rodriguez and Ramos are accused of assaulting Route and stealing a record player from his room.

Chief Martin said Route told authorities early Wednesday that he was forced into his room where he was beaten into unconsciousness and robbed of $11 by two men. He said he regained consciousness and found the door leading into a hallway was locked from the outside.

Route told police he scribbled a note and poked it under the door and then banged on the door to attract attention. A woman who lives in the rooming house picked up the note and later removed the hinges from the door to free Route. The bartender later was treated at Vassar Hospital for stomach pains, a swelling near the right eye and a possible fracture of the jaw.

Talk to Cab Driver

Sergeant Murphy and Detectives Benton and Frisome continued the investigation through the day. They learned from a taxicab driver that he drove Route and two men to the Church Street rooming house. An argument ensued and a fight developed, during which Route was injured.

Chief Martin said investigation showed that Route gave the men $11 before the rumpus started. The three men had drank whiskey after arriving at Route's room, police said. When Ramos and Rodriguez left, authorities said, they took a record player.

Police said Route perjured a statement to police when first questioned.

Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BERLIN, Conn. (AP)—Howard M. Freer, 55, water color artist and author of a book on painting, died Wednesday. He was born in Jackson, Miss.

Moscow (AP) — The death of Maj. Gen. Ivan Platonovich Grace, 86, one of the Soviet Union's leading artillery specialists, was announced Wednesday.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Daniel F. X. Hart, 59, a Jesuit priest associated with St. Peter's Institute of Industrial Relations in Jersey City, N.J., died Wednesday after an operation.

Ulster to Seek Bids for Sander, No Opposition

The Town of Ulster will advertise for bids for purchase of a new sanding machine for its highway department, it was announced following a public hearing Wednesday night at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall.

No opposition to purchase of the equipment was voiced at the meeting.

To Be Opened March 23

The bids will be opened in the office of the town clerk at 3 p.m. Wednesday, March 23.

A communication was received by the board requesting the township to accept the cost of lighting the circle now under construction on Route 28 at the exit of the Kingston interchange of the Thruway, and the responsibility for its maintenance.

It was the consensus of feeling, however, that this was not the responsibility of the town. Supervisor Alexander Banyo directed that a letter be dispatched to the State Highway Department indicating the feelings of the board.

The board approved a recommendation by the engineering firm of J. Kenneth Fraser to advertise for bids for the painting of the pumphouse, interior and tanks, of the Ulster Water District. The expense of this project will be borne by the water district.

Bids will be accepted by the town clerk and opened at 3:15 p. m. Wednesday, March 23.

To Discuss Districts

Banyo reported that the committee appointed to study the reconstruction of voting districts in the township will meet with the board of elections to discuss the problem.

Consideration will reportedly be given to the equalization of the five voting districts in order to eliminate congestion at the polls.

District No. 2 in Lake Katrine had a total of 1,098 votes cast in the last election and District No. 5 a total of 1,118 votes. These two districts may be redistricted in order to reduce congestion.

Banyo said the annual report had been submitted to the state comptroller's office.

Coles Is Appointed

The board appointed Raymond Coles of Flower Hill to fill the unexpired term of Ronald Herrick of the town planning board.

Coles, a resident of the township for the past 18 years, said he would work for the growth and progress of the town. He has been prominent in civic activities.

The board took cognizance of an application from the Emma Wygant School Parent Club to hold a bingo game at the Saint Liberata Hall for the purpose of raising funds for educational trips for children of the school.

Tribunal Rejects BB's Demand to Remove Poster

PARIS (AP)—The Seine Tribunal today turned down Brigitte Bardot's demand that the Charrier Bottled Water Co. rip down big advertising posters which pose the question, "Does baby like Charrier?"

Brigitte argued that the slogan suggests all is not well between her and her husband Jacques Charrier. In French the word for baby is pronounced like the letters BB, which every Bardot fan knows stands for Brigitte Bardot.

The tribunal said there is no urgency to get the posters down because the Charrier company has added a picture of a plump little baby and a bottle of water to its advertisements. The tribunal added there is no reason to think the slogan refers to Brigitte and Charrier.

Brigitte and her husband reserved the right to file a damage suit in civil court against the water company.

WALT DISNEY'S True Life Adventures

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved ahead today under leadership of electronics and aircraft-missile issues.

Steels and motors, which had been in the forefront of Wednesday's rousing rally, lagged. They showed a mixture of small gains and losses.

Rails and chemicals were up. Oils recorded relatively modest gains. Trading went along at a good pace although the ticker ran late only briefly shortly after the opening.

Boeing ran ahead nearly 2 points while General Dynamics and Douglas advanced major fractions.

Deny Sugar Law Changes Would Be Castro Reprisal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-NC) said today the administration apparently plans to ask for a new sugar law which he said could be a "weapon of reprisal" against Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Administration sources confirmed that some changes which Cooley opposes are included in a bill they intend to submit next week to the House Agriculture Committee, which Cooley heads.

But they denied the administration measure is designed as a club against Cuba, which reaps a 150 million dollars yearly bonus under present law. They said their bill is merited for agricultural reasons, and would not hurt Cuba.

Sugar legislation is an especially hot issue this year because of Castro's attacks on the United States and seizure of American-owned property in Cuba. Some Congressmen see the sugar bill as a golden chance to hit back at Castro. President Eisenhower has declared against retaliation.

Cooley spoke to a newsman after conferring late Wednesday with Under Secretary of Agriculture True D. Morse and other officials on administration plans.

The present law expires at the end of this year.

The basic aim of the sugar law, first passed early in the New Deal, is to protect the U.S. sugar industry from violent ups and downs. Quotas prevent an oversupply of sugar in the United States, and prices far above the world market rate are paid for imported sugar to keep it from undercutting domestic growers. Cuba sells about half her annual six-million-ton production of sugar to the United States.

The quota change under the administration plan was said to call for a shift of 200,000 tons from Cuba's quota to that given U.S. mainland growers. Cuba in turn would get 200,000 tons of Puerto Rico's quota, if Puerto Rico fails to fill its quota as it has in the past.

Cooley said this change would give an "uncertain" 200,000 tons to Cuba in place of a sure 200,000. Administration officials said Puerto Rico was certain to fall short, and eastern U.S. refineries wanted a surer source of supply.

Petitions Ask New Water District in 2 Townships

Petitions are being circulated in the towns of Wawarsing and Rochester for creation of a new water district, it was learned today.

Circulation of the petitions, a project of the Kerhonkson Lions Club, is in progress among residents of the proposed district.

If the petitions obtain the required signatures (signers worth 50 per cent of the assessed value of property in the district) the petitions will be presented to the Wawarsing and Rochester town boards, requesting that the district be laid out.

Would Hold Hearings

Public hearings would then be scheduled by the town boards with the issue going, finally, to a referendum of residents of the proposed district.

Roland Riegel, principal of Kerhonkson High School and president of the Kerhonkson Lions Club, said today that the petitions are to take over the present water district, the Kerhonkson Water Co., a privately owned corporation with Maynard DeWitt as president, improve and expand it.

A legal petition was prepared by Thomas Plunket of Stone Ridge.

Riegel said that the present water district needs improvements in both "quantity and quality" and should be extended to other areas not at present being serviced.

Willing to Sell

He said that DeWitt has indicated a willingness to negotiate the sale of the present water company.

Riegel said that a Lions Club committee headed by A. J. Anderson, president of the Kerhonkson National Bank, should receive credit for its excellent work on the water project.

Democrats Still Busy With Talks In Dairy State

LACROSSE, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin campaign trail continued to be a well-beaten path today for Democratic candidates for the presidential nomination and their supporters.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) left the state at midnight to return to Washington but left his wife, Jackie, and brother, Ted, to speak for him.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), Kennedy's opponent in the April 5 Wisconsin presidential primary, prepared to fly to this state for another extensive speaking engagement.

Both hope to get the 31 votes that will be cast by Wisconsin delegates to the National Democratic Convention this summer.

Kennedy wound up a busy day in Wisconsin with a speech before about 2,500 enthusiastic supporters here Wednesday night with a declaration that the "Democrats can do the job that must be done" better than the Republicans.

Humphrey plans to attend meetings Saturday in southeastern Wisconsin and on Sunday will speak at Rhinelander. Monday and Tuesday were set aside for campaigning in Milwaukee and southeastern Wisconsin areas.

Tanker Sails Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The SS Angelo Petri, almost wrecked a month ago by a Pacific gale, headed back to sea today.

The world's largest wine tanker carried its full cargo—almost two million gallons of wine, vegetable oil, and fuel.

The 21,700-ton vessel was almost beached off San Francisco last month when a storm with huge waves washed out its electrical system and tore away the rudder.

But four tugs and a Coast Guard cutter worked for 46 hours to bring the Petri back into port for repairs.

Johnson, Owner

the financially ailing Philadelphia Athletics from Connie Mack and his associates five years ago, was active in the management of the club.

Trades Were Criticized

His many player trades, particularly with the New York Yankees, made him a controversial figure in the American League.

To such criticism, Johnson replied:

"We started with a second division baseball club and little in the way of a farm system to develop our players. We can't stand still. We have to try to improve our baseball club and sometimes we may make mistakes. But no one can say we haven't tried."

Johnson had numerous business interests. He was president of Arnold Johnson Corp., chairman of the board of five companies and a member of the board of directors of 15 or 20 others.

Horn Attracted Help

Despite his great business interests, he spent much of his time during the season with his club in Kansas City, on the road, and during spring training.

Apparently he was in good health before collapsing Wednesday. His associates said he appeared in good spirits.

Surviving besides the widow and brother are a daughter, Wendy Alexis Johnson, and a son, Jeffrey Johnson of Chicago.

Health Engineer Completes Study Of Air Pollution

Fred C. Wadnola, 5 Elm Street, Forest Glen Park, Kingston, junior public health engineer or the Ulster County Department of Health, recently completed a course in principles of combustion as related to air pollution.

The course was given in Albany from Feb. 15 to 19 by the State health department in cooperation with the State Air Pollution Control board, of which Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, State health commissioner, is chairman. Another section of the course was given in Buffalo in January.

Course material demonstrated how effective air pollution control is achieved and how important economics are made by efficient use of fuels. Lectures also covered combustion theory, characteristics and utilization of fuels, operation of combustion equipment, incineration and control equipment and methods of determining air contaminant concentrations.

Some 45 persons active in air pollution control or public health work attended the courses. The roster of guest lecturers included a professor of occupational medicine, a Federal government researcher, State officials and representatives of fuel associations.

The two courses are the last to be given this year on combustion. They were arranged by Charles S. Maneri, health department air pollution control section chief, and Alexander Rihm, Jr., the board's executive secretary.

Dutchess Judge Denies Plea of Convicted Man

Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz has denied an appeal by a 54-year-old former Poughkeepsie resident, seeking to have a first degree robbery conviction set aside on the grounds the indictment on which he was tried did not specify the provisions of law under which it was obtained .

Joseph L. Breen is serving a 35 to 70 year prison term imposed Dec. 15, 1936, by the late County Judge J. Gordon Flannery. Breen was accused of participating in the robbery of Arthur T. Conway, a Poughkeepsie taxicab driver, who was bound with adhesive tape and taken to Hudson, where he was robbed.

New State Guide Features Sector

Worldwide publicity will be given the Catskills with the distribution of the 1960 edition of "New York State Vacationlands," the award-winning tourist guidebook issued by the State Commerce Department.

Dressed in a striking cover, with new color photographs and revised text, the 192-page guide is the most complete and up-to-date offered by any state. It divides New York into 16 vacation regions — including the Catskill area — and describes more than 460 attractions and 500 communities providing tourist accommodations.

In addition to its wide distribution in the United States and Canada, the book will be available throughout the world as part of the "Travel U. S. A." program, endorsed by President Eisenhower.

Scores of area chambers of commerce, attraction operators, resort owners, service clubs, civic associations and committees cooperated in compiling the mass of details. Contacts with over 1,200 individuals and organizations throughout the state were necessary during the production of the guidebook.

Free copies may be obtained by writing the State Department of Commerce, Box 1350, Albany, N. Y.

Officer Didn't Need Sign Language for Him

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)— The two jail inmates had been conversing in sign language for several days.

Officer Wilbert Anderson began questioning one of the unidentified men by writing questions on paper. And the man wrote his answers.

For some reason, Anderson said he wrote:

"Are you deaf?"

The man shook his head.

"Well, what is your condition?" said Anderson.

"I can talk," the man said audibly. "I thought you were deaf."

The speaking inmate said he used sign language because his companion was deaf.

Dressmaker Is Busy

LONDO N(AP) — The busiest man in Britain today probably was royal dressmaker Norman Hartnell, hard at work on designs for Princess Margaret's wedding dress and those of her brides maids.

Hartnell, a long-time favorite with the royal family, was asked to submit six designs for Margaret's bridal gown and six more for her bridesmaids. The designer said he would have all 12 ready by Friday night.

Hawk Missiles for Okies

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—Deadly army Hawk missiles soon will complement Nike-Hercules missiles in the antiaircraft defense of this big U.S. Pacific base. Lt. Gen. Donald B. Booth, who announced the new installations today, said the combination guided missile system "provides the most effective defense against hostile aircraft that exists in the world today."

Reds Play Up CR

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist Party newspaper Pravda today devoted more than a column to the U.S. Senate filibuster on the civil rights issue and comments on wrongs allegedly inflicted on Negroes in the United States. The story was accompanied by a photograph of Felton Turner, the Negro youth who said he was seized by white men in Houston, Tex., and branded with KKK scars.

Business Assn. Will Hear Speaker on Investment Plans

ROBERT BARON

Robert Baron, resident manager of Lubetkin, Regan and Kennedy, will present a movie and discussion of investment principles at the next general meeting of the Central Businessmen's Association Tuesday, March 15, at 7:30 p. m. at the Crystal Gardens, it was announced today by Tom Reynolds, program chairman.

Baron is the founder and chairman of the New York Council for the National Association of Investment Clubs. He is a member of the Masons and the Lions, and is an accredited speaker for the New York Stock Exchange.

Plans for the forthcoming pre-Easter promotion will be discussed and final plans for the annual banquet set for April 25 will be announced. Committee reports will be made and since this is the last business meeting before the banquet, special committee assignments will be made at this time.

After the excellent attendance and interest shown at the last program meeting, it has been decided to continue with a year-round series to better acquaint the membership in merchandising methods, legislative problems, and promotional techniques; and to offer a service to answer either general or individual problems and to take collective action where requested.

The legislative committee and the parking and traffic committee are examples of agencies designed to deal collectively with general problems.

Ladies and prospective members are invited. Each member is expected to bring a guest prospect as part of the membership campaign.

Chances of Park Site at Sampson Appear Brighter

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York State's chances for taking over most of Sampson Air Force Base for a park appeared brighter today.

A General Services Administration spokesman said Wednesday that in view of the low bids received for the property, the park application probably will be given much closer consideration than had the bids been higher.

Little Interest

Rep. John Taber (R-NY), a supporter of turning the base in Central New York into an industrial site, said "it is apparent from the bids submitted that there is not sufficient interest on the part of industry to move in there."

The GSA said the high bid for the entire base was only $361,110 by the Heuvelton Trucking Corp. of Elmira.

Taber claims the property is worth over one million dollars.

"I am disappointed that better bids were not received and I feel that it is up now to General Services Administration to get rid of the property on what it deems to be the best interests of the people and the government," Taber said in a statement.

The New York State Council of Parks had applied to GSA to buy 1,292 acres. The Interior Department reported that acreage was suitable for a park.

Disposal of the property, 1,937 acres and 583 buildings declared surplus by the government, was held up for more than a year by the squabble over park lands. The state reduced its request to 1,030 acres after interests in the area contended some of the land the state sought should be available for industry.

Taber Holds to Stand

Taber said he still believes the base is an excellent site for an industrial center badly needed by the Geneva area.

The veteran congressman said he was urged by businessmen in the area, private citizens and the boards of supervisors of Seneca Falls and Romulus "to do everything humanly possible to interest industry in the site."

The state did not bid on the land. It can negotiate with the GSA for any land it wants for a park.

The GSA also said a new round of bidding is possible if the 30 bids are rejected.

Why is a one-armed bartender better for pouring beer?

Answer: Because he couldn't make the mistake of holding the glass at an angle and sliding the beer down the side of the glass.

A one-armed bartender would have to set the glass down and pour the beer straight down the middle. This is the proper way to pour beer—so that it hits the bottom of the glass with a whack and explodes into a nice head.

Not only does this give you an appetizing-looking glass of beer, but it has a great deal to do with the way the beer is going to taste.

As a matter of fact, two glasses of beer out of the same bottle can taste as different as night and day, depending on the way they've been poured.

Try it yourself. Open a bottle of Utica Club beer. Pour one glass straight down the middle, with a thick head; the other down the side of the glass, with little or no head. Taste them both (with a soda cracker in between). You'll be amazed at how much more mellow the beer with the head tastes. No bitterness. Very much like a glass of draft beer that's been properly drawn.

Creating a beer with a thick, creamy head — this is something that a brewmaster takes great personal pride in. Especially if it's a natural head, like Utica Club's, not one that's artificially carbonated. We go to a lot of expense to get that natural head, aging the beer for months instead of for weeks.

So you can understand why it breaks our hearts to see someone pouring Utica Club on an angle to cut down the head!

Here are some more tips for the beer connoisseur:

1. Hold the bottle in a horizontal position, two or three inches above the glass, and pour so that the beer comes through the neck without chugging.
2. If you drink your beer from cans, try punching one hole instead of two; you'll get a beautiful head.
3. Yes, it's true that a wet glass will give you a better head than a dry glass.
4. A pilsener-type glass (or any glass that is narrower at the bottom than at the top) is better for beer because it keeps the head together longer while you drink.
5. Be sure the glass is beer-clean. (Beer glasses should be washed with a detergent, rinsed thoroughly, and allowed to air-dry. Don't use a dish towel; it may leave a film.)
6. Never use a beer glass for junior's milk. Milk leaves a stubborn trace of butterfat which is sudden death on both the head and the taste of a glass of beer.

Try these suggestions out on your next bottle of beer, and see if you don't enjoy it even more. The West End Brewing Company of Utica, N. Y. Brewers of Utica Club (Schultz & Dooley's beer).

His Dream Train Takes to the Rails---

Feller's got to be ready when he's called for a run. Ned Moran, 9, parks spanking-new jeans and an engineer's cap beside his bed in Charlottesville, Va., anticipating a promised ride in the cab of a diesel locomotive pulling a hot-shot passenger train.

Almost time for dreams to come true. Counting the minutes with Ned before it's time to highball is engineer J. M. Moore. He'll "help" Ned wheel the Newport News, Va., section of the railroad's C&O Chicago-Washington "George Washington."

Seat in small-boy's heaven puts Ned on the right-hand side as the train pulls out. His route will take him over part of the old right-of-way of the James River (Canal) Company, predecessor of the present railroad, founded by George Washington in 1785.

Seneca Leader Is Pressing Drive to Stop Control Dam

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—The president of the Seneca Indian Nation took his campaign against the Kinzua Flood Control Dam before the Society of Friends today.

The Senecas say the proposed Kinzua Dam on the Allegheny River would flood 9,000 acres of the best land of their reservation in Southwestern New York.

Heron said both the Society of Friends and the American Civil Liberties Union had expressed sympathy for the Seneca position. He also intends to visit the Civil Liberties Union in New York City.

Heron is seeking support for a new and independent survey to determine whether an alternate proposal to Kinzua Dam would be a better solution for flood control in Northwestern Pennsylvania and Western New York.

The 113-million-dollar dam long has been advocated by Army Engineers as the most feasible and economical way of handling the problem. Congress will hold hearings next month on a 41½ million dollar appropriation recommended for the dam in the year that begins July 1. No work has been started on the dam.

The Senecas' consulting engineer, Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, maintains a Conewango Valley Plan would cost less and do the job better. Morgan, former head of the Tennessee Valley Authority, said the plan would divert Allegheny flood waters into Lake Erie or back into the river at a point farther south.

Heron said he had been assured by Sens. Kenneth B. Keating and Jacob K. Javits, New York Republicans, that they were interested in the Seneca's fight.

Electric Claims 686 Lives Since 1890

Albany Flooded Again With Bills Dealing With Capital Punishment

By LOUIS de LA HARA
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — "The sentence of this court is that you be delivered to the warden of Sing Sing Prison at Ossining, N. Y., and . .. be put to death in the manner prescribed by law."

With these, or similar words, the people of the State of New York, through their courts, have sent 686 persons to die in the electric chair since 1890.

Justified punishment for the crime of murder?

A deterrent to crime and prospective criminals?

A Yearly Fight

Through the years, a small but vocal group has waged a fight against capital punishment in New York State, one of 42 states which impose the death penalty for first-degree murder.

This year, no less than nine bills dealing with capital punishment were introduced in the Legislature, two in the Senate and seven in the Assembly.

All but one seek either to abolish capital punishment entirely or to limit its application. One bill, for example, would make it mandatory, instead of permissive, for a judge to follow a jury's recommendation of mercy in cases of felony-murder.

The Assembly temporarily voted down this measure, 70-64, Wednesday. But Assemblyman Edward S. Lentol (D-Brooklyn), who sponsored the measure, said he would bring it to another vote before the end of the legislative session.

The ninth bill would establish a commission to study capital punishment as a deterrent to crime.

Chances Are Slim

But Assemblyman William Kapelman (D-New York City), a leader in the battle against capital punishment, says that, except for the Lentol bill and the bill to establish a study commission, there is little chance that any of the others will reach the floor of either house.

Those who object to capital punishment meet little overt opposition in return. Few people speak for it. The bills are killed by inaction. They die in committee.

As Kapelman sees it, legislators are too interested in "prime" issues—education, the budget, dollars-and-cents measures—and too little in low-priority matters such as capital punishment.

Those who argue for capital punishment say a person planning to kill may be deterred by the threat of losing his own life. They say also that the electric chair is the only way to protect society from the "hardened" criminal who has no respect for human life.

Say Result Cheapening

In opposition, it is argued that homicide has not increased in states that have abolished the death penalty. From this, it is concluded that capital punishment is not an effective deterrent.

And because of the irrevocable nature of the death penalty, it is said, a miscarriage of justice cannot be righted.

Kapelman puts it this way:

"By sentencing a man to death, the state is doing the very thing it is punishing a man for doing. The result is a cheapening of human life."

"Capital punishment," Kapelman also says, "contradicts present correction practices, which stress rehabilitation rather than punishment of criminals."

The bill providing for a commission to study capital punishment would appropriate $50,000 and establish a 10-member body composed of three senators, three assemblymen, the attorney general, the correction commissioner and two appointees of the governor.

Hopeful of Approval

The commission would hold public hearings and report its findings to the Legislature.

Kapelman, who introduced the measure, is hopeful it may gain legislative approval during the current session.

Gov. Rockefeller himself has taken a neutral position on capital punishment. He told a meeting last month of the State Council of Churches in response to questions:

"Capital punishment is one of the laws of the state. I took an oath of office to uphold the laws. It is up to others to change the laws and I will abide by any changes that are made."

The State Council of Churches, a Protestant organization, has been traditionally opposed to capital punishment.

Legislative apathy to the issue is due in large part to public apathy," Kapelman maintains.

Occasionally a man goes to his death, or is sentenced to death, amidst cries of public horror. More often, an execution passes almost unnoticed.

With the publicity attendant on the proceedings of a state commission, those who oppose capital punishment hope to establish a greater public awareness of the issues involved and to gain support for their bills, both from the public and from fellow legislators.

Purpose of TB Hospital Told To Rotary Club

It has been my good fortune to see tuberculosis, one of the all-time scourges of mankind, wounded and almost vanquished, Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, medical director of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, declared before the Kingston Rotary Club Wednesday.

"The great White Plague" as it was known had reached into the homes of almost every family only two or three generations ago, he said, and it is only in the past 10 years that the TB physician has been able to glory in the feeling that he has the means at hand to control the disease.

Dr. Schwartz said that when he first entered the field of TB the outlook for a "new" patient was quite gloomy. Many times he saw a young housewife or a teen-age boy enter the hospital with a mild or moderate amount of disease and in spite of all our efforts continue to deteriorate and die. Of those who did get well, after two to three years of sanatorium care, 30 per cent or more would be returning to the hospital within five years with more disease and a more serious prognosis. Although most authorities today feel that the average patient needs 6 to 12 months of sanatorium care, it is often difficult to keep a patient in the hospital for the six-months' minimum.

In times past patients often had complications such as TB larynx, a painful and miserable situation or TB enteritis. The patient would practically "fade away" before our eyes despite our efforts. Last week Dr. Schwartz said he saw the first TB larynx that has entered the hospital here in six or seven years and within a week the patient was able to talk, swallow and smile.

Three Chest Clinics

The purpose of the Ulster County TB Hospital on Golden Hill, he declared, is to find and treat tuberculosis in Ulster County. To find the disease there are three chest clinics at the hospital each week and occasional clinics out in the county. Chest X-ray surveys conducted jointly by the State and County Health Departments and the TB and Health Association help to uncover other unknown cases. A third source of "pay dirt" is the routine chest X-ray which is made on adult patients admitted to our general hospitals. Ulster County, he noted, is one of the few counties in which all of the general hospitals, including Ellenville, maintain and admission X-ray service.

Continuing he said that at times the hospital is confronted with a patient who has something in his chest X-ray which is obviously not tuberculosis. Special studies are done and these people either in clinic when feasible or as in-patient when that is deemed necessary.

The director related some "case histories" which shed light on the work being done at Golden Hill.

Concluding his remarks, Dr. Schwartz stated that TB occurs in people so we cannot treat the disease and forget the person. This means that other medical and dental conditions requiring correction must not be overlooked. Children of school age are provided with tutors by the Board of Education in order to keep up with their classmates. Older individuals are encouraged to use the occupational therapy shop, which is directed by an eager dedicated individual. Volunteers provide entertainment movies, plays, games and even demonstrations in square dancing. Many organizations cooperate in this endeavor and even supply refreshments to make the occasion more festive.

Strike Still On Between Steel Union, Carrier Co.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Carrier Corp. and striking United Steelworkers Union, after no progress during two days of talks, will resume negotiations next week.

A federal mediator issued the no-progress report last night. He said negotiations were adjourned for one week.

The steelworkers, negotiating their first contract with the air-conditioning manufacturer, struck last Wednesday when Carrier disciplined five union officials.

Carrier has said the five were encouraging employes to refuse necessary overtime work.

The union turned down a list of 60 employes Carrier wanted to return to work on air-conditioning equipment for Navy Polaris missile-firing submarines.

The union said it would allow only members of the union to pass the picket line for the project and demanded that Carrier rescind the disciplinary action against the union officials.

Carrier said calling only steelworkers would be discriminatory and suggested that the disciplinary action be taken up as a grievance after the strikers returned to work.

The 3,070 hourly workers represented by the steelworkers have been idled by the strike. More than 2,300 non-union, salaried employes, however, have been allowed to pass picket lines. Production is halted at Carrier's two plants.

Onteora P-TA Sets Program With Exceptional Children

The Onteora P-TA and the local health services are cooperating in presenting a program devoted to the Exceptional Child at its monthly meeting on Tuesday, March 15, at the Boiceville school, at 8 p. m. in the high school library.

The speakers will include: George Fernandez, Curriculum Co-ordinator of the Classes for the Retarded, Ulster County Board of Cooperative Services; Mrs. Carolyn Smith, psychiatric social worker with the Ulster County Health Center; and John Ascarino, teacher of the 6th grade advanced group at the George Washington School.

The program was organized by Mrs. Donovan Buehring, P-TA District Chairman, Exceptional Child Program, at the request of Mrs. Manuel Bromberg, P-TA program chairman and Advisory Board Member of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children.

Many years ago at a conference on Child Health and Protection held at the White House, the pledge was made that every child regardless of race, color, or situation was entitled to the security and training he needs to become an asset to society. And, further, that schools have certain responsibilities under the law for health services to children, including the physically handicapped, retarded, or gifted (all of these being classified as "exceptional children"). In addition to this, the Social Welfare and Mental Health Departments and the Youth Commission also have legal responsibilities for health services to the school age child.

All parents and guests are cordially invited to participate in the program and the question and answer period which follows.

Shekitka Camp Lists Expansion For 1960 Season

Andrew Shekitka, a member of the physical education department in the Onteora Central Schools District, has announced plans for expanded facilities at Camp Mountain Pals this season.

The co-educational camp for those between the ages of 6 and 16 is located in the town of Woodstock and borders the little Beaverkill Creek, a tributary of the famous trout stream, the Esopus Creek.

The owner-director Andrew "Ski" Shekitka became interested in camping in 1948, while attending with his wife Lauretta Shoffner Shekitka at Syracuse University. Here he received his BS degree in Physical Education and a MS (Ed.) degree in Recreation with major emphasis on camping.

Shekitka has a background of experience including 10 years of coaching and teaching (mathematics, science and physical education) and varied summer experience in camp and recreation work.

Phys Ed. Teacher

For the past seven years, Shekitka has taught physical education and coached various sports and has been director of an active Outing Club at the Onteora Central School. His wife, the mother of four healthy girls, studied at State University College at New Paltz and has camped extensively in many parts of the United States.

At Camp Mountain Pals, campers will be given the opportunity to use camp facilities as a base where they can learn, under adult leadership, the skills, techniques and acquire attitudes that will enable them to select, plan, and execute the joys of camping.

The camp fee is all-inclusive. the fee in part includes health and accident insurance, balanced diet, comfortable quarters, nurse on premises and doctor in attendance, trout fishing, nine buildings, laundry, riding, riflery, stationery and the like.

H. Schimmerling Hails Opening Of Music Class

The following is the first in a series of weekly comments on educational topics by Prof. H. A. Schimmerling, a member of the music department of the Onteora Central Schools District and outpsoken student of educational topics.

"Finally, we got those additional 45 minutes of music, once a week for the 4th, 5th and 6th grade volunteers at the Woodstock school. We got it despite the lack of interest of some people concerned. It was, however, encouraging to see how the parents of the selected students reacted. They gave up the comfort of having their children brought to their doorsteps; it was encouraging to see how others, even students from other schools, asked whether they could join.

"It was encouraging to see how a parents committee and the principal, Walter S. Van Wagenen, supported the idea. Of course, there were also some discouraging moments; the negative response from the side of some parents; but this was a negligible minority. After all, fate seems to be just and, eventually, everybody gets what he deserves.

Much Talking

"There was never so much talking and writing about education than here in our country since the days of the sputnik. But what was done? I hope that the above mentioned example of volunteering after school (teaching and learning) will be picked up by other schools. I also am eagerly awaiting that some other person will say, 'I am willing to teach a foreign language once a week after school for the sake of children who are interested and whose parents will take care of the home transportation.'

"I would like to do this myself; but why shouldn't there be at least one more person in this community who would like to sacrifice 45 minutes a week? And don't say, 'Let's wait until next fall.' We have waited long enough. Start right now. Wake up. Don't rely upon educational organizations, administrations, regulations and other 'ations.' What we need is good will and courage, more work instead of more comfort only, self-sacrifice and broadmindedness. Au revoir until next week. . . . H. A. Schimmerling."

Travelling Gavel Arrives At Bearsville IOOF Meeting

Members of Bearsville Lodge, No. 533, IOOF, will attend midweek Lenten Services next Wednesday, March 16, at the Reformed Church in Woodstock, according to an announcement made today by Noble Grand George Eichler. He requests all members of the lodge to meet outside the Reformed Church at 7:45 p. m. and attend the union services in a body.

He also announced appointment of LaMonte V. Simpkins as recording secretary to succeed Harold Reynolds, who died suddenly last week. Edgar W. Baker was appointed Chaplain for the remainder of the year to succeed Mr. Simpkins.

A delegation of members from William H. Raymond Lodge of Saugerties attended Tuesday night's meeting in Bearsville and handed over a travelling gavel. The gavel, a hand-made wooden affair, imprinted with the name "Bill" was the brainchild of Sidney Lodge, No. 91, of Sidney, Neb.

It Gets Around

It was one of two gavels started from the Sidney Lodge in January, 1956, destined to travel across the country. One went west and "Bill" headed east. Four years after its start "Bill" reached Ulster County. It went first to Sunshine Lodge of Highland which sent it to Phoenicia Lodge. That Lodge in turn presented it to Raymond Lodge.

Tuesday night, J. Henry Hill, secretary of Raymond Lodge, accompanied by three past grands, handed it to Noble Grand Eichler.

The gavel will be kept in Bearsville until the latter part of the month when a delegation of Odd Fellows, including District Deputy Grand Master Clifford Carnright will travel to Cairo, home lodge of the Greene County District Deputy, and turn the gavel over to him.

IOOF District Meeting At Bearsville, April 9

Clifford Carnright, District Deputy Grand Master of Ulster District, IOOF, announced today that the annual District meeting of past grands will be held in the Odd Fellows Hall, Bearsville, on Saturday, April 9, at 8 p. m.

The session to which all past grands in the District are eligible to attend, will be preceded by a supper, served by members of Agapae Rebekah Lodge, No. 623, Carnright said.

A District Deputy Grand Master to succeed Carnright will be chosen at the meeting along with the selection of a District Secretary, a post held for many years by Elwyn C. Davis of West Shokan, who, it is expected, will be re-elected.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Supermarket meat experts turn to pork this week in an attempt to catch the shopper's eye.

A variety of pork cuts are offered over wide areas. Some stores plug semi-boneless hams while others feature the smaller, less expensive picnic hams and smoked butts. Other cuts listed include shoulder roast, chops, loins, spare ribs and bacon.

Indications are, however, that pork prices are likely to move higher in the next few months. Recent Chicago live hog prices were up nearly 25 per cent since the first of the year and the seasonal price swing normally is upward as production gradually falls.

Porterhouse steak and chuck roast—the high and low notes on beef's popular price scale — are the specials in a few places, with steak marked down in one or two. Other prices generally are mixed with scattered small increases balanced by similar declines.

Eggs are stronger in some sections.

Produce bargains include sweet potatoes and off-quality apples—a bit overripe with slight skin discolorations. These apples are fine for cooked items.

Other outstanding buys among vegetables include cabbage, carrots, celery, endive, escarole, iceberg lettuce (although quality is questionable in some instances), small to medium yellow onions, radishes, rhubarb, Texas spinach and potatoes.

Honeydew melons from Chile join apples, avocados, oranges and grapefruit as outstanding buys among fruits this week.

Made for Christenings

MANASQUAN, N. J. (AP)—Bill Loughran is in business to help Sunday sailors who pound their dinghies into driftwood at christening time with heavy-duty bottles of champagne. Loughran makes "christening" bottles that contain a fizzy water, embellished with appropriate ribbons and easily breakable.

Net Income Dips 6 PC During '59 For N.Y. Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Net income of New York farmers slumped six per cent last year. The Agriculture Department blamed the drop on higher production costs and lower egg prices.

In its annual review of farm prices, the department said realized net income of New York farmers averaged $2,537 last year compared with $2,694 for 1958.

Realized net income—gross farm income minus farm production expenses—was down 14½ per cent nationally.

The department did not list farm production expenses for New York during 1959 but said realized gross income averaged $10,337 per farm last year compared with $9,954 during 1958.

Realized gross income includes the value of farm products sold or used by a farmer during the year plus any government payments and the rental value of dwellings.

Cash receipts of New York farmers from marketings were also down last year compared with 1958. The department listed receipts of $836,668,000 during 1959 compares with $849,623,000 during 1958.

The 1959 figure was based on crop receipts of $237,012,000—an increase over 1958—and receipts of $599,656,000 for livestock and livestock products, including eggs—a decrease from 1958.

The 1958 figures were $229,820,000 for crops and $619,803,000 for livestock.

Conditions Unknown Of 7 in Spain Crash

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—The U. S. Navy today issued a report on the condition of the 24 men aboard the Navy plane which crashed into a mountain peak in Spain Tuesday.

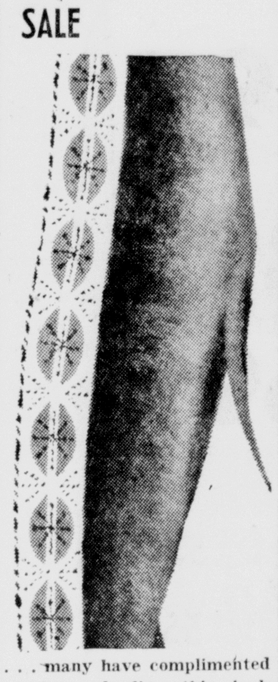

The Navy said it did not know the condition of seven of the men. They apparently were among the eight men that could not be brought down before driving snow halted rescue work late Wednesday.

For conditions unknown, the report listed Aviation Electronics Technician 2. C. Francis S. Roncone, Warsaw, N. Y.

Capital Ordered By SCAD to Open Jobs to Negroes

NEW YOK (AP) —The New York State Commission Against Discrimination has ordered Capital Airlines to open flight job opportunities to Negroes.

These flight personnel jobs—in which Negroes are almost unknown in domestic passenger flights—include pilots, engineers and stewardesses.

There was no immediate comment by Capital Airlines, which has routes that cover a large part of the eastern United States. Capital serves several southern cities.

Whether the ruling—announced Wednesday—will affect other airlines depends upon whether complaints of discrimination affecting them are made. The commission acts only on complaints received, and is not authorized to initiate complaints.

The commission's order to Capital Airlines not to refuse to employ flight personnel on color grounds was issued in the case of Patricia Banks, 22, of New York City. She had sought a job as stewardess in 1956, after attending a school that trains applicants for such positions.

The commission ordered Capital Airlines to hire Miss Banks as its first Negro stewardess.

The airline was also told to "cease and desist from maintaining a policy of barring Negroes from employment because of their color, in all flight capacities, including that of flight hostess."

Capital Airlines has 30 days in which to comply with the order. If Capital did not take appropriate action or refer the issue to a court in that time, he said, the commission then would be entitled to go to court to seek an enforcement order and contempt citation.

Mohawk Airlines was the first air carrier to hire a Negro hostess. It did so voluntarily.

Apples for Students

SALEM, Ill. (AP) — Apples have been given to students in Salem public schools for 61 years on Washington's birthday. The custom was started in 1899 by Joseph and Frank Schwartz brothers who operated an orchard. The traditional apple day has been continued by Joseph Schwartz's daughter, Mrs. Christine De Linck, wife of Air Force Lt. Col. Martin J. De Linck. Mrs. De Linck orders more than 2,000 apples every year from wherever her husband is stationed. This year they live in Sacramento, Calif. In 1959, they were in the Panama Canal Zone.

Women comprise approximately one-third of the working force of the United States.

UP PERISCOPE—Here's what a polar bear would see if he were nosing around when the submarine USS Sargo poked its conning tower through the ice at the North Pole. The Sargo, third U.S. sub to visit the pole, traveled 22 days under the arctic ice pack. Sargo personnel, above, explore polynya (hole in the ice) through which the Sargo surfaced.

YMCA News

YMCA Boys Department completed its pool tournaments for 1959-60 this week.

Garry Schantz, 8 years old, won the midget division. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schantz of 145 Wrentham Street and attends School No. 6 in the third grade. He joined the YMCA October 1959.

Peter Lewis, 10 years old, won the prep division. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis of 102 Emerson Street. Peter attends School No. 7 in the fifth grade. During the past two and one half years he has learned to swim and has received many swimming awards. He belongs to the crafts and hobby club, and participates in all phases of the youth department program. He is an officer of the Gra-Y club.

Elliott Johnson, 14 years, is the winner of the cadet junior division. Elliott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Johnson of 145 Jansen Avenue. He attends School No. 5 in the sixth grade, and has been in the YMCA since January 1959.

The boys will receive their awards at the fifth annual father and son banquet Tuesday, April 26.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A few questions overlooked by the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee and others of a quizzical nature:

Why can't Madison Square Garden find a ring announcer who can pronounce the word "athletic," as in New York Athletic Assn., in less than four syllables?

Why don't those pretty TV weather chicks slow down their delivery to hurricane force? The Canadian highs mingling with the Montana lows always push the pollen count into the Caribbean before they come up for air. Yet, on the other hand, they make an elocutionary death march out of the commercials.

Why doesn't the D.A. on "Perry Mason" wise up and solve those mysteries the way we do? Just count the lines given each actor. The one with the least invariably did it. In recent months this formula failed only twice. Both times the commercial won.

Why doesn't somebody toss a gutterball on "Jackpot Bowling" and give the rest of us a reason to go on living?

If Horton Foote really understood that William Faulkner story he scripted for this week's "Playhouse 90," why didn't he tell somebody? From our side of the screen it appeared to be a documentary on wood: How to cut it, pile it, carry it. Actor Richard Boone spent the first hour toting wood in and out of a cabin, while muttering monosyllabic little nothings to grunting, groaning Kim Stanley.

Why don't Perry Como, Bing Crosby, Pat Boone and Dinah Shore sing the songs the way Richard Rodgers, Irving Berlin, Cole Porter, etc. wrote them? Or else collectively change the name of their shows to "Numb That Tune?"

Why doesn't Robert Kennedy give his brother, Sen. John, the name of his barber?

Why is Beaver so nice to Wally? He's giving kid brothers a black eye all over the country. And while we're on the subject, how come David doesn't give Ricky Nelson the name of his barber?

Recommended Tonight: Ernie Ford Show, NBC 9:30-10 Eastern Standard Time, with Odetta, folk singer.

Today is the 31st anniversary of the first contract tournament ever played. It was won by the late George Reith who was kind enough to pick me as his partner and then good enough to carry us through.

Here is one of his personal top scores. West opened the king of hearts. East played the nine and George ducked. It was the winning play. If he had taken the trick and led a heart back West would surely have shifted to a diamond and knocked him out of the box. A diamond shift would have beaten him anyway but West played another heart and George was in business.

The play wasn't too difficult. He took his ace, ruffed a heart, drew trumps, led a diamond and finessed dummy's ten. East was in the lead and had to return either a diamond or a spade to give George his contract.

All this was 31 years ago when bidding was not up to modern standards. Today, most pairs would have arrived at the easy three no-trump. Back then no one got to the no-trump game; of those who reached five clubs only George made the hand.

New Status Symbols

GLEN RIDGE, N. J. (AP)—Henry M. Rose II, a plant engineer, has found a good plaything in status symbols. His hobby is designing unofficial coats of arms for anyone who wants to order them. Rose's heraldry shows major aspects in a person's life, either serious or humorous. His hobby started as a joke a few years ago. Then orders began pouring in from everywhere. He squeezes 30 or 40 items relating to a person's life into each coat of arms. The finishing touch is a "garbled Latin" motto beneath the crest—such as a phony Latin translation of "Ask Dad a Question and You Get a 45-Minute Lecture."

Jamestown Given Park Site for Nuclear Project

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The city of Jamestown was empowered today to take over a park site for a nuclear-power project.

The federal government has said the site was one of several under consideration for a small nuclear plant. If located at Jamestown, the plant would sell steam to the city for use by its municipally owned plant. The federal government would build and operate the nuclear plant.

Gov. Rockefeller, in signing legislation Wednesday that allowed the use of the park site, said "the location of a nuclear reactor at this site would be of benefit not only to the people of Jamestown but to all the people of New York by bringing a new atomic facility to the state."

SNOW — It's Good for Something: To Build a Buried City in Strategic Greenland

This giant snowblasting machine processes snow and spreads on a surface where it will harden into the quality of sandstone. The processed snow is blown over roof forms. When it hardens, the forms are withdrawn and used again.

Peter Snow Miller, a type of rotary snow plow used to keep Alpine passes open, whirls its way over 20 feet deep into the icecap. When finished, Camp Century will have more than six miles of tunnel. It will be four blocks long, three wide.

An Army engineer stands in a snow room carved in Greenland's icecap 100 miles north of Thule Air Force Base. A team of 100 scientists, engineers and soldiers will live in rooms and tunnels during the winter of 1960-61. They will study problems of living, working or fighting in one of the world's harshest environments.

Students Upstate Picket Store in Racial Sympathy

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Students of three colleges plan a second demonstration at the F. W. Woolworth Co. store here tonight in protest of lunch counter segregation in the South.

Nearly 50 students from the University of Rochester, Rochester Institute of Technology and Colgate Rochester Divinity School picketed the store for two hours Wednesday afternoon.

There was no violence and students said there was no indication that the Rochester store observed segregation.

Charles Nelson, store manager, said the demonstration, which included signs declaring anti-segregation slogans, came as a surprise to him. He said the pickets did not curtail sales in the store.

The signs said "Woolworth Discriminates in the South," "U of R support battle for equal rights," and "end lunch counter discrimination."

Two unidentified students, members of the police department and Nelson met shortly after the pickets arrived. The students assured police there would be no violence, Nelson said.

David Anderson, 29, formerly of Cincinnati, Ohio, was one of four Negroes participating in the demonstration. Anderson, a student at RIT, said the demonstration was the result of recent discussions among students concerning department store segregation in the South. He said a second picketing would be conducted during evening shopping hours tonight.

Burns Fatal to Child

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Bonnie Lee Akey, 6, of Johnstown, died at Albany Hospital Wednesday night from burns she suffered Tuesday in her home when police say she was apparently playing with matches.

Second largest city in Great Britain is Glasgow, Scotland.

Baby Killed by Rifle

ALLEGANY, N. Y. (AP)—Brenda Eileen Hillard, 2, was wounded fatally Wednesday when a .22 caliber rifle her uncle was cleaning accidentally discharged.

State Police said Robert M. Foster, 15, was cleaning the gun when the accident occurred.

Breath of Spring Fashion Show Is Set for Tuesday

A distinguished selection of furs to compliment the spring ensemble is promised by Leventhal's Furriers for the "Breath of Spring" hat and fur show at Bethany Hall, Old Dutch Church, Tuesday, March 15, 8 p. m. Hats, all original creations by June Dessler, and furs for spring will be modeled in the presentation sponsored by Choir Mothers of the church.

The furs to be shown will be especially designed to add the feeling of luxury to the spring wardrobe. Accordingly the latest in hats and furs will be shown for the coming season.

Louise Wallace of the United Cut Rate Pharmacy will be in charge of make-up. Staging will be arranged by Mrs. Edward V. DeGroff Jr.; Mrs. Gifford Beal will be commentator and Gerald Anderson, minister of music at the church, will supply the musical background for the show.

Tickets may be obtained from any choir mother or at the door. Refreshments will be served.

Fashion Trends Are Discussed by Study Club Members

Spring seemed right at hand at the March 1 meeting of the New Paltz Study Club, thanks to the very enlightening and entertaining program by Mrs. Helen Davenport of Helen Davenport Shop of Kingston, whose subject was "Fashion Trends for Spring."

Mrs. Davenport prefaced her talk with a new color film by the Fashion Industry. The spring and summer fashions shown reflected the influence of modern art through the use of expressionist and abstract prints, Gauguin flower prints and such new shades as Van Gosh yellow and expressionist blue, as well as pale beige, grey, creamy white and honey tones. An easier silhouette was evident and the new styles included the dome and triangle-shaped skirt, pleats, the chanel-type jacket and the bolero.

Mrs. Davenport emphasized the need to keep aware of new fashion trends, adopting them to our particular needs, and gave many helpful tips and suggestions. She also gave an insight into the industry from the standpoint of the seller as well as the buyer.

William Jameson Is Named to Dean's List

William R. Jameson, 235 Main Street, Kingston, has been honored in having his name placed on the Dean's List at Franklin Technical Institute where he is a student in the two-year, day, Engineering Technician Program.

He is a candidate for the degree of Associate in Engineering (Mechanical Engineering Technology).

EXPLORING THE ARTS — Girl Scouts (seated l-r) Marlene Harper, Linda Kilmer and Bernadette Murray, and (standing) Sharon Hommel and Florence Albright work on craft projects. Since its earliest days the Girl Scout Organization has stressed exploration of the arts as an important factor in developing a well-rounded personality. During the past two years the national organization has sponsored an international Arts Festival for girls and co-sponsored a series of coast-to-coast television program on "Adventuring in the Hand Arts." At the present time it is sending a mobile training unit, staffed by educators in the arts, on a projected three-year tour of the United States. Known as the Arts Caravan, the unit will bring up-to-date training in arts and crafts, music and dance, literature and drama to Girl Scout Councils throughout the country. (Freeman photo)

AN UNCHAPERONED LONG NIGHT DRIVE

Dear Mrs. Post: My parents live in the country but I work and live in the city. I have been going with a boy who also lives here in the city but whose family live in the country (about five miles from my family). My boy friend is planning on driving home next weekend to see his family and asked me if I would like to drive with him and visit my family at the same time. I would like very much to go but don't know whether it would be proper. He intends to leave Friday evening right from the office, which means we will be driving most of the night. Will you please tell me whether or not it would be proper for me to go?

Answer: If you and the young man both have very good reputations and if your parents will not mind being awakened in the middle of the night and you drive straight through, I don't think anyone will criticize your going.

Breaking An Appointment

Dear Mrs. Post: When people say they are coming to see me on such and such a day, is there any excuse then for not letting me know should they not be able to come? The excuse such a person gave me was that she didn't bother because I had said I was going to be in on that day. Even so, wouldn't it be better to have called me?

Answer: It would have been thoughtful of her to telephone you to say that she wasn't coming so that you would be free to go out if you wanted to. On the other hand, if you told her you were going to be in anyway, I can't say that she was really discourteous.

Long or Short Gloves?

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been invited to a large dance at my boy friend's school. I am going to wear a floor-length evening dress. I would like to know if elbow-length gloves are necessary, or would short ones be in order?

Answer: I think long gloves would be prettier, but short ones also would be correct if you prefer them. It is entirely a question of personal taste.

* * *

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-11, entitled "Do You Know Your ABC's in Manners?" (Quiz for Girls and Boys of High School Age), send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Canned and Frozen Fruit

During the winter when cold weather blankets much of the nation, fruit is not as easy to come by as in the warm summer months. We are fortunate in this country with sections where the climate is warm, and where citrus fruit grows profusely. Fresh citrus comes to us in abundance during the winter, and that, along with apples and other fruits from storage, make up the fresh fruits for our tables.

A great deal of the fruit we eat in the winter time grew earlier, and was stored for later use. The activities of the processing industry are not greatly different, in results at least, from those of our grandmothers. They canned and preserved at a furious pace during fresh fruit season so their families could enjoy fruit goodness when the snow was on the ground.

Canned fruit aplenty. Records indicate that consumers are in a particularly desirable position when it comes to canned fruit. Nearly all kinds of commercially canned fruits are in plentiful supply. The large-volume canned fruits, are peaches, fruit cocktail and mixed fruits, and applesauce, all are much more plentiful than a year ago. Watch for "specials" on canned fruit especially on apricots and grapefruit sections.

Frozen fruits less plentiful. Frozen fruits, while generally in plentiful supply are somewhat less readily available than a year ago. Among frozen fruits, strawberries are the volume leader. Frozen blackberries, raspberries, and blueberries are all less plentiful than a year ago, with blackberries apparently in shortest supply among the three.

Some individual items of frozen fruits are packed mainly in large containers and are seldom seen in retail stores. Frozen grapes, cherries, and some berries are in this category. You will find, however, fairly adequate stores of consumer-sized packages of most frozen fruits. Therefore, look for continued supplies at about current prices in the months ahead.

Canned and Frozen Fruit Juices. Larger supplies of canned citrus juice of all kinds are available this winter than last. In fact, canned citrus juice, particularly orange, will be unusually plentiful in the months ahead. Even pineapple juice, while less abundant than citrus juices, is 18 per cent more plentiful than a year ago. Look for continued good buys in canned fruit juices.

At the Markets

Meat — Prolonged stormy weather over much of the West and Midwest has cut livestock receipts and reduced meat production. This has been an important factor in pushing live cattle and hog prices at Midwest markets to their highest point in several months. Some retail cuts already reflect the higher livestock prices and further temporary advances may occur in local retail meat prices. Basically, the meat supply situation remains about unchanged with probably plenty of pork and good supplies of beef and lamb remaining on farms.

Fish — Fresh fish expected in good supply during the Lenten period include flounder, haddock, cod, porgy, whiting, butterfish, and sea bass.

Eggs — Eggs provide a low cost meat substitute for Lenten meals.

Fruit — Some apples now available are from controlled-atmosphere storage. These apples have been stored in an environment that maintains quality nearly tree-fresh. Increasing supplies of these apples may be expected in the coming weeks. Other plentiful fruits are avocados, bananas, oranges, grapefruit, lemons, pineapples, pears, and rhubarb.

Vegetables — There are many good selections in fresh vegetables. Carrots, onions, cabbage, sweet potatoes, and Eastern white potatoes top the list of good vegetable selections. Lettuce, escarole, endive, celery, green peas, radishes, spinach, beets, and Cuban peppers are also in good supply.

Michigan ranks first among states of the Union in production of salt, gypsum, calcium-magnesium compounds and marl.

Maryknoll Priest Will Speak Before Holy Name Society

REV. FRANCIS McKAY

The Rev. Francis McKay, M. M., of the central administration staff at Maryknoll headquarters, Maryknoll, will address the Holy Name Society of St. Philomena's Church, Kingston, at their second annual Father and Son Communion Breakfast, following the 8 a. m. Mass Sunday, March 13, at the Governor Cinton Hotel.

Father McKay has served as a missioner in Chile for seven years and has been director of Maryknoll Houses in Los Angeles and Chicago. Prior to his assignment to Chile, Father McKay served as vocation director at Maryknoll headquarters.

Reservation may still be made by contacting any member of the breakfast committee, comprised of Patsy Belsito, Robert Campbell, Paul Werner and James Kenna, chairman.

More Aid Needed For Education Speaker Tells League

A meeting of the Junior League of Kingston was held on March 7 at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Edward T. Green, supervising principal of the Rondout Valley Central School District gave an interesting and enlightening speech on education.

Mr. Green began by saying "that there is no substitute for high scholastic achievement and that groups such as the Junior League must take a more active part in the future of education. We need a team approach with parents and school.

"We need to try more scientific experiments in improvements in education, such as the track system where the more rapid child can go ahead and still every opportunity is provided for the slower pupil. Our educational system has produced the people who have given us the highest standard of living ever known but it can still be improved."

Mr. Green discussed State and Federal Aid and said that "our educational progress is dependent on greater financial support." He would like to see the Federal Government give back a larger proportion of the taxes to the state government so they could control education.

He also discussed the bills pending in the Legislature and the problems of education for the mentally handicapped children.

After Mr. Green's speech a meeting was held and Mrs. Lawrence Quilty announced that the Mmes. Henry Millonig, James Dwyer, Richard Wood, Berrien Blemker, Martin Haggerty, Ralph Gayes, Martin Tully, Robert Hunt, James Myers, Thomas Reynolds, William O'Reilly and the Misses Carol Rylance, Natalie O'Reilly, Matilda Cordts and Cathryn Rose Feeney were invited to accept provisional membership.

The public relations committee reported that with the renewed interest in the historical sites in Kingston brought forth by the Hudson-Champlain celebration, it was voted to honor the Senate House as one of the old landmarks with a gift of $500 to be designated at a later date.

Named Speaker Here For Secretarial Luncheon Saturday

MRS. MILDRED M. EASTON

The Kingston-Poughkeepsie Chapter of the National Secretaries Association is planning a special luncheon for Saturday, March 12, at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Attending this luncheon as special guest speaker will be Mrs. Mildred M. Easton of Rochester, New York State Division president. Also attending will be Miss Arline Palmer of Albany, New York State Division treasurer.

Topics will be the history of NSA and the present set-up of division, district and international. The National Secretaries Association has grown in a little more than 10 years to its present membership of 20,000. The Kingston-Poughkeepsie Chapter which was installed in June, 1958 with 21 members now has a total of 42 and interested secretaries in the area are urged to contact any chapter member for further information.

Mrs. Easton, division president, is secretary to Francis Skivington of Skivington & Skivington in Rochester. Her NSA history includes the presidency of the Rochester Chapter for two years. She joined NSA in 1947 and has been active ever since. She was treasurer for a term and a member of the executive board for several terms. Mrs. Easton was elected president of New York State Division in May 1958 and is now serving her second term.

President Easton has been actively engaged in many civic affairs including Settlement Work in Chinatown, Girl Scouts, volunteer duty with Canadian Maple Leaf War Relief Association in Rochester as well as many others.

Arline Palmer, division treasurer, is a charter member of the Albany Chapter and has held the position of president, treasurer, recording secretary and has served as chairman and/or member of every committee in the chapter. Miss Palmer holds a civil service job at the present time and is a former WAVE.

Miss Palmer also elected to the treasurer's position in 1958 is serving her second term in this office.

Miss America Garden

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) —The annual Easter Garden on the Boardwalk here will be called the Miss America Garden this year to mark the 25th anniversary of the founding of Mu Alpha Sigma, the sorority for contestants in the beauty and talent sweepstakes. The garden will feature azaleas in honor of the past two Miss Americas, both of whom hail from Mississippi, where the annual azalea festivals are held. Mary Ann Mobley, Miss America 1959, is from Brandon, Miss., while the reigning beauty queen, Lynda Lee Mead, is a Natchez girl.

To Speak Monday Night for Friends Of Senate House

Prof. Benjamin Karp of the art education division of the State University College of Education, New Paltz, will be the principal speaker Monday evening, March 14, at a meeting sponsored by the Friends of the Senate House.

The meeting will be held at the Fair Street Reformed Church parlor in the annex at 8 p. m.

Prof. Karp's subject will be "The Gingerbread Sculpture of the Hudson Valley." He will accompany lecture with slides. There will be a small admission charge.

Prof. Karp has been at the college since 1951, teaching sculpture and drawing. Prior to that he was head of the art department at Montclair State Teachers College in Upper Montclair, N. J., for 11 years.

His interest in preserving a photographic record of scroll-saw ornament on American 19th Century dwellings was first aroused by the sight of the destruction of these houses that took on the proportions of a "holocaust" during the construction of the Thruway.

Prof. Karp says his "hope is to spark the creation of a nationwide archive of what I consider to be a true American folk art, namely the art of sawn sculpture."

He has lectured on the subject of Carpenter Sculpture at New Paltz State Teachers College, at Montclair State College and, more recently, at the School of Architecture and Design of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.

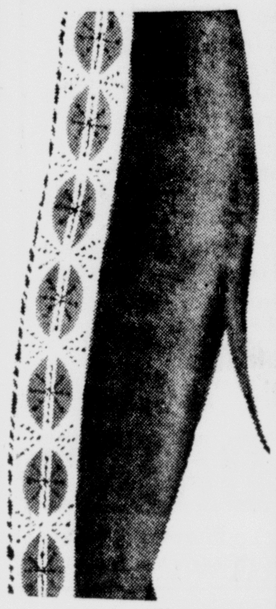

The lecture sponsored by the Senate House, will feature slides of houses of the scroll-saw period in Kingston and other localities in Ulster County and Dutchess County.

Hirohito's Kin Exchanges Title For Homey Life

TOKYO (AP) — Emperor Hirohito's youngest daughter exchanged her imperial title and the seclusion of the Japanese court today for a $50-a-month bank clerk and the life of a housewife.

Pretty, vivacious Princess Suga was married to 25-year-old Hisinaga Shimazu, son of a former count, in a Shinto ceremony attended only by the two families, including the Emperor and Empress.

Suga, who is 21, told a televised news conference after the ceremony that, like any other housewife, she will cook and keep the household accounts at their new, $11,000 home in a Tokyo suburb.

Hisanaga said he would continue to open his pay envelope, and the ex-princess concurred with, "I guess that's all right—for the time being, anyway."

His monthly pay from the Japan Import-Export Bank will be supplemented by the income from her $41,000 cash dowry, which the couple plan to invest.

They will pay a May honeymoon visit to the home of Hisanaga's ancestors in Miyazaki, southern Japan. He said they would like to take a trip abroad but "it seems impossible."

Lyonsville

Civic, Religious,

and a short time later entered the clothing business, moving to 528 Broadway. He later moved to 564 Broadway. He did his own window trimming, tailoring, selling, and buying and employed only one clerk.

Always interested in helping the community, it was one of his greatest satisfactions to share the little he had with those who were less fortunate. He says: "Our wordly possessions are not ours. We take nothing with us. We are only caretakers while in this world, and while here must share with others for the privilege we have of not wanting."

During the later years of the depression, when business was slow on Central Broadway he suggested the "Boost Central Broadway" campaign and was named chairman of a committee of central businessmen which conducted a tremendously successful merchandising campaign. He also served as chairman for the drive to pay off the mortgage and debts of the Franklin AME Zion Church.

President 17 Years

Rafalowsky was president of the Conservative Congregation, Ahavath Israel, Wurts and Pierpont streets, for 17 years. When he assumed the office the congregation was unable to afford a spiritual leader but ultimately acquired such leadership. He conceived the idea of the Thanksgiving Eve Ball which has become one of the outstanding social events of the year and has served as its chairman for many years. The event has attracted outstanding bands and entertainers. Twenty-five per cent of the net proceeds of the ball is distributed to nonsectarian charities.

During World War 2 a considerable portion of the proceeds of the ball went to the Red Cross. Other beneficiaries have been the Benedictine Hospital, United Jewish Welfare Fund, the YMCA, March of Dimes, American Cancer Society, Tumor Clinic Foundation, Children's Home, Christmas Cheer, etc.

Rafalowsky served in 1953 and 1954 as general chairman of the Tumor Clinic Foundation Special Fund to pay for those who could not afford treatments.

He has worked tirelessly in behalf of the United Jewish Appeal, realizing the plight of his unfortunate brethren overseas, and twice served as chairman of Jewish Welfare Campaigns. He also served as co-chairman with Alfred Ronder in selling Israeli Bonds for the development of industry in Israel and the resettlement of new immigrants.

Cited by Organizations

On April 13, 1958, he received an award from the national office of the United Jewish Appeal in appreciation for his fine leadership.

In September, 1949, Rafalowsky received a personal invitation from Dr. Louis Finklestein, president of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, to receive a citation for his distinguished service in this community.

Also honored on the same occasion were Dr. Ralph Bunche and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt for their efforts in promoting peace.

Again in 1950 he received a citation at the seminary for his work in the seminary program, in his efforts to advance the cause of Jewish life and Jewish learning in America and throughout the world.

In 1950, with the condemnation of his building to make way for the underpass, Rafalowsky reluctantly left the central area. He erected a building on Albany Avenue at the head of Broadway.

The Rafalowsky family work and plan together. Mrs. Rafalowsky, the former Minna Kinberg, is active in the business, having had experience in merchandising prior to her marriage. Their sons, Norman and Sidney, are associated with him in the operation of the business, assuming much of the responsibility, each heading different departments of the store.

Sidney is married to the former Shirley Parnett. Florence, their daughter, is married to Sanford Gossett. Norman resides at home with his parents.

He has three grandchildren who are his pride and joy.

Rafalowsky is a member of the American Legion (veteran of World War 1), Elks, B'nai B'rith, Zionist Organization of America, board of directors of American Cancer Society, board of directors of Tumor Clinic Foundation, board of directors of Congregation Ahavath Israel, Central Businessmen's Association, Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, Jewish Community Center, and the board of the Jewish Community Council.

Besides Chairman Schecter, the committee on arrangements for the dinner is composed of Sanford Gossett, Dr. Bernard Cohen, Larry Jacobs, Harry Fertel, Morris Nussbaum, Mrs. Alfred Horowitz, Louis Goldstein, Louis Kirschner, Max Eckdish and Harry Brines.

New Anglo Uniform

LONDON (AP) — British army battle dress, the baggy blouse and serge pants that have served as an all-purpose uniform since the start of World War II, will be abolished.

Three smart new uniforms — one for combat, one for parade, and one for off-duty wear—are being designed by War Office experts, War Minister Christopher Soames told Parliament.

Senate Fight Has Church Overtones On Bus Service

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A fight with religious overtones is erupting among Senate Republicans over legislation that could force school districts to provide school-bus service for Roman Catholic and other private schools.

The battle now is limited, publicly at least, to two prominent GOP senators—Edward J. Speno of Nassau County, sponsor of the legislation, and Austin W. Erwin of Geneseo, chairman of the powerful Senate Finance Committee.

On Senate Calendar

The bill appeared on the Senate calendar Wednesday. It had been approved by the Education Committee. But Erwin demanded that it be referred to his committee. He said the measure would require additional state aid for school transportation and, as a spending bill, belonged in his committee.

Speno challenged this. He said the bill could not go to a committee because it was on the calendar. He said that, if it did go to the Finance Committee, he would fight to get it back out and put to a vote.

Erwin declined to say how he felt about the bill.

Council Is Opposed

The State Council of Churches opposes the measure.

Under present law, school districts that decide to provide transportation for any pupils must provide it for all, public and parochial, who are in the same category and live within eight miles of their schools. Speno would mandate transportation for all pupils between 2 and 10 miles from their schools.

Many school districts now provide bus service to parochial schools. However, there are recurring controversies when some districts either refuse to transport parochial school students or refuse to extend the eight-mile limit to accomodate them.

Other Developments

In other legislative developments:

1. Legislative leaders called rank-and-file members into strategy meetings to continue discussions on increasing state aid to education and other major fiscal problems. The Board of Regents expressed concern that efforts to increase state aid might bog down among conflicting plans to achieve that goal.

2. Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino told a news conference he was committed to support Gov. Rockefeller's plan for six million dollars in tax relief for non-residents and this would have priority over general tax relief.

3. The Senate approved a bill to expand the State Parole Board from five to seven members. Sen. Harold A. Jerry Jr. (R-Elmira), the sponsor, said the present board was overworked. The measure went to the Assembly.

4. The Senate passed a measure that would give legislative fiscal chairmen a voice in whether there will be any future extensions of an 80-million-dollar state loan to the Thruway Authority.

5. The Senate approved a bill that would extend the Erwin town road program another 10 years beyond its scheduled expiration date, 1962. The plan, named for the finance committee chairman, provides state aid for town highway projects.

Bull Markets Inc. Name Chain Meat Department Head

GEORGE KOSCHEK

The appointment of George Koschek as general manager of the meat department of Bull Markets Inc., Kingston, was announced today.

Koschek has had over 30 years experience in meat buying and merchandising with leading chains such as A & P, Food Fair, Shop-Rite and Universal Markets. He will be responsible for establishing meat cutting and pricing standards in the Bull Market chain, currently in practice throughout the nation.

He has been associated with leading meat packing companies including Hygrade and Swift and Company where he secured experience in buying and selling carload quantities of top grade meats.

Koschek and his wife, who now reside in New Jersey are planning to make their home in the Kingston area.

Finch Jury Still Out, Sixth Day

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tension as tangible as the smog outside fills the Los Angeles County courthouse. The word moves constantly from person to person:

"The jury's still out."

Dr. Finch, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, are charged with murder and conspiracy in the shooting of the doctor's wife. Both counts carry a possible death penalty.

Police Contain March

TOKYO (AP) — Five thousand unionists and left-wing students tried to stage a march on Parliament today to protest ratification of Japan's new security pact with the United States and government curbs on organized demonstrations. Fifteen hundred police massed around the white stone Parliament Building kept them away.

Food Chain Men To Attend Parley

Robert Dixon, general manager of Bull Markets Inc., Kingston; David Greenberg, Newburgh store manager and George A. Burgher, Poughkeepsie manager will be attending the Super Market Institute Eastern Operational Conference at Sheraton Hotel, Philadelphia next week, March 13 to 16.

The local food chain recently became a member of the national organization recognized througout the food industry as the univeristy of food retailing.

The local chain representatives will spend three days at the conference devoted to store management and discussing the latest merchandising developments and practices.

ORDINANCE CREATING A MERIT AWARD BOARD OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, PRESCRIBING ITS POWERS AND DUTIES, AND APPROPRIATING THE SUM OF $7,500.00 OF FUNDS RECEIVED FROM THE ESTATE OF CORNELIA H. STAPLES AND ESTABLISHING A TRUST FUND THEREFOR AND MEMORIALIZING THE DONOR AND THE PERSON IN WHOSE NAME SUCH FUNDS WERE BEQUEATHED TO THE CITY OF KINGSTON:

BE IT ORDAINED by the Common Council of the City of Kingston, New York, as follows:

Section 1. That pursuant to the provisions of Section 88-a of the General Municipal Law of the State of New York, there be and there hereby is created a Merit Award Board of the City of Kingston, consisting of the following: The Mayor, Corporation Counsel and a bi-partisan committee of the Aldermen to be designated by the Common Council.

Section 2. That such Merit Award Board shall have the power and it shall be its duty to formulate, and as the circumstances may require, to amend, rules and to establish and maintain a plan or plans to encourage and reward unusual and meritorious suggestions and accomplishments by employes of the City of Kingston which have in the preceding years, resulted in either more efficient or more economical operation of any of the departments or functions of the city government, in its discretion, as appears worthy of recognition and reward.

Section 3. To appoint such other persons, if any, as it may deem best to make recommendations to such board for its consideration in the making of such annual awards.

Section 4. That the said Merit Award Board shall meet as soon as possible following the adoption of this ordinance and prepare and adopt rules and regulations to carry out the purposes for which such Board is being created, within the purview of Section 88-a of the General Municipal Law of the State of New York and of any other appropriate general or special law.

Section 5. That there is appropriated for the aforesaid purposes, the sum of $7,500.00 being a portion of the funds received by the City of Kingston, New York through and under the will of the late Cornelia H. Staples, which funds shall be deposited in an interest bearing trust account for such purposes only, or invested in any securities which are legally permissible, and the interest or income therefrom shall be used exclusively for the purposes set forth herein. That the principal thereof shall not be used unless it shall become necessary in order to carry out the provisions of the ordinance, and only then with specific approval of the Common Council.

Section 6. That such Merit Award Board shall purchase and have suitably inscribed a memorial plaque which shall refer to the bequest received by the City of Kingston, New York, through the generosity of the late Cornelia H. Staples recognizing the fact that such bequest was given in honor of her father. That the form, nature and context of such memorial plaque shall be determined by such board.

Section 7. That awards as may be established by such Merit Award Board shall be first given for the year 1960, and the initial presentation therefor shall be made at the first meeting of the Common Council in January, 1961, and thereafter as the rules of such board may provide.

Section 8. That such Merit Award Board shall serve without compensation.

Boy, 16, Admits Slaying of Two In $16 Holdup

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A 16-year-old boy has orally admitted slaying a storekeeper and his wife in a $16 holdup.

Leonard J. Seal and his wife, Goldie, both 55, were killed Tuesday night. Their bodies were found Wednesday afternoon in their store at Ferguson, a suburb of St. Louis.

Robert Francis Kunkel Jr., who will be 17 a week from today, was quoted by police as saying he went into the store and, without a word, began shooting.

The first victim was Mrs. Seal. Her husband, who was eating dinner in their home which adjoins the little market-confectionary, ran in and was shot.

He was hit three times and stabbed 25 times in the chest and back. Mrs. Seal was shot twice and stabbed 25 times.

Kunkel said he picked up a butcher knife and stabbed the couple because they were still breathing and because they knew him. Police said he told them one of the victims gasped: "Bobbie, Bobbie."

All the money in the cash register except a few pennies was taken.

The youth was picked up Wednesday afternoon just seven minutes after broadcast of an alarm describing the Seal car, which had been stolen.

BOND AND BOND ANTICIPATION NOTE ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, ADOPTED FEBRUARY 2ND, 1960, AUTHORIZING THE CONSTRUCTION OF A STORM WATER SEWER FOR THE KINGSTON STREET, VAN GAASBECK STREET, FROM SYLVESTER TO CASSIDY STREET AREA TO RELIEVE FLOODING AT AN ESTIMATED MAXIMUM COST OF $6,000.00 APPROPRIATING SAID AMOUNT AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $6,000.00 SERIAL BONDS TO FINANCE THE SAME.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Common Council of the City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, New York, as follows:

Section 1. That the construction of a storm water sewer for the Kingston Street, Van Gaasbeck Street, from Sylvester Street to Cassidy Street area in the City of Kingston is hereby authorized at an estimated maximum cost of $6,000.00, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto and the financing thereof, and the said amount of $6000.00 is hereby appropriated therefor. The plan of financing includes the issuance of Bond Anticipation Notes and Serial Bonds in the sum of $6000.00 to finance such appropriation, and the levy and collection of a tax upon all the real property within the city to pay the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon. It is anticipated that 75% of such costs will be specially assessed against property fronting on such improvement and immediately benefited thereby, and the amounts of such special assessment shall be budgeted as an offset to the taxes thus to be levied and collected.

Section 2. Pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York as amended, Serial Bonds in the principal amount of $6,000.00 are hereby authorized to be issued to finance the cost of said object or purpose.

(a) The period of probable usefulness of each item of the specific object or purpose for which bonds authorized by this ordinance are to be issued within the limitations of Section 11.00 a. 27 of said Local Finance Law is thirty (30) years.

(b) That since more than fifty per centum of the estimated cost of the aforesaid improvement is to be paid by assessments upon benefited real property in an area less than the area of the city, no down payment is required pursuant to Section 107.00 of the Local Finance Law.

(c) That 25% of the aforesaid total cost shall be paid by the city at large and 75% of the total cost shall be assessed against the property fronting thereon and immediately benefited.

(d) The proposed maturity of the bonds authorized by this ordinance will exceed five (5) years.

Section 4. Each of the bonds and notes authorized by this ordinance and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds, shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by Section 52.00 of said Law and said bonds and notes issued in anticipation of said bonds shall be general obligations of the City, and the City hereby irrevocably pledges its faith and credit to the punctual payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon and there shall be raised annually by tax on all the taxable real property in the City, a sum sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds and notes as the same shall become due.

Section 5. Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and of said Local Finance Law, and pursuant to provisions of Section 30.00 relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of Section 50.00 and Sections 56.00 to 60.00 of said Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the bonds and notes, are hereby delegated to the City Treasurer as the chief fiscal officer of the City.

Section 6. It is further stated that the validity of the bonds and notes authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if:

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such ordinance, are not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

Section 7. This ordinance, which takes effect immediately, shall be published, in full, after approval by the Mayor, in the Kingston Daily Freeman and in the Kingston Ulster Press, the official newspapers of the City, together with a notice in substantially the form as prescribed by Section 81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING AN ORDINANCE IN RELATION TO REGULATING TRAFFIC ON THE PUBLIC STREETS OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK.

The Common Council of the City of Kingston does ordain and enact as follows:

Section 1. That section 3 of Article 5 is hereby amended by adding the following sub-division: (STOP SIGNS)

"114"—On Sycamore Street at East Union Street.

Section 2. That section 3 of Article 6 is hereby amended by adding the following subdivisions: (NO PARKING)

"248"—On either side of Service Lane, between buildings A and Q of the Kingston Housing Authority.

"249"—On either side of Administration Drive between the hours of 6:00 p. m. and 8:00 a. m.

"250"—Within 38 feet of a city fire hydrant located on the westerly side of Colonial Avenue.

Tell on Gamblers For Jury Action, Gotelli's Advice

Prompt grand jury investigation of all gambling complaints was promised yesterday by Assistant District Attorney John E. Gotelli, who said the recent raid in which seven local persons were apprehended had brought criticism from one of the persons involved.

Gotelli said one of those apprehended on bookmaking charges had criticized the arrest of the seven persons and had inquired why the "big bookies" were not arrested. Following the adjournment of the bookmaking charge against Leonard Sickler Jr., of 4 Lipton Street, Wednesday in city court, Gotelli said that question had been put to him.

"Any knowledge on the part of defendants or counsel, in regard to gambling in Kingston or Ulster County should be made known to the district attorney's office," Gotelli said, and it will be presented promptly to the grand jury.

The assistant district attorney said he had informed the complainant that if he, his attorney or any of the seven persons charged with bookmaking would appear before the grand jury, sign a waiver of immunity and present evidence before the grand jury, "any and all gamblers" would be indicted if sufficient evidence could be produced and "any gambler in Kingston or Ulster County" would then be brought to trial.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

When the colonists came over here, the friendly Indians showed them how and when to plant. I do not know what they did about the bug situation then. Remember when food that grew on top of the ground, like cabbage, lettuce, celery, berries and other fruits could be eaten safely. Now with the coming of spring planting, comes the bug killing poison such as the colonists and Indians never would believe could exist.

In the March 1960 "True" magazine a special report, called "Poison in Your Food" is worth reading. It is written by Hart Stilwell. For instance he tells about visiting an area that had been sprayed with a poison from the planes under the guidance of the Department of Agriculture. Here are his exact words:

"Nothing moved. All was silence. There were no rabbits, squirrels or quail. No song birds, even. No worms alive in the ground. No fish in the ponds. The land lay in sterile death. When I left I cut the laces of the shoes I'd worn and threw away the shoes and the knife. And I am still scared that some of this evil stuff may have invaded me . . ."

Right after World War II the famous DDT became a household word, and later came names such as Dieldrin, Heptachlor, Chlordane, Lindane, Aldrin, mostly in spray form from planes, trucks and spray can "bombs." He added "few doctors knew much about these new poisons — giving an instance where a poison-laden crop duster went to his doctor recently complaining of heart palpitation and was advised to ease up on smoking."

Those who are in the habit of spraying against bugs in home or garden will find this article enlightening. Again I quote in part, "we've gone poison crazy. Little Johnnie eating his apple a day to keep the doctor away is probably being poisoned. Most fruit is sprayed, and these poisons won't rub off or wash off."

Did you ever take a good look at the skins of fruit, some are sort of greasy. Cool water will no more wash them than it will a butter dish. He tells about billions of pounds of poison being dumped annually on our homes, gardens and inside of our homes by ourselves. DDT alone is so popular that some 140 million pounds of it are used. He mentions Dr. M. M. Hargraves, famed cancer specialist of the Mayo Clinic, and a few of his 200 cases studied covering this subject.

For instance "A 10-year-old boy who developed acute leukemia after using a bug bomb to fight wasps . . . A business executive who sprayed his tent with a bug bomb on a camping trip . . . A building contractor who used a bug proof varnish in painting his house died. A factory inspector who insisted on using treated paints in close quarters after being warned, he's dead. A housewife who continued debugging her home with DDT after being warned about it, she's dead."

It was proven that DDT spray on food gardens is so penetrating that it shows up in the kernels of corn. In Georgia in 1959 some farmers were demanding pay for the cattle that died after their land was sprayed with Dieldrin and Heptachlor in a fire-ant eradication campaign. Perhaps the answer to heart attacks and cancer can be placed at the door of these chlorinated hydrocarbons, no doubt chemical science will find an answer in time.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The movie industry has had only two major strikes in its history, an amazing record when you consider the complex labor setup in the studios.

Virtually every movie worker, from star to the man who sweeps out the stages, belongs to a union. Producers deal with 30 separate unions in making pictures and maintaining studios.

No Clamor Earlier

In the early days, nobody was organized. Even when film making settled down as an industry there was no clamor for unions. The movies were growing and prospering, and salaries were comparatively high.

The depression brought a wave of labor organizing to Hollywood. The industry was hard hit because of poor theater business, and producers slashed salaries as much as 50 per cent. The workers, actors included, retaliated with unions to protect their rights. There was a brief strike by the crafts in 1937, but filming continued.

Business started booming again, and the studios proved easy touches for labor's demands. Sometimes too easy. During the late 30s, two labor bosses rode high, wide and handsome with producers' money on the threat of calling out the nation's projectionists on strike.

The studios finally blew the whistle on the pair, Willie Bioff and George Browne. They were convicted of extorting a half-million. Later, both were released from federal prison after squealing on seven mobsters accused of squeezing a million dollars out of the producers. Bioff met his end in Phoenix in 1955—killed by a bomb blast in his pickup truck.

Darkest Page in 1945

The darkest page in Hollywood labor history came in 1945. The studios were caught in the middle of a dispute between two union groups over which should represent set decorators. The losers threw picket lines around studio entrances and there were many outbreaks of violence.

The climax was what some called the Battle of Burbank. Three hundred pickets barricaded the entrance to Warner Brothers studio. When non-strikers tried to enter the studio, there was a melee of fire hoses, tear gas and thrown bottles. Seventy-eight were injured.

After a brief shutdown, the studios resumed production on a limited basis. The strike dragged on for 34 weeks.

When the great finals come, each one will be asked five questions:

First: What did you accomplish in the world with the power that God gave you?

Second: How did you help your neighbor and what did you do for those in need?

Third: What did you do to serve God?

Fourth: What did you leave in the world that was worth while when you came from it?

Last: What did you bring into this new world which will be of use here?

Area Accountants To Hear Address Of WE Executive

Carl E. Lindquist, telephone accounting manager of Western Electric Company, New York City, will be the principal speaker at the monthly dinner meeting of Mid-Hudson Chapter of National Association of Accountants Monday, March 21 at 6:30 p. m. in the Nelson House.

His subject will be "Office Costs Can Be Controlled."

Lindquist is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania Wharton School of Finance. He also attended John Marshall Law School and Northwestern University. For eleven years he was lecturer in accounting at Northwestern, and for two years he lectured at the Graduate School of Business, Columbia University. He is an instructor of Dale Carnegie Courses.

He has been active member of NAA and its predecessor NACA for many years, having been president of the New York City chapter, national vice president, and currently national vice president of their society of national officers and directors (Stuart Cameron McLeod Society).

Oneida Is Told Again to Cease State Aid Claims

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—State officials have demanded that Oneida County cease claiming state aid for maintenance of the county home at Rome. A total of $144,398 paid since 1954 will be subtracted from future welfare payments, the state says.

J. Cletus Goetz, county welfare commissioner, disclosed the state action Wednesday night. It was the second time in 16 months the state and county have disagreed over how to handle welfare funds.

The U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare also has threatened to take back $75,000 in welfare aid to the county unless it justifies the expenditures.

Goetz said he received the latest state notice Wednesday, signed by Thomas F. O'Rourke, Syracuse area accountant for the State Department of Social Welfare.

The $144,398 total is the state's share of heating and maintenance for the home from 1954 through 1959.

Aid was cut off, and the penalty for past payments imposed, Goetz was told, because the county could not verify with vouchers the maintenance expenditures it claimed. Goetz remarked:

"Our accounting department is working very closely with the superintendent of maintenance of the heating plant to present proper vouchers so as to be reimbursed or prevent any losses of reimbursement."

New York State cut off aid for the county's medical care program from Jan. 1, 1959, to July 1 of that year. The state claimed the county wasted one-half million dollars annually. The state action cost the county about $650,000.

Stuffing Eggs?

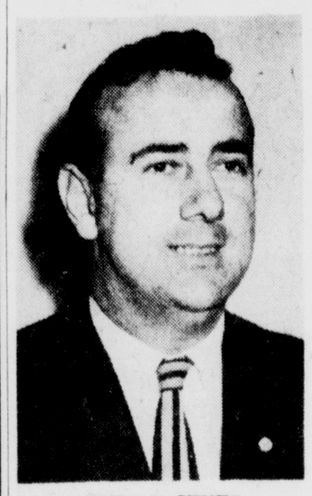

For half a dozen hard-boiled eggs to be stuffed, mash the yolks with a quarter cup of mayonnaise-type salad dressing, half a teaspoon of dry mustard and salt and pepper to taste. The sharp tines of a kitchen fork will "flute" the stuffing after it has been piled back into the egg-white cavities.

Quakes Rock Arequipa

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Earthquake-plagued Arequipa in southern Peru was rocked by three more violent tremors Wednesday night. Early reports said one person died of a heart attack and 20 persons were injured.

The shocks disrupted power and water service, toppled cornices from downtown buildings and sent frightened residents streaming into the streets.

Appointed AHRC Finance Officer

JOHN L. VINES

John L. Vines, central office chief of the Kingston office, long lines department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, has accepted the position of financial secretary on the board of directors of the Ulster County Chapter, Association For the Help of Retarded Children, according to an announcement today by C. John Boyce, president.

In accepting the chairmanship, Vines said, "This widespread problem of mental retardation is one which deserves greater and greater public attention. As citizens interested in the general welfare of our own communities we cannot, it seems to me, neglect a problem for which so much can be done. We must support a program of service to our communities' mentally retarded children and adults and medical research to find preventive measures."

Since moving to Kingston from Glens Falls in 1952, Vines has won wide recognition in business relations and community service. His educational career has included attendance at Haverford College, Pennsylvania; Pittsburgh University, Pa.; and Skidmore Extension College, Saratoga Springs.

Among his numerous civic activities Vines has served as president of the Kiwanis Club of Ulster; as a member and president of the board of education for the Chambers School prior to consolidation; as chairman of the Rural Advisory Committee on school consolidation and as co-chairman of the Committee of Fifty, an advisory sounding board for the Kingston Board of Education; and as a member of the county Board of Cooperative Services prior to consolidation.

Vines resides with his wife, Jean, and three daughters, Jill, 7, Lori, 5, and Vivian, six weeks old, on Millers Lane Extension.

Serving actively on the finance and budget committee with Vines are: Arthur J. Eymann, AHRC treasurer; Herman Eaton, AHRC insurance advisor; William Thiell, supervisor of records and reports; Meyer Kaplan; and Phillip Reilly, all of Kingston. C. John Boyce, president, and Mrs. Donovan Buehring, AHRC advisor, serve as ex-officio members of the committee.

Trial of Four In Poughkeepsie Holdup Underway

Trial of four Poughkeepsie men accused of participating in a holdup at the Monte Carlo Restaurant, 181 Main Street, that city on Jan. 4, is underway in Dutchess County Court before a jury of 11 men and a woman.

Defendants are, Robert L. Lawrence, 21, of 112 South Water Street; Coleman Simmons, 21, same address; Clarence C. Calloway, 22, of 213 Smith Street and James G. Medina, 30, of 219 Mill Street.

Police said Lawrence was wounded when the proprietor of the downtown restaurant, Raymond Osterhoudt, fired a shot from a rifle at the fleeing man. Prosecuting the case are Assistant District Attorney Eugene Frink, assisted by Assistant District Attorney Julius Bocchia, of counsel.

Authorities said the robbery netted $185, which was recovered.

SaVino, Ramirez, Brown, Williams Are Also Honored

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Two outstanding shooters, a pair of excellent playmakers and a tough center. These are the boys who make up the second annual Freeman All-DCSL Basketball team, as selected by the sports department of this newspaper.

Mickey SaVino of Arlington and Armando Ramirez of Cardinal Farley Military Academy are the boys who can throw the ball through the hoop. Barry Wolven of Saugerties and Gary Brown, the Wappingers Falls star, handle the playmaking chores and big Robby Williams, a 6-3 center who can jump with the best in the area, could make any coach happy if he had them all on the same team.

The five best in the Dutchess County League clearly stood heads and shoulders ahead of the other performers in the circuit. However, the selection of a "Player of the Year" choice was far more difficult.

After much consideration, the pick is SaVino, one of the most gifted shooters this observer has ever seen. Close behind the Arlington ace is Barry Wolven, the best player on an excellent Saugerties club.

MICKEY SaVINO — This 5-7 bundle of dynamite was the leader for Arlington all season long as Fritz Jordan's cagers captured the league title. SaVino, a senior, is blessed with a good set shot, is deadly with his jumper from far out and can drive with the best of them. For sheer excitement and drama, this lad topped them all. He led the league in scoring with 295 points in 11 starts, an average of 26.8. He had better than 20 points in every circuit contest, including 40 markers against Roosevelt. The Marvel had a total of 498 points for the entire season, a record high for an Arlington player.

BARRY WOLVEN — Though not a shooter in the class of SaVino, Wolven was the main cog for the Saugerties club. His ball handling and passing were unmatched and he still found time to net 176 points in 10 games. That's an average of 17.6 a start. He's a senior.

BOB WILLIAMS — This lad improved as the season progressed. He was instrumental in the Roosevelt upset over Saugerties and against Arlington, he was just great in that thrilling overtime game won by AHS, 80-78. Only a junior, Williams should improve even more next season. He scored 157 points in 10 starts.

GARY BROWN — Another junior and a shining light in an otherwise so-so season for Wappingers Falls. Brown was the club's best defensive player and a good outside shooter. He averaged 14.8 a start with 148 points in the league.

ARMANDO RAMIREZ — This lad ranks only behind SaVino in shooting ability. Though small and light, he was the leading Cardinal Farley scorer all season and his big moment came when he sank the basket which beat Arlington. Armando was runnerup to SaVino in the scoring race with 218 points.

The second team is not far below the first. It features Larry Weisberg and Art Crum of the champion Arlington squad, Bob "Mouse" Wolven of Saugerties, Bob Booth of Wappingers Falls and Carl Klaproth, the Roosevelt captain.

Three of the players (Booth, Wolven and Klaproth) are seniors and the others are juniors. They are all adroit scorers and good all-around players.

One Repeater

Barry Wolven is the sole repeater from last year's Freeman first team selections. SaVino was chosen on the second squad during the 1958-59 season. Bob Wolven made the second team last year and is back for a repeat performance.

There you have it. The representation of five of the six schools in the league (only Beacon is omitted) shows the tightness of the race this season.

Those selected will receive All-DCSL certificates from The Freeman. They are suitable for framing and will be a lasting memento.

STARS—Barry Wolven, top, and Bob Wolven, Saugerties High School cage stars, have been selected to the Freeman All - DCSL teams. Barry is a first team member for the second straight season while Bob is on the second squad, also for the second successive season. (Freeman Photos)

Yardley Retiring

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—George Yardley, the first player to score 2,000 points in a single National Basketball Assn. season, is going west and leaving the Syracuse Nationals.

At 31, Yardley is retiring. If George is true to his word, Wednesday night was his last regular season game. He scored nine points in the Nats' 137-126 victory over Philadelphia. He will remain with Syracuse through the championship playoffs.

"I'm definitely through," he told the Associated Press a few minutes before Wednesday night's game. "I can't afford to devote the time from my business on the West Coast."

Was All-America

Yardley lives in Santa Ana, Calif., and is a manufacturer's representative distributing mechanical equipment to industries.

In his seven years in the NBA, Yardley scored well over 9,000 points. He scored 1,459 points for Syracuse this year.

Now balding, Yardley once was an All-American at Stanford. Two years ago, playing with the Detroit Pistons, he scored more than 2,000 points in a season. He was traded to the Nats by Detroit in 1959.

Before the trade was completed, Yardley assured the Nats President Dan Biasone he would postpone his retirement until the completion of the 1960 season.

Yardley said he loved playing for Syracuse.

Brandt Is Slated As Featured Star

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Allie Brandt, who rolled the American Bowling Congress all-time record of 886 in 1939, will be the featured attraction tonight as he leads his Lockport (N. Y.) Felt team into action.

Although he has never won an ABC title, Brandt has averaged 189 in 29 tournaments.

An unheralded Canton, Ohio, quintet took over first place in the open division Wednesday night. The Four Wins Restaurant No. 2 team rolled games of 1009, 1000 and 930 for a 2939 total.

Amrod Aces Capture Pennant in Over 30

Top Main Street In Finale, 38-27

In the companion game, Siena Alumni tripped Elks Lodge, 25-18.

Six fast points by Jim Mackey at the start of the fourth quarter nailed down the victory and title for Amrods, who led all the way. Mackey emerged as high scorer with 11 points. Fred Seither pumped 10 and Dave Gobel hit nine. Pappy Sickler scored nine for the Liquormen.

Frank Dolan hit 11 points and Frank Reis had nine for Siena. John Peters topped the Elks with six.

Syracuse Nats Slam Warriors, Detroit Scores

The Eastern and Western Division semifinal playoffs in the National Basketball Assn. were on display prematurely Wednesday night.

The Syracuse Nats, who meet Philadelphia Friday night in the start of the Eastern best-of-three, splurged in the closing minutes to defeat the Warriors 137-126.

Katsbaan Shufflers Top Pheasant Inn

Katsbaan Tavern shuffleboard squad defeated Pheasant Inn in the first half of a home and home series, 229 points to 173 in a 10-game set. Their margin was 8 to 2.

The return engagement is scheduled at Pheasant Inn next week. Katsbaan is seeking matches with all tavern teams in the area. Don Gallagher is the Katsbaan captain.

Katsbaan's basketball squad captured the Kingston Recreation League championship.

Buffalo's Entry in CBL May Be Delayed by Plan

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Buffalo's entry in the Continental Baseball League may be delayed because the club's largest stockholder reportedly is not satisfied with the transfer plan.

Sportservice Inc., the nationwide stadium and racetrack concession firm, owns an estimated 67,500 shares of the 183,000 outstanding, the Buffalo Evening News reported Wednesday.

Sportservice holdings would be more than enough to block the two-third majority needed at Friday's scheduled stockholders meeting. The meeting was called to pass major plans for the move from the International to the Continental League.

The issues facing the stockholders at the meeting are approval of payment of a $50,000 franchise fee; establishment of a board chairmanship for Reginald B. Taylor, the club's financial backer, approval of a 2 for 1 stock split, and an increase of 900,000 in the number of authorized shares.

In New York Friday, a league spokesman confirmed a report that wealthy Mrs. Dorothy Killam, a Canadian, had withdrawn as a backer of the New York entry.

Friday's meeting in Buffalo might be postponed, to give Sportservice an opportunity to study the plan. An attorney for the firm said he had been away and was not up-to-date with the baseball situation. He said the question of voting the Sportservice shares had been referred to another attorney, who was out of town.

The baseball club said proxies received so far were 17 to 1 in favor of the shift. No proxies have been received from the Sportservice shares, a club spokesman said.

Women's Tourney Opens Tonight

GENEVA, N. Y. (AP)—The 27th Annual New York State Women's Bowling Assn. Tourney gets under way tonight with more than 15,000 women expected to compete during the next 11 weeks.

All defending champions are from the New York City area, which is providing the largest single bloc of bowlers again this year.

Defending singles champion Lucille Backhus of Oceanside who finished with 651 last year will be on hand, along with double champions Irene Monterosso and Margaret Nelson of New York who rolled 1,241. All-events champion is Marion Turash of New York with 1,782.

In the team event, the champion B&C Alley team from New York will match strikes with more than 2,000 teams from all parts of the state. The New York team rolled 2,787 last year.

Almost 8,000 singles entries have been logged thus far, along with almost 4,000 women for the doubles events.

Charges Lodged Against Old NFL By AFL Official

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Grievances of the fledging American Football League, which charges the old National Football League is trying to destroy it, are in the hands of U.S. Justice Department.

Joe Foss, commissioner of the AFL, said he had filed an affidavit with the Justice Department embodying most of the charges he first leveled at the NFL the day it voted to expand and take in Dallas as a competing club with the Dallas AFL team owned by Lamar Hunt.

Foss said the NFL had tried to entice AFL members away, franchised teams in cities that had AFL clubs and tried to impede the new league in its efforts to obtain suitable players and coaches.

Foss said he was invited by the Justice Department, along with other AFL officials, to file affidavits when it decided to investigate the charges that the NFL was attempting to crush the AFL.

At Washington, the Justice Department said Wednesday the affidavit had been received and was division. Foss said the Justice Department should know within a few days what action it was going to take.

Baseball Spectacular

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — The Chicago White Sox went through a couple of rounds of batting practice Wednesday but devoted most of their time posing for television cameras. A TV chain is developing a 90-minute baseball spectacular featuring the Sox and their victorious 1959 World Series opponents, the Los Angeles Dodgers.

THE SHOT WAS NO GOOD

Watching the Poughkeepsie-Monticello classic last week at the Bridge City and trying to figure whether or not the final shot by Larry Edelman was good is almost an impossibility. With 2,000 fans rooting for both sides, the final buzzer just couldn't be heard.

However, to correct what might have been a wrong impression, official timer Frank Digilio, a member of the Poughkeepsie coaching staff, did not signal the final shot by Edelman, which would have sent the game into overtime, was not good.

Col. Joseph Barrett of Stewart Field, who refereed the contest, ran over to the official table after the ball was shot and emphatically said the basket did not count. He said the ball left Edelman's hand a split second after the buzzer had sounded ending the game.

In the eyes of this observer, the decision was a correct one. Just think of the situation. With three seconds left, Bob Boschen of Poughkeepsie missed a foul shot. George Cook took the ball off the backboard, turned and threw a half-court pass to Edelman. He in turn, wheeled around and fired the ball. If you don't believe the three seconds had elapsed, try to do it yourself.

It is unfortunate that the PHS victory has been put under a shadow of doubt by some observers. The referee called the shot as he saw it and he was on the play. It's a tough one for Kingston fans to swallow but we really believe, the basket was good. There is no question in our mind that Poughkeepsie won the championship by that split second.

MOVE THE GAME

Those who saw the Saugerties-Arlington High playoff game at the cramped Wappingers Central gym two weeks ago are wondering why it wasn't played at a neutral court such as Poughkeepsie or Kingston.

The truth of the matter is that the coaches weren't asked about the situation. Roscoe Williams of Red Hook, president of the DCSL, told the mentors that the game would be played either at Roosevelt or Wappingers. Later is was found out the Roosevelt school was being used for other purposes so Wappingers Falls was selected as the site.

We are sure that if it were up to Fritz Jordan and Buddy Smith, they would have moved the contest to a gym where spectators could observe it without being literally crushed to death.

Playing the contest at Wappingers was not fair, either to the players, the fans or the officials. The league moguls could have picked a better neutral court. We hope they show some better sense the next time.

MARKES RESIGNS

Bob Markes has had it at Middletown. He's resigned after 11 years on the job. Jayvee coach Dick Warner is the top candidate to succeed Markes. The Middies finished with a 7-11 mark this past season. . . . Hudson speedster Andy Spodris, who set a state record at the New Paltz relays last year, uncorked a 9.8 clocking for the 100-yard dash recently at the University of Miami. . . . The DUSO League swim meet last week at Fallsburgh turned into a Middletown-Newburgh affair. Poughkeepsie swimmers couldn't make the trip because of the weather and Fallsburgh, the host school, didn't enter a team. NFA captured the meet. . . . If there is a bigger high school team than Wallkill this season, we've yet to see it. Each starter is well over six feet. Rondout Valley players looked like Biddy League performers against the taller Wallkill five when the two clubs met last week for the championship. . . . Watch Newburgh Free Academy next season in the DUSO Basketball League. The jayvee team at the Hilly City was 17-1 this year, losing by a point to Arlington. Coach Art Zodikoff did a great job with the boys.

Chicago's Golden Glovers Exhibit Skill in Finals

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's Golden Gloves squad will take boxing skill rather than kayo power against New York's best amateurs in the intercity bouts in Madison Square Garden March 21.

There was not a knockout Wednesday night in the finals of the 33rd Tournament of Champions witnessed by 11,159 in Chicago Stadium and viewed, in part, by a national television audience.

However, paced by new heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, a real fancy dan, and two perpetual-motion little scrappers in Greek twins, Pete and Nick Spanakos, the Chicago squad is clever and quick.

The Clay-Jones three-rounder was one of four bouts displayed on national TV. In the other televised matches, Jefferson Davis, 1959 runnerup, reached the top in the 175-pound division; Ferd Hernandez of Omaha, captured the 147-pound crown; and Chicago's Brian O'Shea became 135-pound titlist.

Brian O'Shea, a brother of Tom, outpointed Reggie Davis of Fort Worth for the lightweight title.

Collide on Field

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Home run slugger, Harmon Killebrew and catcher Hal Naragon collided at full speed Wednesday chasing a foul fly in an intrasquad game at the Washington training camp. But Killebrew, limping, said he felt only a slight soreness in his left leg. Naragon had a twisted ankle and will be sidelined a week.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn (NEA) —The 1960 National Water Ski Tournament will be held Aug. 11-14, on Lake of the Isles in Minneapolis.

Tom Carlino Slams 669; Guadagnola Hits 276

Tom Carlino and Lou Guadagnola highlighted a busy session of the Bowlero Major League last night, the former rolling 669 and Guadagnola launching his series with a 276 solo.

Carlino put together games of 223, 190 and 256 for his 669. Guadagnola added 181-170 to his opener for a 627 aggregate. Carlino launched his third game with a spare, then fired 8 strikes in a row before running into a baby split which he failed to convert.

Mike Rienzo, 211-222-624.
George Robinson, 245-622.
Ray Hendricks, 211-218-610.
George Glaser, 207-212-609.

Robinson Clouts 2 Homers As Reds Down Scrubs 9-5

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Frisky Frank Robinson is back in left field for the Cincinnati Reds, and he's hitting like a happy man.

In the two intrasquad games played in training at Tampa, Fla., Robinson, who played first base last year, has two home runs and three doubles.

The homers came Wednesday as the 25-year-old right-handed hitter batted in four runs to lead the Cincinnati regulars to a 9-5 victory over the scrubs.

Robinson, the National League Rookie of the Year in 1956, says he is shooting for baseball's triple crown batting championship this season, and he prefers to play in left field.

After three seasons in which he played first only briefly, he was switched to the infield last year to fill the hole left by the trade that sent ailing Ted Kluszewski to Pittsburgh.

Washington, Kansas City and New York also played intrasquad games in Florida in preparation for this weekend's exhibition openers.

At Orlando, Lennie Green, Sandy Valdespino and Ron Samford homered as the Senators played a 5-5 tie. Tom Acker pitched three hitless innings at West Palm Beach and Bob Trowbridge and Tom Gorman each went three scoreless innings in the A's 1-0 six-inning family tilt.

Andy Carey, a recent holdout, tripled and singled for the winners in the Yankees' 5-4 game at St. Petersburg.

In Arizona, the San Francisco Giants engaged in an 8-4 slugfest at Phoenix. Willie Mays hit two homers.

Outfielder Bob Will continued his heavy hitting for the Cubs at Mesa. He tripled for two runs, bringing his three-game total to seven. The Cubs beat each other 7-4.

Stith Declared Fit To Play in Tourney

OLEAN, N. Y. (AP) — High-scoring Tom Stith was out of St. Bonaventure University infirmary today and declared fit for the opening round of the national invitation basketball tournament in New York.

Stith, second team All-America, and the country's second ranking scorer, was hospitalized early Wednesday as a precaution against influenza. But Wednesday night, he was released and entrained with his teammates for New York.

The Indians, 19-3 for the season, will meet Holy Cross in the first game of the NIT Saturday.

STREAMER USAGE

BUCKTAILS ARE MORE BUOYANT THAN OTHER STREAMERS. THUS, THEY MAY BE BEST FOR SHALLOW OR MID-DEPTH FISHING IF NOT WEIGHTED. TO FISH DEEPER, USE POLAR BEAR (HAIR) STREAMERS OR FEATHER STREAMERS.

FOR WARY FISH IN CLEAR WATER, USE LIGHT- OR NEUTRAL-COLORED STREAMERS, SPARSER, SMALLER THAN NORMALLY USED.

DARK, SOLID COLORS SHOW UP BEST IN SHADED OR MUDDY WATERS, HOWEVER, SOME ANGLERS PREFER TINSEL-BODIED WHITE STREAMERS IN MUDDY WATER.

$15,000 Golf Open

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — The $15,000 Pensacola Golf Open began today with indications it will take consistent sub-par playing to win. A field of 150 started in the four-day competition over the 6,500-yard course. The favorite was Arnold Palmer, Ligonier, Pa. pro after his third straight tournament victory.

Mike Bounced Back

MIAMI (AP) — Iron Mike, the pitching machine which twirled several Baltimore Orioles' intrasquad games this week, broke down during batting practice Wednesday. Mike bounced back quickly when he was fitted with a new arm costing $36.83.

COMING TO GRIPS—It would seem the gentleman on the left has the edge in his left-handed battle. He is Lefty Gomez, ex-New York Yankee southpaw. His opponent is former teammate Joe DiMaggio.

Kansas, Oregon Complete Lineup for NCAA Tourney

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Add Kansas and Oregon to the 16-team NCAA regional semifinals, bring in the start of the NIT along with continuing play in the NAIA and NCAA small college competition, and you have that annual alphabetical jumble that spells March Madness in college basketball.

Set for Showdowns

Kansas, beating arch-rival Kansas State in a Big Eight Conference NCAA playoff 84-82 in overtime, and Oregon, a 68-60 winner over New Mexico State in a first round game of the Western Regional, completed the lineup Wednesday night for the Friday-Saturday regional showdowns in the big school NCAA tournament.

Today, the NCAA takes a 24-hour breather while the oldest post-season scuffling, the National Invitation Tournament, gets going for the 23rd time in New York's Madison Square Garden. Eight of the 12-team field can watch from the sidelines while Villanova (19-5) plays Detroit (20-6) and Providence (21-4) faces Memphis State (18-4) tonight in a doubleheader opening the first round.

Heads Seeded Teams

Bradley, the nation's No. 4 team which holds the season's only victory over top-ranked Cincinnati, heads the four seeded NIT teams followed by Utah State (22-4), St. Louis (19-7) and St. John's (17-7).

Meanwhile, the NAIA small school tournament in Kansas City is at the quarter-final stage with defending champion Tennesse State bidding for its fourth straight title, and the NCAA small college field at Evansville, Ind., is to the semifinals, including host and defending champ Evansville College among the survivors.

Tennessee State whipped West Virginia Wesleyan in a second round game Wednesday 84-79 and advanced along with Hamline, Southwest Texas State, New Mexico Highlands, Gambling, La., Westminster, Pa., Wofford, and William Jewell.

In the NCAA's little guy scuffling, Evansville whipped American (D.C.) 101-91 despite a record 54 points by the losers' Willie Jones and reached the semis along with Cornell of Iowa, Chapman, Calif., and Kentucky Wesleyan. Tonight, Chapman plays Cornell and Kentucky Wesleyan plays Evansville with the survivors meeting for the title Friday night.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By JOE STETSON
Dog Editor, Field & Stream

People sometimes ask how many breeds of dogs there are. I am not always sure what answer they wish, since there are several hundred distinctly typed breeds of dogs throughout the world.

What they may wish to know is the number of breeds presently recognized by the American Kennel Club. The answer is 116, though the figure may change any time.

Why aren't more breeds recognized or why are certain breeds selected for recognition when the list is appended?

When a breed has an organized following or fancy and records or pure breeding are available, the American Kennel Club is ready and willing to consider official accepptance of the breed.

This is often frustrating to lone importers of a worthy breed, whose efforts are usually based upon the fact that the breed was a well recognized, pure breed in the country of its origin.

* * *

The Wachtelhund, for example —the flushing-retrieving spaniel of Germany—was imported several years ago and has not gained official recognition. Meanwhile, the Rhodesian Ridgeback and just recently the Australian Silky Terrier have joined the official ranks.

The difference is that only scattered purchases of Wachtelhunds have followed its importation and no closely bound group of fanciers has been organized. Ridgeback and Silky advocates, on the other hand, bred and sold and promoted their breeds, and fulfilled the necessary organizational needs to assure breed support—not by one or two interested individuals, but by a substantial group, thus guaranteeing a successful future for the breed now that it has arrived in this hemisphere.

How many AKC recognized breeds will there be next year? It depends upon the enthusiasm and activity of the followers of the next potential candidates.

No Flood Peril Seen at Present By Heavy Snows

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau said today the snows which have piled up along the Eastern seaboard in the past 10 days pose no serious flood threat at this time.

However, forecasters said any blast of warm air accompanied by two or three days of warm rain would change the outlook considerably.

"At the moment" one meteorologist said, "it looks like more snow instead of warm rain."

The recent snow storms have left up to 50 inches of snow on the ground at some points in the Appalachian Mountains. This is the case at the headwaters of the Potomac River.

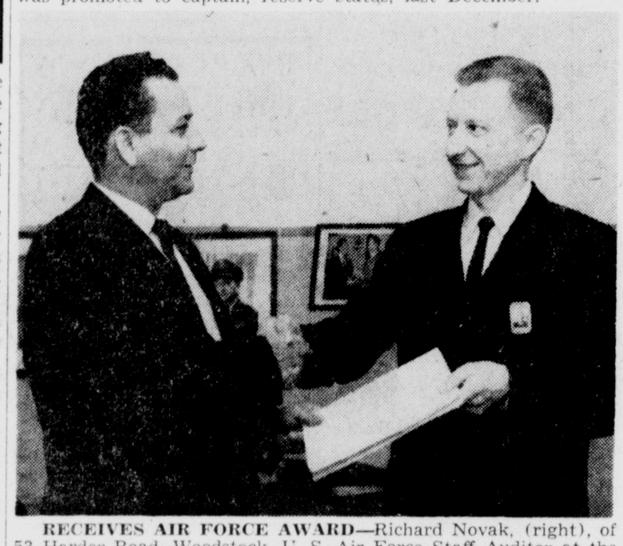

If all this now were to melt quickly, weather experts said, the rivers along the eastern slopes of the Appalachians probably would overflow their banks.

Meterologists figure that 10 inches of snow is roughly equivalent to one inch of rain. The big cover of snow at the source of the Potomac therefore is equal to about five inches of rain—enough to cause flooding if it moved down the valley in a single torrent.

HAS NEW ARMY SUPERGRADE—Col. Alan B. White, commander of the Baltimore Army Air Defense Area, congratulates S-2 (Intelligence) Sergeant Ira S. Rion Jr., left, on his recent promotion to one of the Army's new supergrades, Master Sergeant E-8. The new grade is awarded only to soldiers showing oustanding ability in key administrative and specialized fields. Rion, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Rion of 108 McEntee Street, entered Army service in 1943 and has served three tours in Europe and one in Korea. He is the holder of two Bronze Stars and the Combat Infantryman Badge. He received the Purple Heart for wounds suffered in Europe during World War II. Rion is with the 17th Artillery Air Defense Group in Baltimore. He holds an Army Reserve Commission and was promoted to captain, reserve status, last December.

Police Find Helpless Couple, Woman Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Police found Cornelius Terry, 68, lying helpless on the floor of his apartment Wednesday. Near him lay his wife, 50, unconscious.

The husband, paralyzed since he suffered a stroke, had fallen when he left his bed to go to the telephone to call for help.

Mrs. Terry had collapsed as she was preparing to go to her job as a domestic.

Police came in response to neighbors whose phone calls to the couple weren't answered.

Moores Sell Home Over Uproar on Giving Up Baby

LUTON, England (AP) — Leo and Yvonne Moore sold their little bungalow today and prepared to leave Luton forever because of the local uproar over their decision to give their baby to an American couple after it is born.

Going With Wife

Moore now plans to fly to America with his 39-year-old wife later this week. She will have the baby there and immediately give it for adoption to Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Prescott of North Charleston, S.C.

Mrs. Moore originally planned to fly to America Wednesday on an Icelandic Airways prop-driven DC6, but the flight was canceled.

The other passengers transferred to a jet, but a doctor forbade Mrs. Moore to use the high-flying aircraft. She and her husband may be able to get on a plane Sunday at Glasgow, Scotland.

Moore, 40, a bus driver, said he had accepted an offer of 2,450 pounds, or $6,860, for his home.

"With the money I'll be able to fly to America with Yvonne," he said. "We don't want to return to the bungalow because of all the unpleasantness this affair has caused."

Due Next Month

The Prescotts are paying the expenses of Mrs. Moore's trip. The baby is due in mid-April.

The Moores said they didn't want the baby, their first, because they were too old to bring up children. Their decision was generally condemned in Luton, and Moore received scores of abusive letters from all over Britain.

President May Get Resignation From FCC Chief Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Herald Tribune says Chairman John C. Doerfer of the Federal Communications Commission was reported drawing up a letter of resignation and was expected to present it to President Eisenhower, possibly today.

Doerfer testified last week before a House investigating subcommittee that he had accepted a broadcaster's hospitality during a Florida vacation last month.

He said he had spent six nights on a yacht owned by George B. Storer, owner of 12 radio and television stations, and flown to Florida and back to Washington on Storer's plane. Doerfer declared he did not see anything wrong with his conduct. There was criticism in Washington official circles, however.

Insects nullify the work of at least one million men in the United States each year, according to estimates.
